FINNS TO FIGHT ON; REJECT RED PEACE TERMS

Parliament Backs Premier's Stand.

U. S. 'Disappointed'

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—The state department today described as "disappointing news" reports that the Finnish parliament had rejected Russia's peace terms. The department issued this comment:

"This is disappointing news if true. We have made abundantly clear our hope that Finland will get out of the war and out of its association with Germany."

STOCKHOLM, March 15 (AP). — The Finnish parliament has unanimously approved the government's decision to reject Moscow's final proposals for an armistice and the Finns are grimly digging in for continuation of the war, it was learned here tonight.

The Finnish disclosure was made in a bulletin which said parliament considered the government's position as presented by Premier Edwin Linkomies and "accepted unanimously the motion to return to the order of the day." Under Finnish procedure, this means the government was sustained.

Work on Raid Shelters.

The action was taken despite American warnings to Finland to quit the war before she was overwhelmed.

The official reply to Russia was expected to be forwarded Saturday or Sunday.

Edwin Shanke, Associated Press correspondent in Helsingfors, reported that everywhere the Finns prepared for resumption of hostilities and work went forward on air raid shelters—obviously in anticipation of renewed air raid assaults.

[The British yesterday broadcast a "final warning" to Finland to accept the Russian terms, asserting such action "means survival of Finland as an independent and sovereign state." Rejection of the soviet proposal, it said, "will be to court national disaster."]

Main Russian Terms.

It is anticipated the reply to Moscow may be couched in language that will attempt to keep the door open for negotiations. One unconfirmed report said Linkomies planned to resign now that the peace crisis had reached this stage.

The main Russian demands were the withdrawal of Finnish troops to the 1940 border, the repatriation of Russian prisoners, and the internment at least "in theory," of strong German forces in Finland.

Italy Closes Legation.

LONDON, March 14 (AP).—The government of Premier Marshal Badoglio is closing the Italian legation at Helsingfors, turning over its affairs to United States representatives in the Finnish capital and transferring the personnel to Sweden, a DNB [German news agency] broadcast said tonight.

TWO MILLION FILE U. S. TAX RETURNS BY DEADLINE HOUR

An estimated 2 million income tax returns had been received in the Chicago offices of the internal revenue bureau by the midnight deadline, it was announced by Collector Carter H. Harrison. Several hundred thousand more are expected in the morning mail.

A total of 877,000 returns had been processed, compared with 725,000 on March 15 last year. Collections in the period from March 1 to last night totaled $100,190,233.06. It was reported, compared with $137,494,277 in the corresponding period of last year. Withholding taxes were responsible for the decrease, it was pointed out.

"This has been our toughest March 15," said John C. Moynihan, chief assistant field deputy, as the deadline neared, and mailmen continued to dump returns in the offices. Late applicants for aid were served by 175 deputy collectors.

Instructions for filling out forms for estimated earnings in 1944, which must be in the mail by midnight April 15, will be announced today.

Reds Span Bug River Along a 62 Mile Front

LONDON, March 16 [Thursday]—(AP).—The Red army crossed the Bug river on a 62 mile front yesterday, thrusting spearheads within 30 miles of the pre-war Rumanian frontier, crushed German defenses only 17 miles from the big Black sea port of Nikolaev, and killed or captured additional thousands of trapped Germans northeast of Nikolaev, a Moscow war bulletin announced today.

Leaping the Bug with the aid of rafts, pontoons, and even empty barrels, Marshal Konev's 2d Ukraine army troops tore thru the Germans for gains of 12 to 18 miles in a sector heavily fortified with blockhouses, mine fields, and barbed wire, said a midnight broadcast by Moscow recorded by the soviet monitor.

Six Miles from Vinnitsa.

Other soviet forces attacking in the Vinnitsa sector to the northwest captured a town only six miles southeast of that German stronghold. Far to the southeast, Gen. Malinovsky's 3d Ukraine army of Stalingrad veterans closed swiftly on imperiled Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug river, capturing 320 villages.

In the Snigerevka pocket, 45 miles northeast of Nikolaev, the Russians said their troops had split up the remnants of an original force of perhaps 45,000 Germans, and were "successfully exterminating" them.

With 10,000 Germans killed and 4,000 captured on Tuesday, Moscow said thousands more were slain yesterday when the Nazis tried to break out of the pocket.

Nazi Attacks Fail.

On the Proskurov front near the old Polish border, the Germans lost 1,500 men killed and 60 tanks in unsuccessful counter-attacks, Moscow said.

The Bug river crossing on the middle Ukraine front was one of the most significant developments of the southern Russian campaign.

The crossing occurred between Nemirov, 23 miles southeast of Vinnitsa, and Gaivoron, 62 miles southwest of Uman.

Plunging across territory which Germany had awarded Rumania for her part in the war against Russia, the soviet troops overran 104 villages in a swift surge toward the Dniester river frontier of Bessarabia.

Reds Claim Olgopol.

The bulletin announced the seizure of Olgopol, only 15 miles from the Odessa-Warsaw trunk railway already cut by Marshal Zhukov's 1st Ukraine army at Tarnopolo, 200 miles to the northwest. Capture of Olgopol put the Russians at their closest point to Rumania.

Only at Tarnopol were the Germans apparently putting up a stubborn resistance. That "hinge" between the German southern and central fronts has been the scene of bitter street fighting for a full week. The late Russian bulletin again omitted mention of the sector.

Russian seizure of Nikolaev would endanger all the German troops falling back from the Kirovograd area, since Nikolaev is only 65 miles northeast of Odessa.

YANKS' TANKS ENTER SMOKING CASSINO RUINS

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, March 15 (AP).—The allies destroyed stubborn Cassino today, dropping more than 2,500 tons of bombs on the strategic fortress town and targets near it in history's greatest aerial assault.

Tonight American tanks and allied infantrymen were moving into the smoking ruins of the town, long the keystone of the German defenses in central Italy, and a new all-out drive on Rome was under way. Cassino's defenses have stymied the allied advance up Italy for some two months.

Official photographs showed no buildings were left in the town after the virtually all-American air attack, in which nearly every plane of the allied Mediterranean force took part.

1,400 Tons Rip One Square Mile.

Making 3,000 trips, the planes dropped 1,400 tons of bombs in the one mile square Cassino area alone, and over 1,100 tons on towns, bridges, and communications centers to the north and northwest. The total load of 2,500 tons was announced by Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, Mediterranean air commander.

"Undoubtedly," said Eaker, "never in warfare have air forces concentrated so much destruction on a target of comparable size in a single mission."

The historic assault was begun by 36 medium Mitchells at 8:30 a. m. Soon all types of planes, including four-engined heavies, were blasting away.

There was a pause at noon after the last big bombers had finished their job, and then a terrific artillery barrage was poured into the town. It lasted nearly three hours.

Raids Go On in Afternoon.

With this big gun cover the ground forces began to move in. The first American tank entered the northern outskirts at 1:25 p. m.

Later in the afternoon medium and light bombers resumed the attack at selected targets.

By tonight there was nothing left of the town.

[German survivors of the obliteration bombing of Cassino still are fighting back from the ruins and "the issue has not yet been decided," said a radio correspondent in a broadcast from Naples last night.]

Eaker, who watched the bombing from a hillside, said its effectiveness would be determined by the extent the ground forces were able to advance. Rain fell tonight, raising a possible barrier to the advance.

U. S. Berlin Tonnage Exceeded.

The day-long attack was without equal in any war for blows rained on a single, small target. The 2,500 ton total bomb load was just short of the record 2,800 tons dropped by the R. A. F. on Berlin the night of Feb. 15.

Gen. Eaker observed that the one mile square town had "felt the weight of more bombs than Berlin has had on any day" in the blows from the British based American heavy bombers.

The American 34th division from the midwest, which had occupied about a third of Cassino in weeks of house to house fighting, was withdrawn quietly during the night so the bombers could go to work.

All morning waves of heavy, medium, and fighter-bombers with clocklike regularity blasted every block of the Nazi citadel.

Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the 5th army, watched the unparalleled blasting of the enemy fortresses.

While the heavy bombers were smashing Cassino, the R. A. F. desert air force attacked German positions ringing the Anzio beachhead 60 miles away in support of allied

Torch Victim's 'Date' to Tell Jury of Tryst

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 15.—David Filgas, the 16 year old high school student accused of the "torch murder" of his sweetheart, Patricia Winters, 17, during a lovers' lane tryst last Dec. 10 after they had attended a high school dance, is expected to take the witness stand tomorrow in his own defense.

Filgas' attorney, Jay W. Linsey, told the jurors this afternoon that the boy's testimony will be that Patricia was accidentally burned to death while she and Filgas were in a state of helpless intoxication after drinking two bottles of wine.

Filgas is expected to repeat his story that he suffered a mental blackout after drinking the wine and awoke, dazed and cold, about two hours later to find the charred body of Patricia beside him in the car. He contends that the car "exploded."

State Attacks Blast Story.

The state closed its case against Filgas this afternoon, offering a parade of witnesses who expressed disbelief that a car could burn as the Filgas car did without the addition of inflammable substances or signs of a gas tank explosion.

Final witness for the state was Patricia's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Winters, who described a conversation she had had with David about a month after the tragedy. She said she told him his footprints in the snow had indicated that he had walked back and forth while watching her daughter burn to death. She said she demanded, "Why didn't you save Patricia?" but got no reply.

Dr. James Brotherhood, a pathologist, testified that in his opinion a fracture in Patricia's skull was caused by an injury and could not have resulted from the heat. Dr. Clarence Muehlberger of the state crime detection laboratory said deposits of carbon in Patricia's lungs indicated she was alive after the fire was under way.

Defense Calls Classmate.

The first witness for the defense was Charles Vining, one of David's classmates, who said that the day before the tragedy David had invited him and his girl friend to "double date" with them. This testimony was intended to refute the state's contention that David had deliberately planned to be alone with Patricia that evening.

David's father, John, a filling station operator, said his car contained 14 gallons of gasoline when he loaned it to his son. He said he had been in the habit of letting David take the car two nights a month.

"These youngsters had planned an adventure to see how it felt to get intoxicated," Atty. Linsey said in his statement to the jury. "For this purpose David bought two quarts of wine. We will seek to prove that Patricia met death by inhaling fumes while intoxicated."

At the conclusion of the state's case Linsey asked the court for a directed verdict of not guilty, contending that the state had failed to prove the commission of a crime.

Judge William B. Brown denied the motion, commenting, "There are some circumstances here that are undeniable. I believe the case is one which ought to be passed upon by a jury."

Attorneys said the trial will end shortly after David gives his testimony tomorrow and may reach the jury before evening.

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT'S WIFE WILL SUE HIM FOR DIVORCE TODAY

Fort Worth, Tex., March 15 (AP).—Robert K. Hanger, attorney for Mrs. Ruth Googins Roosevelt, said today a suit for divorce would be filed in District court tomorrow against her husband, Col. Elliott Roosevelt, now serving in the European war theater.

Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt.

The attorney said the petition will be a "routine divorce petition" and that waivers of contest had been sent to Roosevelt's A. P. O. address for his signature.

Mrs. Roosevelt said at her home here she had "nothing to add to my attorney's statement."

The Roosevelts have three children, Chandler, 9; Tony, 7, and David Boynton Roosevelt, 2.

Elliott Roosevelt also has a son by his first wife, Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt, who divorced him on the grounds of extreme cruelty in Minden, Nev., on July 17, 1933, five days before he married his present wife.

DAILY WAR COST IS 300 MILLIONS AND STILL RISING!

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—What every taxpayer should know:

The war now is costing 300 million dollars a day.

War spending hit a new high last month of 7 billion, 800 million dollars.

Up to March 1 the war had cost 168 billion, 600 million dollars.

The war production board's report on spending for war purposes, issued today, showed February outlays were 14 million dollars greater than the previous high, which was in November.

Tells of Years as Farm Slave and Mistress

Helena, Ark., March 15 [Special].—A mother of three grown daughters testified in Federal court today that Albert Sydney Johnson, 50, owner of a 2,000 acre plantation, compelled her on threat of death to fill for seven years the dual role of field hand and common law wife.

The woman, Mrs. Dosha Moon, was the chief government witness against Johnson, on trial on an indictment which charges in 14 counts that he kept 11 persons in involuntary servitude for varying periods of time in violation of federal antipeonage laws. He faces a total maximum penalty of 70 years in a penitentiary and a fine of $70,000 if convicted on all counts.

Threatened with Death.

Mrs. Moon said she went to work on the Johnson plantation in 1937 and that Johnson repeatedly threatened her with a violent death if she refused to live with him. He required her to work in the fields and refused to pay her, she said.

Giles Dearing, defense attorney, raised the point that if Mrs. Moon was living with Johnson as his common law wife she was not entitled to pay and could not have been held in involuntary servitude. Johnson is married and the father of eight children living with their mother at Wynne, Ark.

Daughters Back Story.

Mrs. Moon's three daughters corroborated her testimony that threats against her life and theirs were made by Johnson to keep them working in the fields. The eldest daughter, Mrs. Margaret Gremmett, 22, said Johnson often brandished pistols and rifles in support of his threats.

Several Negroes testified Johnson had forced them to work by stating they owed him money for advances for groceries and clothing.

Discharges 50 Workers Who Joined Strike

Detroit, Mich., March 15 [Special].—Indefinite suspension of 50 employes accused of participating in an unauthorized walkout which cut war production by 75 per cent today at the Ford Motor company's huge Rouge plant was announced by the company tonight after the men had returned to work on the afternoon shift.

This swift disciplinary action followed an appeal by the company to Gov. Harry F. Kelly for state police protection after police of suburban Dearborn failed to interfere with an automobile blockade of the plant's gates set up by strikers last night and this morning. The company demanded the governor start removal proceedings against Dearborn officials responsible for police inactivity.

More May be Fired.

A Ford spokesman said the suspensions were ordered after interviews with the men which he described as "a very orderly process which took place in the presence and with the consent of officers of Local 600 and the international" of the CIO United Automobile Workers. Probability of the imposition of additional discipline after further investigation was expressed by the spokesman.

Prior to announcement of the suspensions, R. J. Thomas, UAW president, termed the company's plea for state police aid as "completely unjustified," "inflammable," and "highly prejudicial to the maintenance of smooth relations." He denounced the strike as unauthorized, but said union officials themselves had broken up the blockade and that afternoon shift workers entered the plant without hindrance.

Calls Strike "Mistake."

"Workers at the Rouge plant and their union are responsible enough to carry on war work without the benefit of police," Thomas said. He termed any work stoppage at the Rouge plant a serious mistake and in appealing to the men to return to their jobs said a strike would embitter the nation against the union.

Gov. Kelly said at Lansing after receiving the Ford appeal that he has conferred by telephone with Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn and has been assured by Hubbard that "every kind of police protection would be given the company."

Hubbard announced he has ordered a hearing on the company's accusations of police laxity and that a record of the testimony will be forwarded to the governor. A state police representative will be in attendance, he said.

Causes Obscure.

The causes of the walkout were obscure but were thought to stem from resentment among the men at union approved disciplinary action by the company as the result of a riot by 250 workers last week. The company fired 10 workers and suspended 10 others for participation in the riot.

Trouble began at 11 o'clock last night when approximately 4,000 workers walked off the job half an hour before the end of their shift and established a picket line and a blockade at the plant gates. Most of the midnight shift workers entered the plant before the blockade became effective, but the pickets stayed on until after the day shift reported at 7 a. m.

"This is another prize example of hoodlumism in unionism," a Ford statement said.

STATES' IDEAS ON VOTING BILL ASKED BY F. D. R.

Acts After House Passes Measure.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on page 2.)

Washington, D. C., March 15.—President Roosevelt tonight wired all state governors for advice on the effectiveness of the soldiers' voting bill, two hours after the house decisively approved the measure and sent it on its way to the White House.

Indicating he is uncertain whether to veto or approve the bill, which strictly limits use of administration sponsored short federal ballots, the President asked the governors whether such voting forms would be acceptable under their state laws.

The President's action brought from Rep. Halleck [R., Ind.], chairman of the Republican congressional committee, a charge that Roosevelt apparently is "still playing politics" with the soldier vote issue. Halleck said the President, in criticizing a previous "state rights bill," had "professed to know just what every state could do and could not do." In addition, he said, the President either has copies of the state voting laws "or should have."

Passes House, 273-111.

The bill, which the house adopted, 273-111, after the senate yesterday approved it, 47-31, provides for general use by service men of complete state absentee ballots. It outlaws the "bobtailed" federal forms, carrying no names and providing a vote for federal offices only, unless service personnel are unable to obtain state ballots and unless state laws sanction the federal blanks.

Congressional proponents of the measure contended in today's debate that the measure will thus give virtually all service men and women a chance to vote complete state ballots, and will reserve to state officials their legal right to honor or reject the short federal ballots.

The President's message to governors indicated, however, that he will base his decision to approve or veto the bill on the extent to which it will permit the federal blanks, which he has consistently sought to have generally used by service men.

Explains His Request.

Making his request "to enable me to form an opinion as to the effectiveness of this measure," the President asked each governor to advise him by wire whether the supplementary short ballots are now authorized by the state law, or whether steps will be taken to have them so authorized by July 15.

The bill provides that unless state governors certify by July 15 federal ballots are legal in their states, such ballots may not be used.

Even then, it provides, state, and not federal, ballots must be voted by service personnel in this country unless their states have no absentee voting laws, and by those overseas unless the service man has applied for a state ballot by Sept. 1 and not received it by Oct. 1.

Called Shrewd Move.

The President's wire was regarded in congressional circles as a shrewd attempt to throw much of the responsibility for his action on the vote bill on the shoulders of state governors.

If most governors pledge their states to honor federal ballots, congressmen observed, the President will probably approve the bill. But if the majority of state chiefs reply that the short ballots will not be honored and contend their state ballot machinery is adequate for service voting, the President is likely to veto the measure members of congress predicted.

The President, in fighting for the federal ballot, which many members of congress have charged would illegally deprive service men of a complete vote for all offices, recently attacked as a "fraud" a pending bill calling for the exclusive use of state ballots. Members of congress immediately denounced the "fraud" charge and declared the President was trying to further fourth term ambitions by attacking the integrity of congress.

Studies Effect of Bill.

Subsequently the chief executive said his decision to veto or approve a vote measure would be based on whether it gave more service men a chance to vote than 1942 congressional legislation waiving poll tax and registration requirements.

On the basis of today's vote, the house has far more than the necessary two-thirds majority required to override a veto, if it comes. The senate approval, however, was five votes short of the two-thirds margin.

Rep. Vursell [R., Ill.], member of the house elections committee and a co-author of the original state ballot measure, today hailed congressional passage of the compromise measure and declared the responsibility of giving the soldiers a complete legal ballot "now rests with the President."

"If he vetoes the bill," Vursell said, "it will be proof that his administration was only willing for the soldiers to vote if they could be taken advantage of by use of the bobtailed black ballot."

Ban on Propaganda.

Vursell further observed that the bill prevents government agencies from feeding fourth term propaganda to service men, which, he charged, has been done in recent months. A veto, Vursell said, would thus show that the President "does not want to stop this unfair practice and give both parties in the campaign equal justice."

Today's debate was enlivened by an exchange in which Rep. [Half a Congressman] Sabath [D., Ill.] charged Republicans were supporting the bill "because they know most soldiers will vote for President Roosevelt and this bill will deprive them of a vote." The Republicans, Sabath continued, are "playing politics with the measure."

Rep. Jensen [R., Ia.] declared Sabath's charge was "the dirtiest statement I have heard on the floor of this house."

Other Republicans, replying to Sabath, observed that even the original leading Democratic advocates of a federal ballot, including Rep. Worley [D., Tex.], chairman of the elections committee, were supporting the new bill as "the best possible compromise."

GOVERNOR JOINS IN A TRIBUTE TO VETERAN PASTOR

Gov. Green last night was the principal speaker at a celebration in the Berean Baptist church, 5147 Dearborn st., honoring Dr. William S. Braddan on his 72d birthday and on his 43d year as pastor of the church.

The governor recalled that Dr. Braddan was a soldier in the Spanish-American war and a chaplain in World War I., from which he returned with the rank of colonel.

"He represents that spirit of American manhood which impels a citizen who really loves his country and really believes in all the freedoms embodied in the American Constitution to work and fight for those freedoms not only on the battlefields but here at home as well," Gov. Green said.

"Defeat of the alien foe and making ourselves secure from foreign attack are not the only things we need to guarantee our freedoms. We must insist that the spirit of our great Constitution be carried out by those who hold the power of federal government."

LUCAS ASSERTS F. D. R. WILL VETO ARMY VOTE BILL

Senator Joins Courtney Caravan Downstate.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Salem, Ill., March 15.—The Democratic state candidates flushed some followers in Marion county courthouse tonight as Sen. Lucas, who joined the caravan this afternoon, asserted that the compromise soldiers' vote bill will be vetoed by the President and the veto upheld by congress.

The candidates, headed by State's Atty. Courtney, candidate for governor, and Lucas, beamed down on the first full hall of their campaign tour as more than 300 persons overflowed the courthouse and spilled into the hall. Six weeks ago Gov. Green and the Republican ticket also filled the hall and stood listeners in the corridors. It was recalled that the Democrats carried the county by 700 votes in 1940 and lost it by 3,000 in 1942.

Lucas told the audience that his original bill, which he termed a simple federal ballot, was "defeated by poll tax Democrats of the south, led by the raving, ranting, Rankin of Mississippi, in combination with Republicans of the north." Before the speech Lucas had told a press conference that the President would veto the compromise vote bill.

Calls It Blow at Negro.

"The bold truth is that Rankin and his group do not want the Negro to vote," Lucas told his audiences at an afternoon organization meeting and a night massmeeting in the courthouse here.

"In order to keep the Negro from exercising his right of franchise in the state of Mississippi, Rankin was willing to disfranchise millions upon millions of men fighting for liberty in every state in the Union. The strangest chapter of all in this piece of legislative hypocrisy was exhibited by the majority of the Republicans north of the Mason-Dixon line. They joined with Rankin in denying the Negroes of the poll tax states the right to vote."

Denies Domination.

Lucas joined with State's Atty. Courtney, Democratic candidate for governor, in asserting he is not dominated politically.

Courtney, appearing with Lucas at the meetings, termed empty promises the pledges of "Gov. Green to eliminate waste and graft and conduct an efficient state government.

"The present state administration pledged itself to the extension of civil service in every state office under the control of the governor," Courtney said. "It promised not to build a political machine by means of overloaded pay rolls filled with workers who do nothing but play politics. It pledged itself to eliminate graft and waste in pay rolls and state purchases. These were all empty promises it now appears from the record."

Mrs. Paul Douglas, candidate for representative at large, held that the lack of imagination in dealing with the problems which arose at the conclusion of the last war aided in warping the spirit of an entire generation in certain parts of the world.

TAFT HEADS NEW GROUP TO STEER SENATE G. O. P.

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—A Republican senatorial steering committee headed by Sen. Taft of Ohio was chosen at a party conference today and immediately projected consideration of a general legislative program.

The conference ratified Sen. White of Maine as acting minority leader and Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan as acting conference chairman. White has been acting leader since the late Sen. McNary of Oregon was stricken by the illness which resulted in his death last month.

The new organization will operate only for the remainder of the 78th congress. Vandenberg said the temporary organization was based on expectation that the party would win control of the senate at the November elections. Taft set Tuesday for the committee's first meeting.

BENSON, SPEAR FOR G.O.P., RIPS LUCAS-KELLY TIE

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Arnold P. Benson, regular Republican organization candidate for nomination as secretary of state, took the spotlight in the G. O. P. campaign last night with charges that Sen. Lucas and Mayor Kelly plotted to disfranchise millions of soldiers, sailors, and marines.

Indications were that Benson would be kept in the center of the stage for the remainder of the campaign, to aid him in his nomination battle against State Treasurer William G. Stratton. At a special meeting of the Cook county central committee, Chairman John T. Dempsey told the 80 ward and township committeemen that this was "the only contest," and that they would be judged solely by the vote for Benson.

Lucas and Kelly Assailed.

Benson assailed Sen. Lucas for his bill providing for a bob-tailed federal ballot that would not permit the users to vote for state and county offices. He then turned upon Mayor Kelly because of recent events in the Illinois senate, where Benson is majority leader.

"Lucas' attempt to hamstring state election machinery is on a par with efforts of the Kelly dominated members of our own legislature to sabotage and defeat soldier vote bills at the special session called by Gov. Green last January," Benson said.

Mayor Blamed for Blockade.

"The purpose of this special session was to set up machinery making certain that every Illinois man and woman in service could vote in the April 11 primary as well as in the Nov. 7 election. The Democrats, by direction of Kelly, organized to defeat this plan and blocked emergency passage for the primary.

"Illinois Republicans made it possible for them to vote in November; but the Democratic blockade virtually barred our fighters overseas from voting in the primary. Voters should remember these things on April 11 by voting for a united Republican slate."

Dempsey Hails Benson.

Chairman Dempsey in his all-out plea for Benson told the ward and township leaders that he was the only aspirant for secretary of state who could win in November from the Democrat, Edward J. Barrett, who is in the marines.

Tonight the G. O. P. slate aspirants, headed by Gov. Green, will address meetings in the 50th ward at 2323 Devon avenue and in the Georgian hotel, Evanston. Tomorrow night they will speak in the 39th ward at 3925 Irving Park rd., in the 40th at 4510 N. Kedzie av., and in the 41st at 5525 Milwaukee av.

EGG CEILING LIFTED BY OPA; ORANGES GO UP 1 CENT A POUND

Oranges and lemons will sell for the next week in Chicago at a cent a pound higher, at 8 cents and 13 cents a pound, respectively, under weekly price ceilings of the office of price administration, effective today. Eggs, because of plentiful supplies, have been removed from the weekly lists, Paul A. H. Shults, area director, said.

Head lettuce was increased 1 and 2 cents a head, and fresh peas 2 cents a pound to 18 cents.

Reductions in other prices included: Hothouse leaf lettuce, 13 cents a pound, down 4 cents; green cabbage, 1 cent to 5 cents a pound; bunched carrots, 8 cents a bunch, down 1 cent; spinach, 11 cents, down 2 cents, and repacked tomatoes a cent a pound lower at 37.

More than 400 city hall employes yesterday reported to the board of election commissioners to augment the board's staff of 450 in sorting and arranging records of registered voters in preparation for an official canvass tomorrow and Saturday. Registration files had to be in order by today to permit weeding out disqualified voters by Saturday night.

FIND SENTIMENT FOR M'ARTHUR RISING IN INDIANA

Leaders Rate Dewey Top Choice, Willkie 4th.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15.—A growth of sentiment for Gov. Bricker of Ohio and Gen. MacArthur in recent weeks is one of the first things one hears in talks with Republican insiders here. Reports at the statehouse are that Gov. Dewey of New York is far in the lead in Indiana in grassroot talk. Wendell Willkie, the scouts report, is still slipping in his native state, as he is in nearby Michigan.

Most organization leaders estimate these four Presidential possibilities to have the following standing in Hoosier opinion:

First, Dewey; second, MacArthur or Bricker; fourth, Willkie.

Republican chiefs plan to send to the Republican national convention in Chicago, June 26, an uninstructed delegation of 29 in control of the state party organization. It may not be a solid delegation, for in some congressional district caucuses efforts may be made to instruct delegates, but the outlook is that Indiana will have a predominantly "organization delegation."

Dewey Sentiment Rising.

Three party chiefs today expressed opinion that of the 29 delegates Willkie will have not more than three or four. There is no organized effort for Dewey, but seasoned politicians here agree that it is taking on momentum.

Bricker sentiment has increased materially since the meeting of the Republican Editorial association here last week, when Sen. Taft [R., O.] was a speaker.

At this meeting Sen. Willis [R., Ind.] uttered a remark that is being quoted over the state as Hoosier wisdom. "The 4th termers," he said, "say, don't change horses in the middle of the stream, but when the horse rides you, it's time to change."

Tyndall Favors MacArthur.

The MacArthur movement is reported getting into swing. Among its boosters is Gen. Robert H. Tyndall, mayor of Indianapolis, who was a colonel under MacArthur in the first World war. Gen. Tyndall is also a prospective candidate for governor.

The bobtail federal ballot for the soldier vote has stirred Hoosiers. In Indiana politics is played the year around and voters take a keen interest in whatver is cooking. Speakers have been out in the state lambasting the New Deal and its attack on state's rights in the bobtail ballot. A bill has been drafted by Atty. Gen. James A. Emmert for a special session of the legislature which will provide for soldier voting on the same type ballots as the citizen at home will use, covering state and county officials, as well as federal.

Willis, Schricker Clash.

Over soldier voting there was an exchange between Sen. Willis and Gov. Schricker [D.], with an amusing finale.

Willis wired Schricker urging a special session be called to pass a bill to insure a soldier vote that can be cast by Hoosiers abroad regardless of any federal act. He said: "The immature and fraudulent subterfuge offered by the President is not safe and is not American."

Gov. Schricker replied that he had announced he would call a special session, that Willis had sent a "political telegram" and that the governor could handle things without interference from Washington.

Willis came back with a courteous but cutting answer, and Schricker replied softly and asked the incident be closed.

The Star here commented that the governor must have eaten something that didn't agree with him—probably nothing that a dose of bicarbonate of soda would not relieve. The recent publication release of the Republican state committee, after sketching all this, said "In other words—there's nothing wrong with the governor that a good 'burp' will not cure."

Slate-making for state officials is proceeding slowly, but there's no rush. The Republican state convention at which these nominations will be made does not open until June 1. At that time national delegates also will be picked. Primary election day is May 2 when candidates will be nominated for congress and county offices, and precinct committeemen and delegates to the state convention will be elected.

NEW HAMPSHIRE PRIMARY BLOW TO WILLKIEITES

3 Delegates Pledged to Him Beaten.

Manchester, N. H., March 15 [Special].—Weakness of Wendell Willkie in a state he has regarded as one of his strongholds and where he had complete organization support was the outstanding disclosure today from a study of yesterday's New Hampshire state primary, first balloting in the nation for national convention delegates.

Willkie emerged from the test with four of his supporters elected as unpledged delegates in a field of 11, and with the only three candidates who ran as Willkie-pledged men for delegate at large soundly drubbed. Two candidates pledged to Gov. Dewey of New York were elected. The Republicans chose seven delegates at large and four district delegates.

Robert P. Burroughs, Republican national committeeman and Willkie's New Hampshire campaign manager, issued a statement attempting to interpret the result as a Willkie victory.

State Chairman Beaten.

Regarded as significant was the defeat in the delegate at large race of Harold K. Davison of Haverhill, chairman of the state Republican committee, who ran as a member of Burroughs' slate of unpledged candidates favorable to Willkie. Davison ran behind all five of the men on the Dewey slate.

Gov. Blood was revealed as the best vote getter among the candidates for delegates at large. He received 16,495 votes. The other winners were:

Huntley N. Spaulding	16,621
George H. Moses	14,601
Robert W. Upton	11,957
Frank J. Sulloway	10,487
Robert P. Burroughs	10,349
Charles A. Holden	9,883

Spaulding, a former governor, and Moses, a former United States senator, made the race without committing themselves to any candidate. Holden is pledged to Dewey. Blood, Upton, Sulloway, and Burroughs are members of the unpledged Willkie slate.

Willkie Men in Rear.

Four other Dewey men were bunched behind Holden among the also-rans and behind them came the three candidates who ran under definite Willkie pledges. Eben B. Chesley, the lone candidate pledged to Gen. MacArthur, trailed the entire field with 3,120 votes.

In the 1st congressional district Republican voters elected Arthur B. Jenks, unpledged, and Thomas J. Manning, pledged to Dewey. In this district two candidates pledged to Willkie were defeated.

Sherman Adams and Grace Batchelder, both unpledged, were elected in the 2d congressional district.

2 GIRLS ACCUSED IN THEFT; REBUKE GIVEN ARMY MEN

Army intelligence officers and a representative of the judge advocate general's department were censured yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker after he heard them accused of holding incommunicado since Monday two young women charged with stealing money from the post exchange in Gardiner General hospital.

The women, Vera Durante, 19, of 943 N. Harding av., and Marie Schuck, 18, of 6035 S. Winchester av., civilian employes of the war department, were charged with embezzlement of $1,500. They told a court appointed attorney, Joseph Kamfner, that since their arrest they had not been permitted to notify their parents or engage counsel.

Authority Is Questioned.

"There is a law against this," Commissioner Walker said.

"By whose authority were they held so long before they were brought before the commissioner?"

Maj. Avern B. Scolnik, a former Chicago attorney now attached to the judge advocate general's office for the 6th service command, told the commissioner that the girls had remained "voluntarily" in custody. "Isn't that so?" he asked Miss Durante. The girl said "yes."

"Nevertheless, it seems to me that the civil rights of these young women to obtain counsel and notify their parents have been violated," Kamfner said. He demanded their dismissal.

Commissioner Walker denied the motion, however, and continued the hearing until Monday, releasing the women on $500 bail each. George G. Kelly, an assistant United States attorney, opposed their release on bail.

When Maj. Scolnik brought the girls to the courthouse, he was accompanied by two other uniformed officers and two intelligence officers in civilian clothes. Instead of taking the prisoners to the marshal's office, as is customary, the officers went directly to Walker's office.

After the complaints were drafted, the girls were whisked to the marshal's office, finger printed, then returned to the commissioner's office. When Miss Durante was told she and her friend, who lived together at 5239 Cornell av., had stolen $1,500, she said, "My God, not that much."

Not Guilty Pleas Entered.

Technical pleas of not guilty were entered for them, and the government proceeded to hold their preliminary examination. Lt. Matthew Baker, post exchange officer, testified he hired Miss Durante Dec. 10 and Miss Schuck in January as saleswomen. An inventory of sales, he said, revealed the shortage.

The two intelligence officers also were called as witnesses but declined to disclose their names. Walker asserted the defendants were entitled by law to know the names of their accusers, and the two officers were on the telephone talking to their superiors about the matter when the hearing was terminated.

FARMERS CHEER 2.7 INCH RAINS; RIVERS RISING

Chicago area farmers yesterday welcomed a third consecutive day of rain, the total of which wiped out a previous moisture deficit as time for spring plowing neared. More than 2.7 inches of rain had fallen by 7:30 p. m. since Monday evening.

In the urban areas, however, the water spilled into basements and underpasses, flooded highways, slowed transportation, and caused other inconveniences.

The Chicago, Calumet, and Des Plaines rivers reached high levels and forced county highway police to patrol bridges and highways for fear of floods.

The worst trouble was reported in Markham and Oak Forest. Park av. in front of the Calumet station on the Illinois Central was blocked off from 172d to 175th sts. as the water poured over it at depths of two feet in some spots. Sauk trail road between Chicago Heights and Dyer, Ind., also was covered by water. The Little Calumet river overflowed its banks in Hammond, Ind., halting traffic on River dr. and flooding several basements.

McKinley school in Joliet was closed as a near-by creek overflowed, flooding the school. Joliet area reported 2.5 inches of rain in the last 48 hours.

The artist was sent to the Southwest Pacific area some months ago to sketch personnel and scenes on the fighting fronts.

NAME OF CHILD'S FATHER SLIPS ACTRESS' MIND

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—Joan Manners, ex-screen star, testified in District court today that she is not certain of the name of the man she has said is the father of her daughter Joan, 11. In seeking custody of the child, Miss Manners has denied Joan is the daughter of her former husband, John Langan, former movie director.

After Miss Manners produced on the witness stand a newspaper picture of the man she claimed is the father, Justice T. Alan Goldsborough remarked that tho she previously had identified him as John L. Manners, the picture caption gave his middle initial as "J." The judge asked: "How do you explain that, Mrs. Langan?"

"I'm not sure what his name is, your honor," the mother replied, after wrinkling her brows and twisting her handkerchief. "It may have been John L., or it may have been John J., I cannot be sure."

BOMBS WIPE OUT CASSINO; YANKS DRIVE INTO FORT

Tanks Enter Nazi Citadel After Greatest Blitz.

ground troops. Today's allied war report said attacking British troops improved their positions south of Carroceto on the beachhead yesterday and were mopping up in the area.

[Germany's war report yesterday said allied attacks on the Anzio front were repulsed with heavy losses. It also claimed Nazi bombers hit four transports and started big fires at Naples harbor Tuesday night.]

Raiders Unchallenged in Air.

All the bombers were escorted by fighters, but the enemy offered no aerial opposition. Light anti-aircraft fire from the ruins soon was knocked out.

While the bombers were smashing Cassino, New Zealand forces on the 5th army front shelled enemy vehicles in the Cassino area and British troops in the lower Garigliano valley drove off an enemy patrol. Patrols also were active on the 8th army front.

One of four German planes bagged in yesterday's raids was shot down by Lt. Robert M. Bell of 415 Surf st., Chicago, a Thunderbolt pilot.

CALLS CITADEL 'DEAD.'

BY LYNN HEINZERLING.

WITH 5TH ARMY AT CASSINO, March 15 (AP).—Cassino is dead. It no longer exists as a fortification barring the road to Rome. A pitiless deluge of steel and high explosives has wiped out the German stronghold.

Cassino's agonies of bombing started at 8:33 a. m. and now, as shadows fall, allied planes still are over the town and artillery barrages are pouring tons of steel into the ruins and German positions around them.

As the clouds of smoke which hung over the town during the day lifted this evening, Cassino looked like a toy town which had been bashed against a wall by a man's hand.

Tanks Move Thru Ruins.

It seemed to have been poured out of its mold, with great heaps of smoking rublle filling the spots formerly occupied by familiar buildings.

Some allied tanks could be seen moving from the north into the desolate ruins.

Our observation post on a hill across the valley from Cassino shook and groaned under the tremendous assault in the town. As great pillars of smoke rose, formation after formation of bombers continued the pounding.

The earth shuddered for miles around as the explosives bit into the ground and sent up plumes of fire.

APARTMENT ROBBED OF $75.

Mrs. Eleanor Davis, a waitress, reported to police yesterday that two cigar boxes containing $75 were stolen by burglars from her apartment at 1019 E. 43d st.

HOME ISN'T LIKE THIS, BUT YANKS' HOUSE IS CLOSE

SARDINIA, Italy, March 8 [Delayed] — (AP). — Here on Sardinia American airmen have built themselves the best overseas nests they've ever had.

These B-26 Marauder boys, between missions, live a better life than in those days in Tunisia when they literally wallowed in mud. Some have adobe or brick foundations and side walls for their tents, the only canvas being the roof. And still others—both officers and enlisted men — have built adobe houses. They're economical and well worth the money.

Typical officers are the four lieutenants whose adobe home is in the process of construction. Two are bombardiers, Joseph E. Middleton, 26, of 5616 South Honore st., Chicago, and Edward C. Lange of Louisville, Ky., and two are pilots, John R. Lindahl of Nashville, Tenn., and Richard C. Bushee of Fond du Lac, Wis., both 21.

80,000 RETURN TO WORK IN WELSH MINES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15. —The situation in the south Wales coal fields was nearing normal today with an estimated 80,000 miners working. The remainder were expected to return to the pits tomorrow or Friday.

Miners' Federation leaders will confer with government and ministry of fuel officials with the view of redressing the grievances which caused the week long walkout and cost the nation more than 500,000 tons of coal. It was expected skilled miners will be given increases, which will restore the differential between them and unskilled workers.

Prime Minister Churchill told parliament that the release of former miners from the army was proceeding "according to schedule," and now total a little more than 3,000. A munitions plant in Wales closed down tonight to conserve its coal reserves, it was announced.

BADOGLIO GIVES 7 POINT PLAN TO REBUILD ITALY

Naples, Italy, March 15 (AP).—Premier Pietro Badoglio today laid down a seven-point program for the reconstruction of Italy, calling for the destruction of the Fascist "octopus" and collaboration with the allies "with all the best will and the most complete loyalty to win the war."

Other points of his program were: Improvement of the condition of Italy's wage earners; more prompt and equitable distribution of food products; restoration of Italy's destroyed industries and communications; freedom of the Italian press, compatible with exigencies of war; and postponement until the end of the war of all discussion and provision for Italy's future government.

Badoglio expressed "greatest appreciation" of the allies' work in distributing food to the people of southern Italy.

Nimitz at Pearl Harbor After Washington Parleys

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, March 15 (AP).—Adm. Nimitz, commander in chief of the United States Pacific fleet and Pacific ocean areas, has returned to his headquarters after a series of conferences in Washington, D. C. It was announced in Honolulu that Gen. Robert C. Richardson, commanding general of United States army forces in the Central Pacific, had returned to his headquarters from Washington, D. C.

ASK U. S., BRITAIN TO PRESS RUSSIA ON POLISH ISSUE

New York, March 15 [Special].—A group of 36 educators, jurists, publicists, and religious leaders today issued a statement calling upon the American and British governments to raise with the soviet government the question of its unilateral efforts to settle the controversy over Poland's future frontiers and government, and other problems affecting successful collaboration of the allies.

The statement appealed to Russia for a more conciliatory attitude and the renunciation of unilateral action in Poland and elsewhere, and warned that if the soviet government continued to follow policies in contradiction of the Atlantic Charter there would be a revival of isolationism in this country that would wreck hopes of a future world equilibrium.

"If Russia values America's friendship she must not impose either an unjust frontier or puppet government upon the Polish people," the statement declared. "Russia must choose. She can impose her will, but she cannot impose it without estranging millions of Americans whose opinions may be decisive in the development of our foreign policy."

Among the signers of the statement were George N. Shuster, president of Hunter college; Harry D. Gideonse, president of Brooklyn college; Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora; Raymond Leslie Buell, former chairman of the Foreign Policy association; former Justice Jeremiah T. Mahoney, William Agar, acting president of Freedom House; Ernest Angell, president of the Council for Democracy, and the Rt. Rev. Malcolm Peabody, bishop of central New York.

N. Zealand Puts Interned Italian Civilians to Work

YANKEE RAIDERS HIT BRUNSWICK, NAZI PLANE CITY

LONDON, March 15 (AP).—United States heavy bombers in "medium sized forces" today attacked targets at Brunswick, important German aircraft manufacturing city.

Thirty-six enemy interceptor planes were shot down by fighters which accompanied the Fortresses and Liberators. Tabulation of planes shot down by the bombers still was incomplete. Three United States bombers and five fighters are missing.

While the big bombers were hitting Germany, fighter escorted Marauder mediums struck at northern France and at an air field at Chievres, Belgium.

R. A. F. Out for Night Blow.

An R. A. F. bomber force in very great strength headed out tonight for fresh blows against the continent. Within an hour alerts were sounded in Switzerland and the German radio network left the air.

Nazi raiders were turned back from London tonight by a heavy barrage of the capital's ground guns less than 24 hours after one of the worst German air attacks on London since 1941.

Unlike last night's fire raid, the almost moonless sky remained dark except for vivid flashes from anti-aircraft shells. The alert was short.

Capital Escapes Bombs.

No bombs were dropped in London tonight. Two enemy raiders were reported to have reached the outskirts of the city, but they fled before the heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Some bombs were dropped in the southeast of England and home counties areas causing some damage and a few casualties. Only a small number of German planes made the attack.

The German air force's steady defeat was illustrated by statistics on American and Nazi losses for seven trips to Brunswick in little more than two months, when the American heavies lost 149 planes against 543 fighters shot down.

The summary:

U.S. PUTTING IT OVER ON BRITAIN, M.P. COMPLAINS

He Objects to Diplomatic Accomplishments.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Vernon Bartlett.

LONDON, March 15.—A complaint that the United States and Russia are starting to dominate the diplomatic field and ignoring Britain was made this morning by Vernon Bartlett, member of parliament, writing for the News Chronicle.

He charged the United States presented the British government with a whole series of accomplishments in Argentina, Spain, and Ireland, altho Prime Minister Churchill had emphasized that the United States had consulted the British government thruout and had its fullest support in the representations to De Valera.

Bartlett was even more annoyed at Premier Stalin's decision to exchange diplomatic representatives with the Badoglio government of Italy, mentioning that such relations did not seem compatible with the armistice conditions.

"Must Regain Position."

Bartlett said the existing machinery of American, British, and soviet collaboration is not satisfactory, and while the personal relations between Roosevelt, Churchill, and Stalin are perfect, the British government must take urgent measures to regain its position in line with the United States and Russia in world affairs.

Bartlett called for a "much more definite statement of British policy," declaring that the "British policy of self-abnegation is unjustified even tho it might temporarily facilitate agreement of the three major allies."

He also insisted that the importance of existing interallied organizations, particularly the European advisory commission, set up after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's visit to Moscow, should be greatly increased, and that Eden should abandon his job as leader of the house of commons and concentrate on foreign affairs.

Welcomes U. S. Intervention.

Bartlett welcomed the state department's active intervention in world politics as an alternative to isolation, but asserted that "actions which might drastically cut down this island's meat supplies from Argentina or iron ore supplies from Spain should only be taken after very careful deliberation between the three great allied nations."

He expressed doubts whether the British government had the time or opportunity to consult the dominions before any change of policy toward Ireland was instituted. Britain's rigid interpretation of the statute of Westminster previously, he maintained, has "immensely increased Irish good will toward England and world respect for the British commonwealth."

SHOWDOWN OVER EXPORT TRADE EXPECTED SOON

British Want to Sell Lend-Lease Goods.

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—A British attempt to protect foreign markets from American encroachment after the war is approaching a showdown stage here, it was learned today. It involves efforts to get United States consent to international restrictions on world airways and to changes in lend-lease.

These developments show how British commercial interests are working:

1. British-American negotiations concerning a British request that lend-lease agreements be eased so that British manufacturers may resume restricted export activities may be concluded in two weeks.

2. Facing the threat of American supremacy in international aviation, the British government will propose at the forthcoming air transport conference here that "uneconomic competition" be eliminated thru international regulation of routes and dates.

Seek to Sell U. S. Goods.

The lend-lease manuever stems from the fact that American foreign trade, despite the war and exclusive of lend-lease, has steadily grown while Britain's has declined. In 1943, American commercial exports were valued at $2,769,000,000.

The British negotiators, it was learned, are arguing that with changes in the war picture, the lend-lease situation also is shifting. Therefore, Britain, they say, should be permitted to route some of our lend-lease supplies to commercial export channels, now limited by a 1941 agreement that the supplies would not be used to expand British markets. They are willing to grant us similar concessions on raw materials now reaching here under reverse lend-lease.

As put to American officials, the British trade situation had deteriorated to the point where commercial exports of the United Kingdom to the British commonwealth countries have declined 50 per cent in the last few years. British exporters, it was said, were fearful they would lose the bulk of their former markets unless permitted some expansion.

Fear U. S. Advantage.

The British proposal also was understood to involve use of some lend-lease supplies in England, while British manufacturers of similar products would be allowed to move their own labeled goods to foreign markets.

The showdown on the lend-lease negotiations may come while the international aviation conference is under way. The aviation meeting—called for discussion of an international air transport authority—will receive a concrete British proposal for airline restrictions to eliminate American advantages.

CHARGES F.D.R.'S SHIP GIFT PLAN VIOLATES LAW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—President Roosevelt's plan to give Russia one-third of the Italian fleet, or its equivalent in United States naval ships, was attacked today by Rep. Cole [R., N. Y.], who charged the chief executive "has promised Stalin something he cannot deliver."

The congressman said in a statement that the ceding of Italian ships to Stalin has been precluded by Russia's recognition of the Badoglio government and he further charged that any transfer of our navy to the soviets is illegal.

"Mr. Roosevelt may not know it but there is a law on the statute books covering this," the New Yorker said, adding that he was author of that statute.

Ship Gifts Forbidden.

The law, passed last year by congress, says ships of the navy may be leased during the war under the lend-lease act, but "not otherwise disposed of" and further states that "title thereto shall remain in the United States."

"This section makes it evident," Cole said, "that the 'equivalent' of the Italian fleet cannot legally come from this nation and that Mr. Roosevelt has promised Marshal Stalin something he cannot deliver. I intend to make certain the law is fully enforced.

"The President put his foot in his mouth when he started talking about this ship transfer and he has had it there ever since."

Confusion Criticized.

Rep. Calvin Johnson [R., Ill.] also criticized the confusion attending the proposed naval transfer, as a result of conflicting statements and actions by Roosevelt, Stalin, and Churchill.

"It is apparent from this confusion," he told the house, "that the three allied governments are operating under three separate foreign policies and that the policy of each is foreign to the other. I would therefore suggest that the three chiefs get together and decide where they are going—and then start marching three abreast."

Johnson observed that Roosevelt said on March 3 that a third of Italy's fleet would go to Russia, but Churchill six days later said disposition of the surrendered navy would wait until after the war. Then, on March 10, the congressman continued, the President said he and Churchill were both right, and four days later Stalin recognized the Badoglio government, to which the Italian ships belong.

MAGAZINE TO APPEAL WLB ORDER AIDING CIO UNION CONTRACT

New York, March 15 (AP).—Time, Inc., announced tonight it would appeal to the national war labor board the decision of the New York regional WLB requiring inclusion of a maintenance of membership clause in its contract with the New York Newspaper guild [CIO].

Time, Inc., is the publisher of Time, Life, and Fortune magazines.

"Your company regrets the issuance of this order because it objects to forcing any editorial employe to continue to belong to any organization," Roy E. Larson, president of Time, Inc., said in a memorandum to the staff.

Larsen said the guild seeks a condition whereby no editorial worker in the whole newsgathering industry can earn a livelihood in the industry "without maintaining his membership in good standing according to whatever union rules are in effect from time to time."

"The democratic principle that a person should be allowed to make up his own mind from time to time on the question of union membership is lost," he added.

DIES OF SKULL FRACTURE.

Curtis Lund, 40, of 128 S. Halsted st., who was discovered seated against a wall at 703 Madison st., suffering from a skull fracture, on Tuesday, died yesterday in County hospital.

PARENTS OF MYSTERY QUINTS VANISH FROM HOME IN ARGENTINA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 15.—Apparently to avoid the hordes of reporters and photographers besieging their residence, Mr. and Mrs. Franco Diligenti, parents of the mystery quintuplets reportedly born eight months ago and kept secret until yesterday, disappeared today from their modest residence in a suburb of Buenos Aires.

Diligenti earlier had refused to discuss the three boys and two girls, said to have been born July 11, with newspapermen but said he might distribute pictures of the children on Saturday. He appeared amused by the commotion that developed when Buenos Aires papers reported the quints' birth.

The father's refusal to indicate exactly where the children were born prevented a quick check of the registration of their birth. The lack of this detail caused the English language Buenos Aires Herald, which first published the story, to treat it with caution. The midwife said to have delivered the babies likewise declined to state where the event took place. Neighbors said they believed the births occurred in a hospital, but no Buenos Aires hospital has reported the birth of quints.

FASTEST PLANE? ARMY GIVES NOD TO P-51 MUSTANG

Inglewood, Cal., March 15 (AP).—North American Aviation, Inc., said today it had war department permission to disclose that its P-51 Mustang fighter is the world's fastest airplane.

It said the war department listed the Mustang as the top performer for ceiling and range, and declared it is capable of level flight in excess of 425 miles an hour and a tactical radius of action of well over 500 miles. Its four blade propeller, powered by a Packard built Rolls Royce Merlin engine, lifts the plane above 40,000 feet.

SUBMARINE GOES ON A HUNT—FOR A PILOT'S TEETH!

BY EUGENE BURNS.

ON A CARRIER IN THE PACIFIC (AP).—By a lucky fluke a submarine's periscope and a yellow life raft, 16 miles apart, hit the top of waves at the same moment and the submarine's lookout was on. The submarine closed with the spot and sure enough, there was the pilot, but he was fast asleep. He was blistered and burned, and they awakened him, took him aboard and fed him milk.

Six miles from the spot where he was rescued, suddenly he demanded: "Whurths muh theeth?"

Because his gums had swollen, he had removed his tailored meat grinders and secured them to his life raft.

"And for four hours we hunted down that life raft," recalled the submarine skipper, "to get that bird's teeth."

M. P.'S SUPPORT IRISH REFUSAL TO OUST NAZIS

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 15 (AP).—The dail [parliament] united tonight in support of the refusal of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's government to grant the American request that the German legation and the Japanese consulate in Dublin be closed. Speakers in a calm, three hour debate said Ireland was scrupulously observing neutrality.

"Eire's [Ireland's] reply to the American note was the reply of a united nation striving to defend the right to maintain an honorable way of life," said Labor Leader William Norton.

"We have the right to demand that aggression and sanctions ought not to be utilized by nations which are never slow to protest to the rest of the world that they are liberty loving."

REPORTS YANKS SHOT DOWN 20 OF OWN PLANES

San Francisco, Cal., March 15 (AP).—United States navy gunners in a battle of the Sicilian campaign shot down 20 American planes by mistake, Sgt. Jack Foisie, correspondent for Stars and Stripes, army newspaper, said today.

Addressing the Commonwealth club, Foisie said the American planes, C-47 transports, came over the navy gunners just after they had undergone a heavy German bombing.

"The navy gunners kept right on shooting," Foisie said, "and some 20 of our planes went down."

Foisie termed the unfortunate incident an example of misunderstanding due to lack of experience.

NEGRO BISHOP SPEAKS AFTER VISITING TROOPS

Bishop J. A. Gregg of the African Methodist Episcopal church addressed 2,500 Negroes who packed the auditorium of Du Sable High school last night to hear his report on a recent visit to army camps in North Africa, Italy, and India.

"While over there I saw many things I liked, and many things I did not like," said the bishop. "At the proper time I'll discuss what I didn't like."

This was his only reference to charges that Negro troops trained for combat duty have been shifted into labor battalions.

U. S. PLANES RAID HAINAN ISLAND; BOMB AIRDROME

CHUNGKING, China, March 15 (AP).—Japan's island stronghold of Hainan got a pasting from Mitchell bombers of the 14th air force Monday, Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today. Kiungshan airdrome and the near-by seaplane anchorage were objectives.

Dispatches today announced the recapture of Helingkwan [Black Dragon] pass, a strategic gateway in southwestern Shansi province, which the Japanese have held for six years.

Chinese Advance in Burma.

NEW DELHI, India, March 15 (AP).—Chinese troops in command of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell maintained a steady advance southward today in northern Burma's Hukawng valley, besting the Japanese in a series of mortar and artillery duels.

The southeastern Asia command reported brisk action on several of the fronts in Burma. Bitter hand to hand battles were fought in the area north of Buthedaung on the Arakan front. The Japanese were rooted out of underground positions.

Germany Will Regain Initiative, Says Goebbels

New York, March 15 (AP).—Propaganda Minister Goebbels appealed to the people of Germany and Austria today for tenacity in the "long, hard, and bitter struggle" as the war approaches its climax. In a broadcast speech, delivered at Salzburg on the sixth anniversary of the incorporation of Austria into Germany, he said Germany still held a large number of troops in reserve, and that "in the not too distant future" she would regain the initiative.

TITO SEEKS USE OF 100 MILLIONS IN SLAV FUNDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15.—Josip [Tito] Broz, now an allied field marshal and recipient of the entire American and British aid to Jugo-Slavia, has taken steps to secure the control of all Jugo-Slav government assets in allied and neutral countries, it was announced tonight.

His provisional government in Jugo-Slavia, it was disclosed, informed the American, British, and soviet governments on March 9 that it had asked banks to freeze funds, estimated at 100 million dollars, credited to the national bank of Jugo-Slavia.

Dr. Ridobf Bicanic, who has been authorized by Tito to "take all necessary steps" to protect the funds, charged that King Peter's exiled government was using the money "without any proper control for purposes foreign to the liberation fight in the country."

Have suit prices gone up?

That's a timely question, sir! We don't blame you for wanting to know if you'll have to pay more this Spring. Speaking for Bond's, the answer is "NO"!... Now we both know that there are two ways to raise prices. It can be done by boosting price tags. It can also be done by cutting quality. So let's take a look at these Style Manor Suits—just arrived from our own workrooms. The price tag says $28.00. Exactly the same as last Spring. Exactly the same as 1942. What's more, their needlework hasn't changed one iota. It's still the smooth-fitting product of the same tailors who have been making these suits for years. And the woolens? You're going to get 100% pure worsteds and worsted cheviots of intrinsic value equal to any we've ever shown. That's laying it on the line for you—in a manner we think you'll appreciate. It's the Bond way of making and keeping friends. We'd like you to be one of them.

"I WAS CONSTIPATED FOR MANY YEARS!

Now I'm 'Regular' Every Morning!"

Constipated? Then here's an unsolicited letter you'll want to read:

"I'd been troubled with common constipation for many years. Was taking laxatives and pills all the time, and feeling very weak and run down. 3 months ago, I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily. Now, I have a regular, natural movement every morning, which helps me feel my best!" Mr. Samuel D. Blank, 292 Kings Highway, Brooklyn, New York.

What is this seeming magic of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation — namely, lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out." It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find lasting relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

GEN. M'ARTHUR'S AUSSIE TROOPS GAIN IN GUINEA

Bombers Drop 174 Tons on Wewak.

ALLIED HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 16 [Thursday]—(AP).—For the fourth consecutive day Liberators, Mitchells, and Bostons roared over Wewak, New Guinea, Tuesday, dropping 174 tons of bombs and downing eight planes. The tonnage brought the four day total to in excess of 600 and the number of planes shot out of action to more than 70.

The Wewak raiders Tuesday plastered Boram airdrome and Brandi plantation. Smoke from blazing fuel dumps rose to 3,000 feet. American bombardiers blanketed the targets with explosives while escorting Thunderbolt fighters shot down eight out of thirty interceptors.

Reach Road to Japs.

Wewak is the big air and supply base for Japan's crumbling ground positions in the vicinity of Madang 200 miles to the southeast. Gen. MacArthur's bulletin said that Australians in the Mintjim valley south of Madang have reached a good road leading to Bogadjim, Madang's main defense outpost.

The Aussies reached the vicinity of Daumoina, 16 air miles inland from Bogadjim and about 35 miles from Madang. The road reached is one which the Japanese had compelled Chinese coolie labor to build with the idea of reaching out for air bases in the Ramu valley.

On Bougainville in the northern Solomons, the positions from which the Japanese recently launched heavy assaults against the American air base at Empress Augusta bay were blasted Monday by 123 tons of bombs by torpedo and dive bombers.

Rabaul Again Rocked.

Also at mid-day Monday, raiders from the Solomons poured 88 tons of bombs on steadily crumbling Rabaul, New Britain. Southwest of Rabaul, Jacquinot bay took a 22 ton pounding.

An American task force of cruisers and destroyers has returned from the westernmost penetration of Japan's South Pacific island empire unchallenged by an enemy ship or plane.

Adm. Aaron S. Merrill, its commander, said the search "demonstrated our naval as well as air superiority over a large section of the South Pacific."

CHINA'S ADVISER SAYS JAPS CAN BATTLE 2 YEARS

Dr. Chang Kia-ngau.

An economic minister from China who is in the United States building the foundation for post-war collaboration of American and Chinese industrialists and financiers in the industrialization of China expects two more years of war before the Japanese are beaten. He is Dr. Chang Kia-ngau, who is a general adviser to the Chinese government on economic subjects.

Dr. Chang, who was here on a two day visit, said yesterday that the successes of Gen. MacArthur in the Southwest Pacific against the Japs have given his people "much encouragement and inspiration."

Russian air bases from which to bomb the Japanese would expedite defeat of the enemy, Dr. Chang pointed out.

Edward J. Engel, president of the Santa Fe railway, gave a luncheon for Dr. Chang in the Chicago club yesterday. On Tuesday the visitor was the guest of Fowler McCormick, president of the International Harvester company, and was shown the Harvester war plants.

Until last year Dr. Chang, who is returning to New York City from a visit to the Pacific coast, was the Chinese minister of railways and communications.

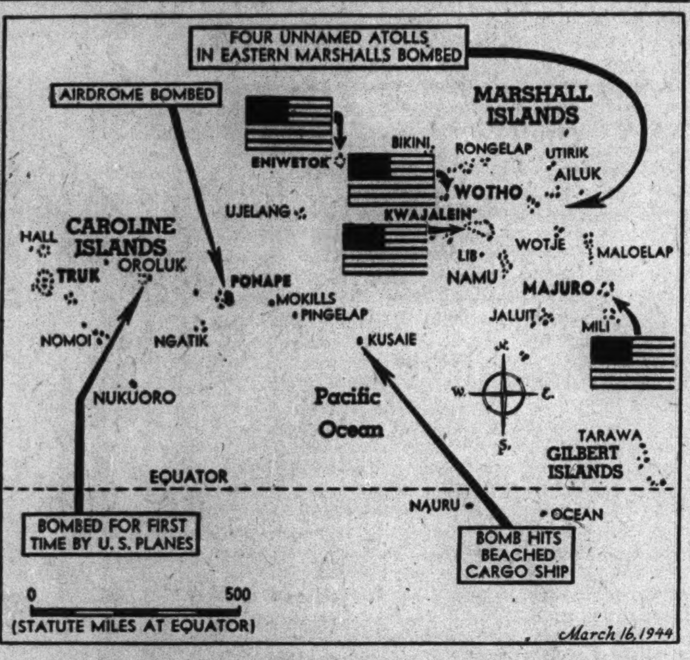
Bombers Strike Eastern Marshalls



Legends tell developments reported in the war in Pacific.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, March 15 (AP).—Oroluk atoll, Japanese defense outpost 190 miles east of Truk in the Caroline Islands, was bombed by navy search planes Monday for the first time, Adm. Nimitz announced today. Shore installations and a small ship were hit.

Ponape and Kusaie, enemy held islands guarding the approaches to Truk, big Japanese defense and supply base, also were raided. It was the first time since the carrier task force attack of Feb. 16-17 on Truk that three enemy held islands in the Carolines had been hit the same day.

Other raids announced by Nimitz were against four Japanese held bases in the eastern Marshall Islands. A navy plane shot down an enemy medium bomber 250 miles north of Truk also. No American planes were lost in any of the announced operations.

EDITORIAL IN THE TRIBUNE ROUSES AUSSIE MINISTER

Replies to Criticism of Troops' Use.

CANBERRA, Australia, March 15 (AP).—Australia's army minister, Francis E. Forde, said in an interview today, "it is galling to the Australian public after four and a half years of war, during which Australian forces fought in nearly every world theater, to read in a newspaper report that 'Australians had better get into the Pacific war themselves'." He said his comment was prompted by an editorial appearing in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

[The Tribune in an editorial March 10 stated: "Rather than carping about the pay of American soldiers, the Australians had better be getting into the Pacific war themselves. They still retain their severe restrictions against sending drafted troops beyond the area of Australia's direct interest."]

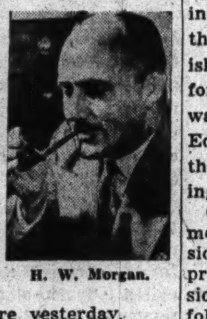
"Australia has fulfilled every obligation to her allies in this war not only in the Pacific but in all theaters and will continue to do so until final victory," Forde asserted. "In proportion to the population, Australia has as many men under arms as any allied or enemy nation."

COL. McCORMICK'S REPLY.

In Chicago, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, gave this comment to the Associated Press in reply to Forde's comments:

"Australia has not national conscription. American conscripts have saved Australia. But Australia is making no effort to help us retake the Philippines."

AUSTRALIA SEES MACARTHUR AS A SHACKLED HERO



H. W. Morgan.

The average Australian soldier and civilian believe that Gen. MacArthur has not been given a "fair deal" in the allied distribution of soldiers and war material, Harry W. Morgan, president of the Shire [county] of Port Stephens, now in this country inspecting war production for the Australian government, said here yesterday.

"In the pubs, on the street, every place you go, you'll hear people talking about MacArthur," Morgan said. "We believe he is close to a genius as a commander, but for some reason has not been allowed to exercise his full powers. He has never been given enough men or materials to have a 'fair go' at the Japs.

He Stays with His Men.

"Gen. MacArthur has come to occupy a place in the hearts of the Australian people never before achieved by an outsider. Their respect for him is doubled because he does not flaunt his medals or achievements, but remains among his soldiers at the fighting front.

"One of the quickest ways to pick a fight in Australia is to say something against Gen. MacArthur. Our diggers who have fought side by side with American doughboys are ready to back the general with their fists."

Suspicious of Tieup.

Many Australians, Morgan said, suspect that Gen. MacArthur has not been given a free hand in the conduct of the Pacific war because of "political reasons or administrative malpractice."

Of Australia itself Morgan said:

"I can give you ten thousand reasons why the Australian continent was not invaded by Jap troops and those reasons are the ten thousand American soldiers stationed on the coast."

EDEN DENIES LAXITY IN SEEKING TO AID PRISONERS OF JAPS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15.—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden rejected a suggestion in the house of commons today that his department was not doing its utmost to aid allied prisoners in Japanese hands. While admitting there was no reply yet to the British government's request of Jan. 26 for facilities to visit Jap prisoner of war camps, he rebuked Independent Edgar Granville for implying that the foreign office was lax in pressing representations.

Granville said Eden's recent statement on Jap atrocities created considerable anxiety among relatives of prisoners, and added: "The impression is that the foreign office doesn't follow thru very well." Eden said such a charge was "unjustified."

YANK CIGARETS DISAPPEAR—INTO JAPS' POCKETS!

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AT AN ADVANCED NEW GUINEA CAMP, March 15.—The mystery of the missing cigarets has been solved, Vic Tillotson, Norfolk, Va., a Red Cross worker, said today. For weeks cigarets had been disappearing. The solution came when Australian troops brought in two Japanese soldiers wearing American clothes and shoes and pockets jammed with American cigarets.

The Japs confessed they had been crawling into the camp at night and looting supplies. On many evenings, the Japs said, they had climbed trees and watched American movies, which they thought were swell.

While Tillotson was dropping soap, toothbrushes, candy, and tobacco from a plane to men on jungle patrols, another Red Cross man, Ralph Sickle, was bringing in more supplies by bomber. His plane was caught in a storm and crash landed on an island beach.

RADIO INDUSTRY POISED FOR BUSY POST-WAR YEARS

FM, Television, Radar Ready with Marvels.

[This is the 10th in a series of articles on a Tribune survey of the post-war outlook.]

BY HAL FOUST.

Radar, television, FM [frequency modulation], and other electronics will spark America's post-war economy. There are leaders in the industry who foresee a peace time activity as momentous as in 1925 when the first popular radio sets joined with the first low cost automobiles in introducing an era of prosperity in this country.

Developments in these electrical fields have been dramatized as well as intensified by the war. At the beginning there was Pvt. Joseph L. Lockard's ignored warning of planes approaching Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. The walkie-talkie was a hero of the African campaign. Mysterious eyes, ears, and even robots are fighting in battles in the air, on the sea, and on the land.

Military censorship forbids publication of some of the developments. The secrecy surrounding automatic pilot controls and navigation and fire controls has inspired fanciful speculations as to civilian applications. The prospects of big peace time business, however, do not have to be supported by glamorizing the unknown.

One of the brightest prospects is the future of FM, which was stunted in infancy by the suspension of civilian radio production.

Huge Market for FM Seen.

"Within five years after the peace treaty is signed," said W. E. Macfarlane, vice president of W-G-N and business manager of THE TRIBUNE. "I believe approximately 50 million FM sets will be sold in America at average prices of $40 or slightly less.

"Manufacturers now working full tilt on army and navy contracts will be able to convert to peace time products practically overnight. They'll be kept going three to five years before their output can catch up with the civilian demand.

"Television is also going to grow. How much is still speculative. Much depends upon technological developments still to be tested under peace time conditions. There'll doubtless be tens of thousands in private homes and the number will increase as the programs and the reception are improved. The receivers, immediately after the war, probably will sell for around $140 or $160. A larger screen and a great range of camera recording will enhance appeal to the public.

"W-G-N is banking on the future of FM and television. As you know we recently announced a new W-G-N building to be erected next to Tribune Tower as soon as war time restrictions on construction are lifted."

Miller McClintock, president of the Mutual Broadcasting system, told this interviewer that radio advertising in the post-war period is expected to increase 50 per cent to reach a volume of 300 million dollars a year. The increase, he said, will be part of a vigorous and aggressive marketing program by private industry fighting to reconvert when its war job is done.

"The superiority of FM has been demonstrated to the few owners who have these sets and who have enjoyed the experimental operations of a few stations now broadcasting on this high frequency," said McClintock. "There isn't any interference from static nor from overlapping stations. To the untrained ear, it's 'better music,' which is described by musicians as 'high fidelity reception.'

Field for War eVterans.

"With a few more refinements in television, the combination with FM will represent a step ahead as pronounced as was the advance of talkies over the silent films in our theaters."

Macfarlane pointed out that the retail sales and the household servicing of the new and old receiving sets is a rich field for employment of war veterans, many of whom are receiving expert technical training in the army and navy. A large portion of the radio stores and service stations in America have closed since Pearl Harbor.

"Radar," a trade publication, recently printed a graph predicting a billion dollar a year business for radio and electronic manufacture two years after the armistice. This is twice the pre-war level. However, it is little less than a third of the volume of the peak war production rate.

Many Uses in Industry.

Industrial uses of electronics, due for expansion in the post-war era, include induction heating and automatic inspections and controls in a wide variety of applications. On newspaper color printing presses, for example, an electric eye will watch the register, as it is called, and will direct corrections automatically if the red misses the lips of a woman's picture.

The expansion of commercial aviation will be accompanied by many war time advancements in signal and safety devices. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, World War I. ace, said a pilot will be able to land and take off in a blind fog as easily as he now operates with good visibility. These new controls are military secrets.

Railroads are expected to employ radio communication for safety, convenience and dispatch after the war is ended. Trains will not be isolated from each other nor from their control stations.

A W-G-N technician, who has been studying the subject, predicted that automobiles could soon be equipped with radio or radar safety controls. He said that this equipment could supplant traffic signals on rural highways. The red and green lights, he said, will be needed solely where direction of travel must be alternated for convenience.

REPORT ARMY AIR ACE AS MISSING IN ACTION IN S. PACIFIC AREA

Dallas, Tex., March 15 (AP).—Col. Neal E. Kearby of San Antonio, Tex., one of the army air forces' top aces of the Southwest Pacific, with at least 21 Jap planes to his credit, is missing in action.

Col. Neal E. Kearby.

His father, Dr. J. G. Kearby of Dallas, said today the war department advised the flyer's wife at San Antonio that Col. Kearby has been unreported since March 5.

Stationed with the 5th air force in the southwest Pacific, Col. Kearby on last Jan. 22 received from Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally the congressional medal of honor for shooting down six enemy planes in one day. He also was holder of the distinguished flying cross, the silver star, the air medal, and several oak leaf clusters. His wife and three sons live in San Antonio.

U. S. MUST LEAD IN TELEVISION, SAYS TRAMMELL

In launching the post-war era of television America must lead, not lag behind Great Britain and other countries, Niles Trammell, president of the National Broadcasting company, asserted yesterday at a war clinic held with affiliates of the chain in the Drake hotel.

"Television should be brought as soon as possible into every American home," said Trammell, "and this is and should remain the task of private enterprise."

NBC affiliate station executives attending the clinic adopted a resolution requesting legislation to affirm radio's right to freedom comparable to the rights of freedom of speech and of the press.

EXCHANGE LINER BRINGS 662 BACK TO 'FREE' WORLD

Chicago Woman Dies and Is Buried at Sea.

Jersey City, N. J., March 15 (AP).—After months of internment under Nazi domination, 662 repatriates today reached American soil.

They came home aboard the white painted Swedish exchange liner Gripsholm, which quickly discharged a group of 36 wounded service personnel who had been German war prisoners. They were taken to Halloran General hospital, Staten Island.

The passengers remained outwardly calm as the ship nosed into her pier. In the words of a navy officer who boarded her, "there was no demonstration—not even a peep," as the liner moved up the bay.

But their thankfulness at being home was expressed by S. Pinckney Tuck, American charge d'affairs at Vichy.

"After 15 months of detention, we are now able to appreciate at its full value the meaning of the word 'freedom,'" he said in behalf of an official party of 149, which included diplomats, correspondents, and Red Cross personnel.

Chicago Woman Dies.

During the trip Mrs. Jeannette A. Kaufman, 68, of Chicago, died and was buried at sea. She had suffered a parlytic stroke on the train en route to Lisbon and had been carried aboard the ship on a stretcher.

With her were two daughters, Gertrude and Irene Kaufman, who did not leave the ship immediately, but who intended to go to the home of an uncle, Otto Kaufman in Chicago.

Among the official party was Douglas C. MacArthur II., nephew of the general and a secretary of the embassy at Vichy, who said "It's simply swell to get home" after an absence of six years.

Paris Night Life Gay.

A picture of Paris under German occupation was given by Kathleen Cannel, Paris fashion writer for the New York Times for many years. She was interviewed aboard the Gripsholm by a naval public relations officer who relayed her remarks to newspapermen.

A gay night life still exists in that city, she said, and people crowd into shows and concerts, even tho the halls are not heated. Food is bad and the populace is reduced to wooden shoes, she said, but a black market flourishes in virtually every commodity, and a cigaret is more prized than money.

Miss Cannel recalled that Reichsmarshal Goering, No. 2 Nazi, now was wearing a diamond-studded uniform at formal functions, and that it was not rare for him to enter an expensive dress shop and buy 50 gowns at a time for his wife.

Expected 1943 Invasion.

Every one in Paris expected an allied invasion last summer, Miss Cannel said, and Paris "was terribly disappointed when it didn't come."

Miss Cannel was not interned, being permitted freedom in Paris under a guarantee by the French Fashion Designers' institute.

Besides the wounded service men and the official party, there were 374 other United States nationals and 103 Latin Americans aboard.

Conclusion of the Gripsholm's voyage marked the fifth diplomatic exchange with the enemy—three wtih Germany and two with Japan.

TWO SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR REALTY FRAUDS

David A. Marmon, 40, of 143 N. Parkside av., and Charles Weiss, 50, of 426 Surf st., real estate promoters convicted of operating a confidence game by promising a lot buyer he would be able to build a home despite war priorities, were sentenced to prison yesterday by Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court.

Judge Ward specified they should serve not less than one nor more than three years and denied a new trial. Marmon, president of Westgate Homes, Inc., 30 N. La Salle st., and Weiss, his associate, were accused of $14,000 frauds.

NAZIS' FIGHTING MOOD CREDITED TO DESPERATION

[Taylor Henry, former Associated Press bureau chief at Vichy, has returned to the United States aboard the diplomatic exchange ship Gripsholm after 15 months' interment in France and Germany.]

BY TAYLOR HENRY.

New York, March 15 (AP). — Germany is fighting today with the desperation, fear, and hatred of a gangster who has his back to the wall, but is determined to try to battle his way out.

The German people have been convinced by Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' propaganda that if they lose the war Germany will be exterminated as a nation.

This is my considered opinion as well as that of other American and foreign observers after internment in war time Germany for a year.

Obsessed with 3 Fears.

Germans today are obsessed with three fears:

1. Fear of bolshevism.
2. Fear of American-British domination of Europe.
3. Fear of the revenge of other European nations.

The strengthening of German morale thru this fear complex has been heightened by the hatred caused by American and British air raids on Germany.

Report Pilots Slain.

Reports were current in Baden-Baden, where I was interned, that the throats of many American and British pilots who were shot down or who bailed out over Hamburg literally were cut by the civilians who captured them before police or soldiers could formally imprison them.

In some cases, such reported attacks on allied nations flyers may have been instinctive expressions of the hatred of a population which has just been bombed; but in others it is the obvious result of propaganda designed to convince the German people they are exacting revenge on "murderers."

The Germans' subconscious knowledge that they are already beaten is shown primarily by their lack of confidence in their unit of currency—the reichsmark.

Stores Won't Sell.

Any German today would rather hold on to physical property than sell it for marks at any price. Many stores in Baden, for example, were still stocked with more or less luxury items, but shopkeepers were not interested in selling them.

Equally significant is the development of the black market in American money. On the official exchange an American dollar is worth 2½ marks. On the black market, with people pleading for dollars, the price is anywhere from 6 to 10 marks for a dollar, depending on the denomination of the bills.

A second indication of the subconscious knowledge in Germany today that the Nazis have lost the war is in the obvious breakdown of the vaunted German discipline. It was not unusual to see members of the Gestapo drunk while on duty at Baden-Baden.

The German's fear of bolshevism is based on such propaganda as the Katyn and Winnezia horror stories and is bolstered by reports such as that published last October that America and England had consented to let Russia take 5 million Germans as conscript workers to help rebuild damaged Russia.

Fear Allied Designs.

On the other hand, the average German has been convinced by adroit propaganda that America and England are meddling nations seeking world domination and that the allied nations have decided the complete destruction of Germany is necessary.

The fact that conditions in Germany still are as good as they are makes it possible for the great majority of German people to carry on with their morale unhampered. Food is adequate to sustain life on a better than subsistence level.

Clothing is still available in essential quantities, altho its quality is poor.

One of the things which has kept German morale good from the economic point of view has been the basic principle that each worker must be paid a salary large enough to cover everything to which his ration card entitles him, in addition to a margin for shelter and other basic unrationed necessities.

RADIO STATIONS MOVE TO CANCEL WINCHELL TIME

Act to Halt 'Vicious and Un-American' Smear.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Capitol hill received word late today of a movement among western radio station customers of the Blue network to cancel the Sunday night broadcasts of Walter Winchell, described in an earlier speech in the house as "king of the smear artists."

Chairman Dies [D., Tex.] of the committee on un-American activities, said he had received a long distance call from a Montana radio station owner telling of a meeting called by a group of station operators to consider withdrawal from the network so far as Winchell was concerned.

The station owner also asked for a recording of Dies' reply to what the Texan has alleged to be Winchell falsities concerning the Dies committee's operations. This, the Montana man promised, would be broadcast from his station during the time regularly allocated to the Broadway gossip monger.

Radio Officials Face Inquiry.

Dies has been in communication with Mark Woods, president of the Blue network, regarding the Winchell attacks upon congress as "the house of reprehensibles," he revealed. He has issued a warning that network officials may be summoned to explain why they permit "vicious and un-American propaganda" to be spread by Winchell and others if they do not take steps themselves to end the practice.

Winchell's sponsor, Andrew Jergens, president of the Jergens company, perfume manufacturers, who pays $5,000 a broadcast for Winchell's gossip and attacks on congressmen, may also be summoned to testify, Dies intimated.

Recordings to Be Studied.

The chairman already has announced an intention to subpena recordings and transcripts of Winchell's broadcasts with a view to analyzing them for untruths and evidences of subversive propaganda.

Winchell's latest broadcast was termed "near to treason" in a floor speech by Rep. Miller [R., Neb.]. He said he referred to an attack upon Gen. MacArthur in "the communist Daily Worker, PM, and echoed by Winchell, king of the smear artists."

The smear story in question hinted at sinister implications in the visit to Gen. MacArthur's Australian headquarters last summer of Brig. Gen. Robert E. Wood. By stressing Wood's former connections with the America First committee and "the secrecy" of the visit, Winchell, in repeating it, gave the impression that the meting between the two officers was of a political nature or worse.

New Deal Fear Told.

"This comes as near being a treasonable act as I have ever read," he told members. "It seems to be a deliberate attempt by anti-American smear artists of a termite variety to poison the minds of the American people by launching a slanderous and abusive attack upon a great commander in our armed forces.

"MacArthur is not a candidate for President. Apparently the henchmen of the New Deal feel he may be drafted and therefore instructed the smear artists to continue a deliberate and malicious campaign to undermine and destroy this great soldier."

How to make a WAR GARDEN

BY BEN MARKLAND.

Patch planting, as illustrated on the back page of today's TRIBUNE, is widely practiced on small European farms and could well be followed by thousands of American gardeners who have a limited amount of garden space. This method of planting is especially adaptable to small suburban and city lots, because it permits short distances between rows and heavier plantings.

This system saves planting space because all cultivating and harvesting is done from paths; therefore no space need be allowed for walking between rows. Furthermore, this method is somewhat more efficient than regular planting because the soil between the rows is not packed down by the weight of gardeners walking thru the plot.

Plot Is 25 Feet Wide, 20 Deep.

The plot illustrated on the back page is 25 feet wide and 20 feet deep. Gardeners who have plots of that approximate size can use this as a planting chart. Each of the four main patches is 5 feet 4 inches wide, and paths are 15 inches wide. The north patch, used exclusively for staked tomatoes, is 3 feet 9 inches wide, and the 16 tomato plants [two rows of eight plants each] are approximately 40 inches apart.

In this plot all of the rows in the first, third, and fourth patches are 12 inches apart. The five rows of peas in the second patch are 18 inches apart, and the four rows of bush beans are 24 inches apart. The peas should be planted before April 15, and after being harvested this space may be replanted to any vegetable the gardener chooses. The leaf lettuce is planted in a solid patch rather than in rows to increase the yield.

288 Row Feet in Garden.

There are 288 row feet in this garden as described, exclusive of the tomato area. The same amount of space planted in the standard manner, with rows two feet apart running the length of the garden, would contain eight 25 foot rows, or 200 row feet exclusive of the tomato area.

The Tribune booklet, "Gardener's Diary," which will be on sale in a few days, contains a chart for patch planting. The booklet will be sold thru The Tribune Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn st., and in the lobby of Tribune Tower, for 15 cents over the counter, 18 cents by mail.

EX-CONVICT IS FOUND GUILTY IN MANN ACT CASE

Eugene Sullivan, 34, of Gary, Ind., an ex-convict and reputed operator of a chain of houses of prostitution in northern Indiana and Benton Harbor, Mich., was found guilty on charges of violating the Mann act yesterday by Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert in federal District court in Hammond. He will be sentenced March 27.

Sullivan and 10 others have been indicted by the Lake county grand jury in Crown Point, Ind., on charges of conspiracy to pander and to commit acts of perversion, but Sullivan was the only defendant also accused by federal bureau of investigation agents. Sullivan once served part of a prison term for a robbery of which he later was exonerated.

He was charged with transporting women for immoral purposes between Benton Harbor, Mich., Gary and East Chicago. The government witness was Marie Faultz, 20, an unwed mother. She accused Sullivan of having enticed her into a house of prostitution in Gary when she was 16. She formerly lived in Elton, Wis.

3 AT JAPANESE CAMP INDICTED FOR USING RADIO

Sacramento, Cal., March 15 (AP).—A federal grand jury today indicted three Tule Lake Japanese relocation camp inmates on charges of operating "an apparatus for the transmission of communications by radio" in violation of the federal communications act.

Those indicted are Yoshio Kawazoye and Hideo Ray Kawazoye, brothers, and Masanori Hirata.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Emmett Seawell said the radio transmission outfits were found when the army took over the relocation center.

Hunt One for Questioning in Insurance Man's Death

Police yesterday were searching for Moses Sands, 16, a Negro, to question him about the fatal shooting on Tuesday of Karl Braband, 39, of 3807 Grove av., Berwyn. Sands was placed on six months' probation on Aug. 17, 1943, for robbery after Braband testified against him and two others Negroes, both of whom received prison sentences. Braband, an insurance collector, was found dead in a ditch along 104th st. in Palos Park.

ATTACKED BOYS ON AN IMPULSE, SAYS BRIDE, 17

Aids 2 Young Victims in Identifications.

Jean Kossman Graves, 17, of 5458 Berteau av., who voluntarily appeared at the Jefferson Park station to confess sadistic attacks on two young boys, yesterday attributed the assaults to an "impulse." She produced her weapons, a monkey wrench and a boy's knife.

This 15-inch wrench was Mrs. Graves' weapon.

The dark, slacks-clad wife of a merchant marine sailor said she was sorry that she struck Joseph Martin, 8, of 4112 N. Leamington av., with a monkey wrench Monday. She accompanied police to the Belmont hospital, where she aided her victim in making an identification. "He looks like the one I hit," she said calmly.

Admits Knifing Boy, 5.

Later in the day Mrs. Robert Devlin, 5124 Hutchison st., appeared at the station with her son, Robert Jr., 5, whose neck was slashed on March 5. Robert was unable to identify Mrs. Graves as his assailant, but she said he probably was the boy she knifed on the day in question, her 17th birthday.

The young woman said she was happy with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Kossman, at the Berteau av. address, and devoted to her brother, Arthur, 10, who is in an Elgin boarding school. Her father manages a bakery's garage.

Ran Away from Home.

The father said she ran away from home in May, 1942, because she loathed school. She met and married Bert Graves of Atlanta, Ga., lived with him three months, and returned home in April, 1943, after he joined the merchant marine. She since has refused to see him, and has told police that she doesn't care for men.

Mrs. Graves was taken to the Juvenile home for a psychopathic examination and further questioning.

ASK $65,000,000 TO ADD TO NAVY ARMS PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—The navy asked congress today for $65,000,000 to provide equipment "for the rocket programs, high capacity projectiles and certain confidential projects."

Undersecretary James Forrestal said in a letter that the necessity for facilities to meet the demands for production of new ordnance supplies, materials and equipment for the navy continues.

A balance of approximately $10,000,000 from previous authorizations, Forrestal said, will not be sufficient to provide for variations in estimates of cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts and increases in equipment. He gave no details.

MONEY GRANTED TO MRS. JOSLYN FOR OLD BILLS

Mrs. Charlotte Joslyn, who got a divorce from her husband, George R. Joslyn, in 1940 after a series of hearings, was back in court yesterday, but she only partly succeeded in getting more money from him.

Mrs. Charlotte Joslyn.

Before Judge U. S. Schwartz of Superior court, Mrs. Joslyn, who now lives in Princeton, Bureau county, sought an increase in alimony from $500 to $1,000 a month. Her attorney, Thomas Hart Fisher, whose name figured in the divorce hearings, argued for the increase, and Joslyn's lawyer, Alvin Hubbard, against it.

As the hearing proceeded, it developed that Mrs. Joslyn's immediate need for the extra $500 was to pay $2,400 in old, accumulated bills. Judge Schwartz used that factor in deciding the case. He awarded Mrs. Joslyn $500 a month—but only to the amount of the $2,400 in debts, a period of five months. Moreover, Joslyn or his agent is to pay the bills. Mrs. Joslyn isn't to get the cash, the court said.

Archbishop Stritch Gives Back of Yards Group $500

Joseph B. Meegan, secretary of the Back of the Yards Neighborhood council, yesterday received a $500 donation from Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch, who accompanied the donation with the following letter: "As a small token of my appreciation of the good work which the Back of the Yards council is doing I ask you to accept for the council the inclosed check for $500, with my earnest hope that the council's good work will prosper and increase."

NEW 'GET TOUGH' DRAFT AIMED AT MEN 18 TO 26

Order Includes Fathers, Curbs Deferments.

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, emphasized tonight that future draft calls will concentrate on younger men, regardless of their status as fathers or as essential occupation workers.

He indicated a new "get tough" mood of the selective service system in a letter sent to local draft boards and in testimony during the day before a senate agriculture committee. His utterances supplemented abolition last night of occupational deferments for men under 26 except in rare cases.

More Fathers to Be Taken.

"We must, in the future, make fathers available in increasingly greater numbers to meet induction requirements," Hershey's message to draft boards warned.

"At the same time we must secure men from other classes and particularly we must secure men, fathers and nonfathers, from the group now deferred in industry and agriculture."

He said that 240,000 men now deferred in industry and agriculture will have to be drafted by July 1 to obtain the 1,160,000 men who must be supplied to the army and navy for the five month period ending on that date. He declared that selective service has failed to meet the military draft calls by 100,000 men a month for five consecutive months.

Rejection Rate Higher.

Explaining his application of an age group for the drafting of fathers, Hershey told the senate committee:

"Those we have examined averaged 33 years in age. The rejection rate is higher than in younger men, and the fathers, because of their age, are more necessary in industry."

In taking the firm position that the younger men must be withdrawn from war industries, Hershey opposed Man Power Director McNutt who on Monday urged President Roosevelt to restrain draft boards from taking single and childless married men employed in war industries. McNutt is reported to have warned the President that war production would suffer if younger men were denied further deferments.

Bar Deferments Under 26.

In a telegraphic communication to draft boards last night, Hershey prohibited occupational deferments for all men under 26, unless certified by the state draft director as essential to vital war production or engaged in activities specifically exempt, such as the merchant marine or the air transport command. His telegram supplemented his letter dated March 13 but made public today.

In his letter Hershey said that occupational deferments "must now be more exacting" and that no man shall be deferred who is not truly necessary to the production of munitions or food. In the case of men under 26, the standard for deferment is still tougher, limiting deferments to those whose essentiality in a critical activity is "beyond question."

He pointed out that some 9,352,000 registrants now have entered military service, and added that "those men have the right to expect that the remaining registrants whose services are required by the armed forces will be made available."

Distribution Shown.

The draft director gave the following distribution of the nation's military man power pool of 22,198,000 men [18 thru 37 years] on Feb. 1:

		Per cent.
Class 1-C [in military service]	9,352,000	42.13
4-F [physically, mentally, morally unfit]	3,485,000	15.70
1 [in process of classifying, examining]	1,498,000	6.75
Unclassified [mostly new 18 year olds]	111,000	0.50
2-A and 2-B [occupationally deferred]	3,204,000	14.43
2-C and 3-C [farm deferments]	1,689,000	7.61
3-A [mostly fathers]	2,593,000	11.68
3-D [hardship cases]	103,000	0.50
Others [conscientious objectors, etc.]	163,000	0.70

Discussing these possible sources of available men, Hershey said that scrutiny of the 3,485,000 men in 4-F indicates that few will be obtained from this class or from class 3-D and the miscellaneous deferred groups.

One in Ten 3-A's Acceptable.

Only one out of every three in class 1 [available for military service] will be acceptable by the army and navy, and only 1 out of 10 in class 3-A, he added.

He submitted the following balance sheet of army and navy requirements from Feb. 1 to July 1, compared with available supplies:

Class 1	420,000
Class 3-A	250,000
Youths becoming 18	250,000
Deferred men in farming and industry	240,000

Hershey said the strength of the army and navy on Feb. 1 was about 10,600,000 and that the scheduled total for July 1 is 11,300,000. In addition to the 700,000 men needed to fill this gap, he explained, another 460,000 will be needed for replacements of those who will drop out of the services in the five months.

Discuss Mental Standards.

In discussing before the senate agriculture committee the mental standards for draftees, Hershey and the committee members agreed that a recruit's failure to recognize a French phone doesn't mean he isn't smart enough to make a good soldier. Sen. Russell [D., Ga.], talking about drafting essential farm workers, said he knew men "not familiar with French phones, but they can shoot straight."

Sen. Bankhead [D., Ala.] called for a common sense educational test for draftees, asserting that present educational standards are too high. Hershey agreed that too many have been rejected for military service by tests of literacy and mental attainments.

CHICAGO DRAFTEES WILL BE EXAMINED AT CENTRAL OFFICE

Starting next Monday Chicago draft registrants called for pre-induction physical examinations will report directly at room 70, 166 W. Van Buren st., rather than to their own local boards, as has been customary.

The new orders were issued yesterday by Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service. The plan, he said, will save time and be more convenient.

"The direct reporting plan," added Armstrong, "applies only to registrants of Chicago local boards, and does not change the requirements that Cook county suburban and downstate registrants report, as usual, to their board offices."

UNRRA TRACTOR REQUEST UNDER FIRE IN HOUSE

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Gentlemen who smoothed the way for President Roosevelt's united nations relief and rehabilitation administration have rosy complexions tonight. They are being called upon by members of the house foreign relations committee to explain the mystery of the 30,000 tractors UNRRA has asked for foreign nations when American farmers are being denied tractors vital to the war food program.

Members of the foreign relations committee feel they have been deceived, it was learned, and administration leaders are trying to prevent a break with these members that might spread to the floor of the house.

Other Requests Made.

Open criticism of UNRRA would be embarrassing just now for this reason: The house and senate have authorized American participation to the extent of 1 billion 350 million dollars in the project to feed, clothe and rehabilitate war stricken lands, but the money has not been appropriated. And tough sledding for the appropriation bill has been predicted in the senate appropriations committee.

The 30,000 tractors were only one item in a long secret list of UNRRA requirements recently made public by Rep. Calvin D. Johnson [R. Ill.]. Other items included 80,000 plows, 50,000 mowers and tremendous quantities of other farm machinery.

UNRRA advocates promptly deplored the premature publication of the list, and explained it was only an estimate because UNRRA had promised not to begin operations until congress votes it some money. But is was learned UNRRA had already called upon the war production board for the tractors and some of the other materials, and that WPB had acted—allocating UNRRA some of the tractors previously authorized for American farmers.

Help Farmers First.

The foreign relations committee's subsequent investigation has been secret, but one congressman said tonight it has been admitted Johnson was right. To placate committee members, this congressman said, assurances have now been given that the machinery project will be dropped until the members approve it.

HUSBAND LOSES PLEA FOR DECREE TO MARRY AGAIN

Mrs. Amelia Brunner.

Mrs. Amelia Brunner, 46, of 6505 Newgard av., won her separate maintenance suit yesterday when her husband, Charles, 51, an electrical engineer, who had sued for divorce, admitted he wanted to marry another woman. Judge Joseph A. Graber of Superior court ruled that the extra-marital romance was no excuse for deserting his wife, and ordered Brunner to pay her $110 a month. The Brunners' daughters, Mrs. Doris Bart, 26, and Adelaide, 19, testified for the mother. Joseph H. and Norman Becker were attorneys for Mrs. Brunner, and Bruce Parkhill represented Brunner.

231 Cases of Meningitis Listed in City and County

Two new cases yesterday brought the total number of spinal meningitis sufferers in Chicago since Jan. 1 to 184, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, said. Two additional cases reported from Park Ridge brought the county total for the same period to 47. There have been 37 deaths in the city, and four in the county.

STALINGRAD OR BATAAN?

Col. Warren J. Clear, whose expert knowledge of the Japanese and their military program has won him his place on our army's general staff, was in Chicago a few days ago to attend a conference of the radar and radio industry. He took the occasion to discuss the war in its largest aspects.

Japan, he said, is our No. 1 enemy. A German victory would have meant, in his estimation, no more than a 15 or 20 year period of German domination of Europe, and, therefore, only a temporary submergence of free institutions. A Japanese victory, on the other hand, will mean the military organization under Japan of the vast populations of Asia and of the incalculably rich natural resources of continental Asia and the islands adjacent to it. The Japanese aim to subdue the white man and hold him in subjection forever. If they win this war, and with it the time to organize their conquests, no power or combination of powers will be strong enough to resist their further advance.

Col. Clear brought his point into sharp focus by contrasting Stalingrad and Bataan. He challenged the Russian claim that Stalingrad was the greatest defensive battle in history. He gives the palm to Bataan, not only because the stake was greater but also because the military position was far more difficult. The Russians were fighting in the midst of their own country. The Americans were fighting more than 5,000 miles from home and close to the enemy's bases. At Stalingrad the Russians were surrounded by Russia; at Bataan the Americans were surrounded by the jungle and the Japs.

The Russians held Stalingrad and the Americans lost Bataan, but before they lost it they had disrupted the Japanese schedule and had given our country time to organize a new line of defense based on Australia and had made possible the organization of our naval forces for the victories of the Coral sea and Midway. The men who died on Bataan and the Americans who are rotting in Japanese prison camps as a result of the surrender have made an incalculably great contribution to the future of mankind.

Col. Clear's analysis will find no challenge in American hearts. Americans realize that what he has said is the obvious truth. They believe it in spite of the efforts of a horde of foreign agents in this country who wish us to fasten our attention upon Europe. They believe it in spite of the alien minded newspapers—of which there are three examples in this community—which busy themselves in decrying America and worshiping foreign ideologies.

The men of Bataan were deprived of adequate weapons and supplies at the same time that great shipments of these stores were being sent to Russia. Bataan is a great chapter of heroism for American troops and a black chapter of disgrace for the administration and its followers.

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN.

Joseph B. Eastman, director of defense transportation, who died yesterday, was often referred to as the ablest official in the present national regime. It was not Mr. Roosevelt, however, who brought him to Washington. As a member of the public service commission in Massachusetts, Eastman came to the attention of Woodrow Wilson, who in 1918 appointed him a member of the interstate commerce commission. His service on the commission was continuous for a quarter of a century and he was thruout that time the most dynamic member of that body.

In an address at New York a few years ago Mr. Eastman said: "I speak from the point of view of a government official, neither blessed nor afflicted by private enterprise and initiative, who has lived at the expense of taxpayers for a long time and has been trained in the school of regimentation." And Eastman was, in fact, the railroads' severest critic. However, because of his intelligence, his knowledge of the transportation business, his independence of all political influence and his fairness, the railroads were always willing to rest their case with him.

He often said that he believed in government ownership and operation "as the ultimate solution" of the railroad problem, but he opposed every move in that direction in an administration which was strongly inclined that way. Thus it was he who prevented the railroads of the country from being brought under an NRA code. He objected because he said they were subject to plenty of regulation already.

Eastman's outstanding service was in the present war. Such was his influence in the Roosevelt administration that if he had given the word the government would certainly have taken over the railroads as it did in the last war. He stood out for private operation, and the remarkably efficient job which has been done by the railroads is a testimonial to his sound judgment. Thus, the ablest man in the government and the man with longest experience there knew the weaknesses of government management and kept his superiors from making a fatal mistake in war time. A great deal of trouble at Washington is attributable to the fact that inferior men with little experience are unaware of their limitations.

VESTED INTERESTS IN LEND-LEASE.

Foreign Economic Administrator Crowley has disclosed that the United States has turned over one out of every five airplanes manufactured in America in the last 33 months to England, Russia, and other allies under lend-lease. The dollar value of the 27,800 planes involved in this gift was not disclosed, but Mr. Crowley added that 1 billion 600 million dollars' worth of extra engine parts, 2½ billion dollars in bombs and ordnance, and 670 million dollars' worth of aviation gasoline went along with the aircraft. England apparently got most of the planes, but 7,800 of them went to soviet Russia and 4,000 to Pacific allies, according to Mr. Crowley's report.

Testifying before the house foreign affairs committee, Secretary of War Stimson insisted that this tremendous lend-lease flow must be maintained and that it would be "unthinkable" to halt the giveaway at this time. He termed any attempt to put our contributions to England and Russia on a dollars and cents basis "commercial acrimony," and said that it would endanger the unity needed to win the war.

Secretary Stimson is one of the international banking crowd and he was never known to regard the taking of money from Europe as "commercial acrimony" before he joined Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet. On the contrary, the dollar was a very valuable item in the lives and conduct of Secretary Stimson and his banker associates.

This time, however, the money is being furnished by American taxpayers. Lend-lease costs the international bankers nothing and it is making the war profitable for them. If it is continued, the peace will be even more profitable for them. Secretary Stimson, because of his big money connections, is under suspicion when he talks about lend-lease, and particularly when he shows great eagerness to have lend-lease continued on a grand and unlimited scale.

JUST CARRY THE MAIL.

On Capitol hill the legislators expect to get the service vote bill back with a veto soon after it reaches the White House. Mr. Roosevelt's ideas of fraud and illegality are still on the twisted side, intentionally rather than ignorantly. He knows what he is doing. He may think that whatever happens in another scrap with congress he will come out of it as the champion of the fighting man's vote even if because of his own actions the fighting man does not get it.

Apparently it is being forgotten, even in congress, that the federal government has no authority to declare or specify how the electors shall be chosen or, as the Constitution says, "appointed." Congress by its acts cannot legally provide a method and it cannot prohibit. If it passed no bill at all it would be acting properly. Whatever it does is outside its prerogative and outside its authority.

Sen. Nye remarked that just a little bit of unconstitutionality did not seem much better to him than a great deal of it. Mr. Roosevelt insists upon a complete fraud and he must, in consequence, accept the charge that he thinks it would benefit him. If the disagreement between the executive and the legislative branches resulted in no congressional legislation whatever the situation would be just what it should be. Then the supreme law of the United States would prevail.

Again it should be said that the question is not one of state rights but of state duties. The power to say how electors shall be chosen does not arise from state sovereignty but from constitutional mandate. The right was delegated. It was not retained by the states when the Union was formed. The law of the Union gave it to the states. An act of congress cannot take it away, diminish it, or modify it legally. Whatever congress does is either unnecessary or illegal. What Mr. Roosevelt would do is just more so.

The federal government has only one function it can perform in the service voting. That is to carry the mails. Mr. Roosevelt can control that. He can order his recalcitrant secretary of war and secretary of the navy to give every possible aid to the postoffice department in getting the ballots to the uniformed voters and in getting their votes back where they belong, which is in the hands of the state canvassing boards. Kentucky has no provision for absentee voting and New Mexico has a constitutional provision against it. If states do not make it possible for their service men to vote they must bear the responsibility for the failure. A majority of the states will be ready to send out their ballots. Will Mr. Roosevelt's administrative departments deliver them?

In the attitude of the heads of the federal services involved the people can get the answer to the vote question. The vote mail can be carried to every spot which can be reached by letters from home. Every soldier, sailor, marine, or woman in uniform who receives mail can be reached if the postoffice, the army, and the navy want to do the job. They will want to do it if Mr. Roosevelt tells them to do it. He, as he often observes, is the commander in chief.

Mr. Roosevelt has wasted a lot of words crying fraud at the only constitutional method of polling voters who are serving their country in the armed forces. Two words will be enough. "Get busy." Mr. Stimson and Mr. Knox say they can't do it. They do not want to do it. They reflect the will of their chief executive and commander in chief. They are not fooling any one. Neither is Mr. Roosevelt. If he continues to obstruct the vote the fighting men will be disfranchised. If he lets the mails go thru they will vote.

With Kentucky already edging over into the G. O. P. column and with Sen. Barkley going back there for reëlection this year, perhaps his chances now would be about 50-50.—Kansas City Star.

LORE OF ST. PATRICK.

St. Patrick's name is of Latin derivation because his early years were spent in Romanized Britain. Moreover, it may have originated as a nickname. He had a British name, Sucat, but in his youthful adventures he acquired Patricius as a cognomen, perhaps because he talked of having come from a good family. [His father was a landowner and deacon.] The name is Padraic in Gaelic, Patrice in French, Patricio in Spanish and Italian, and may even be found in Russian as Patrikij. Incidentally, the popular feminine form Patricia seems to have originated in Scotland.

* * *

The name of Ireland's patron saint has contributed to colloquial English the verb and noun, "paddywhack," and to American English the phrase, "paddy wagon." Any young modern who does not know what a paddy wagon was should ask a policeman.

* * *

The standard history of St. Patrick, which defends the traditional view of an obscure career, was written by a great classical historian, John Bagnell Bury. He taught at Trinity college, Dublin, for 10 years and then at Cambridge university. The work was published in 1905.

St. Patrick's cross figures in the pattern of the British Union Jack, with the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew. It is X-shaped, red on a white field. Its heraldic description is "a saltire gules on a field silver."

POEMS FOR PAM—XXV.

The mailman rang
In his usual way,
And so
I never guessed
That this particular mail should be
So different
From the rest.
I dried my hands and smoothed
My hair,
And went outside to see
What letters, cards, and ads
Were there
For George, and Pam, and me.
But one lone envelope
Filled the box—
And I saw, as my breath
Came short—
"The President of the United States"—
And
"You are directed to report."

Choppy Talks About St. Patrick.

Choppy says that on last St. Patrick's day he was Irish to the core, and he wore his green suit, his tiny green cap with its red plume, and jumped into his Irish jaunting cart, drawn by a little white donkey, and drove all over the city of Chicago to greet his Irish friends.

Then, Choppy says, he put on his green-rimmed pixie glasses, took his all saints' book, and did a bit of reading about St. Patrick. Sure now, and what do you think, Choppy says, he found out that St. Patrick was not Irish at all. The book said that there is a rumor he might be Scotch, and another that he might be French, but every one agrees that he lived in France and then emigrated to Ireland to do a bit of missionary work. Whoever heard of a Frenchman by the name of Patrick, Choppy asks?

Well, sir, the first thing St. Patrick did when he got to Ireland was that he chased all the snakes out of Ireland, which he did by waving a shamrock at them, but there is no proof of this either, Choppy says. It is just hearsay, by way of the well known Irish green grapevine.

There really is nothing very certain about the whole St. Patrick fable, Choppy says, except that it sounds very much as if some Irishman kissed the blarney stone once too often.

"O, those Irish," Choppy says. Roy Engel.

WEAKENING EFFECTS OF VIRUS PNEUMONIA.

For the past few years physicians have noted that pneumonia has presented a number of peculiar manifestations. Thousands of cases of a nonbacterial type have been observed which have been traced to a virus. The odd thing about the attacks is that reactions vary so widely. Illness may be extremely mild. On the other hand, severe complications, such as encephalitis [sleeping sickness], have appeared occasionally as an aftermath. The responsible "bug" seems to be virulent in one victim; comparatively harmless in others. Attempts to find a specific bacillus have been futile. The only organisms recovered are the routine inhabitants of the nose and throat to which the patient has become accustomed.

As a rule, complaints will include repeated chills and fever, profuse sweating, and a hacking cough. In fact, the symptom complex imitates influenza. The thermometer will show an afternoon rise and the individual may feel miserable.

When X-rays of the chest are taken, a soft filmy thickening of certain portions of the lung fields will be revealed. Only rarely will the dense consolidation, common in lobar pneumonia, be exhibited. Furthermore, the picture may change. An area definitely affected today may be clear tomorrow. The disorder, whatever it is, apparently has the power to move about within the chest cavity at will.

The best treatment is to supply plenty of fluids, sedatives to control cough, and enough vapor in the room to loosen secretions. The sulfa drugs have no effect. Now and then heat to the thorax will provide real comfort. If cyanosis [blueness] is marked, the administration of oxygen is helpful. Some authorities have recorded the successful employment of diathermy in stubborn cases which hang on for two or three weeks.

A recent report by Oppenheimer suggested the use of X-rays, which will furnish just enough irritation to bring the forces of nature into full play. Under this type of management, temperature has declined and convalescence has been established promptly in the majority of instances. Most of these patients were up and about within 10 days. With some, after the second exposure, the cough disappeared and a comfortable night was in prospect.

If diathermy and X-ray, either singly or in combination, will take care of the infection, not only will the risk of complications be avoided, but much time will be saved. Before this program was instituted, many a sufferer was obliged to remain in bed for weeks or months. They would drag around half-sick for a protracted period.

Fortunately, recovery is the rule. But the speed with which it will occur depends upon good nursing and the maintenance of nourishment at a high level. Not infrequently, the patient will need to be forced to eat. The malady is classified in the "contagious" group and no one except the attendant should enter the sickroom.

TIRED LIDS.

H. E. B. writes: For some time my eyelids have felt heavy—in fact, I can hardly keep them open. I can be talking to a person and, while so doing, they close. What could be wrong?

REPLY.

There are two conditions to check—one is myasthenia gravis and the other is narcolepsy. The family doctor can make a diagnosis.

"SPREADING" GERMS.

Mrs. H. H. writes: My brother, who is stationed in Italy, has written saying that he bought a beautiful silk spread as a gift for me. Is there any danger of typhus in bringing this article into my home?

REPLY.

Not if it is free from vermin. For safety's sake, the services of a dry cleaner should be sought.

DUE TO OCCUPATION.

Mrs. J. O. writes: I have taken a job in a bake shop and tie and break cord with my right hand all day. Lately the hand and arm on this side pain me. What advice can you give me?

REPLY.

Your symptoms are due to fatigue. Why not employ a pair of shears or a string cutting device?

URINE TESTS.

Mrs. F. M. writes: My friend and I have been arguing about kidney trouble. I said that if the urine does not show anything wrong, this disease is not present. But she said the blood must be studied too.

REPLY.

If the urine is normal in all respects, further laboratory examinations are probably not required.

WHEEZING.

H. P. writes: What causes whistling in the chest?

REPLY.

The most common causes are bronchitis and asthma.

NO DANGER.

L. A. writes: Is there any possibility of harming the body by wearing a radium dial wrist watch?

REPLY.

No. The quantity is too small.

As it grinds to a stop, he sits under the open window of the galley, patiently waiting for the chef to toss him a few scraps from a returned plate. Saturday he was on hand, as usual. He waited and waited, his eager face growing wistful and then, as the train finally pulled out without a scrap for him, incredibly sad. Some zealous do-gooder had reported to Milwaukee officials that the chef on Train 103 was wasting meat by throwing it to dogs along the way.

Music Appreciation.

Milstein was playing, and the large blonde lady in the furs and overpowering perfume punctuated the music with audible grunts of ecstasy. You knew she kept wanting to say, "My dear, magnificent, isn't he? Simply magnificent . . ." to her companion, and was simulating it by grunts. At last her larynx successfully resisted this self-imposed and unusual restraint. "Really," she began to say, in a swift flow of anger, "I don't know how I happened to think of it, but I must tell you about that saleswoman who waited on me. So disagreeable, my dear. You'd think she didn't care if she never sold me a dress." The other bulk agreed. "Just terrible," she soothed. "I know. Just too terrible to talk about. They all are. And the waiters . . . my dear!" Her silence was expressive. "So insolent." "After the war they'll change," the second said. "That's what I told one the other day." "Insolence," the first repeated and, without change of tone as she produced a mirror and carefully examined her nose. "My face looks simply ravaged! That terrible rain!" At this point Mr. Milstein concluded his performance. "Magnificent!" yowled the first music-lover, clapping hilariously. "Wasn't it wonderful?" cried the other. "Really magnificent. . . . You know," reflectively, "he deserves a bravo!"

Attention Dale Carnegie.

The class of 11 year olds was receiving instruction on how to meet new friends. "Now," began the teacher, "in meeting new friends, and trying to decide whether they would be good friends, what are you interested in?" Up shot one hand. "Character!" said the voice behind the hand. Up shot another. "Hobbies!" suggested its owner. "Anything else?" the teacher coaxed. "Sure," spoke up one small voice. "We'd like to know their telephone numbers."

Of Cats and Queens.

The sophisticated satin-coated cat who refuses to walk up and down stairs in a Chicago storage warehouse once again boarded the elevator on the third floor with Alberita Semrad. At the first floor Mrs. Semrad got out, but not the cat. She licked her white-mitted paw, let it glide delicately from back of one soft ear to the tip of her snubby damp nose, and looked up meaningfully at the elevator operator. "She wanted to get off at the second floor," the operator said. "Goes up there about this time every day." The door closed, and the car went up.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

Chicago, March 11.—Not long ago I emerged from two months in a hospital, penniless and dispirited. Two people who owed me money blithely ignored my appeal for prompt payment, and, determined not to bore my friends with my misfortunes, I turned to the Salvation Army. There I asked for food and shelter for a few days until I could get my belongings out of storage and find a job.

With a minimum of red tape and no embarrassing questions, the Salvation Army heard my story, provided me with street car tokens and a meal ticket—I had not eaten for two days—and later sent me to the woman's emergency lodge, 426 W. Wisconsin av., a newly decorated building, where I had a nice room, bath, and excellent meals, and was treated not as a charity case but as an honored guest.

Other women were there, too, sent by the Red Cross and Travelers Aid, as well as the army. There was a service man's wife with her baby, a girl from the same hospital where I was a patient, and a mother, temporarily stranded with three children. All were treated in the same considerate manner.

I cannot praise highly enough the fine work done by Brig. Ahrenson, the adjutant, and Mrs. Anderson, the excellent Swedish cook. There was never a sharp word, and always there was appreciation for any help given with the dishes or the cleaning. For 10 days I was sheltered at the lodge, until my first pay day. Altho no money is expected or required, the brigadier reluctantly accepted $5 from me, small payment for the comfort and assistance I had received. I hope soon to send more, so that the next person who has no one to turn to will have something to go on.

MAN POWER SHORTAGE OR PAY CHECK SHORTAGE.

Chicago, March 6.—In today's Tribune I noticed an article on shortage of labor in radar. Mr. L. F. Muter, a leader of the industry, says these firms still need 4,000 more workers. I have been employed in this kind of work for the last 18 months and ever since last summer our firm has had a notice posted that it has made application to Washington to have our wages increased. So far not a thing has been done about this increase, while wages in other industries have been increased, and prices have gone sky high.

I think it high time I was getting into a line of work where I was making a living wage, and be able to put a little aside for a war bond each week.

Chas. Cunningham.

BRITISH COPS AND FIREARMS.

Bellwood, Ill., March 12.—I wish to take issue to Ada C. L. Gummersall's letter in the Voice of the People Sunday. She states they have no gunmen in England and their police force is not armed. How could they when they did not have any arms until Uncle Sam came to the rescue and sent them some?

James J. O'Shaughnessy.

IS THIS COMPLACENCY?

Chicago, March 11.—Now that Mr. Beebe of Iowa has had his nail at the wall, please move over. I think it's pretty nice that Eleanor can travel any place any time without being called complacent or Fascist by her husband. If she is traveling for anything but pleasure maybe Mr. Beebe will tell us what it is.

M. D. L.

PART TIME WORK.

Chicago, March 8.—It seems to me that Chicago war plants themselves are responsible in part for the situation which has arisen to make it a critical labor shortage area.

I am sure that there are other women like me who would like to help out in this crisis, but are handicapped by the same thing that is keeping me from doing my share. I am a young housewife with one child, 13 months old. This age is too young for a nursery school so I cannot give day time hours. I would gladly work at anything to help the war for four or five hours in the evening, but because I have to take care of the child all day I could not work full time. My husband gets home from his job at 7 p. m. and I could start at 8 p. m. at almost any place on the north side, as I have convenient transportation. I have applied at a number of plants and have been told flatly that they could not use me. If there is a crying need for help, why can't we all help?

Mrs. James W. Peterson.

TELLING MR. ROOSEVELT.

Chicago, March 9.—I would like to suggest to the people of Chicago, particularly those in the south side area, that they bombard the President with letters regarding our filthy polluted water. This is caused by the Indiana sewage seeping into Lake Michigan.

The health commissioner has warned us to boil our water 20 minutes. There are many cases of typhoid fever which may become a severe epidemic.

The great amount of chlorine used to try to purify the water is ineffective. Shall we kill ourselves with germs and chlorine? Don't you be one of those who doesn't realize danger before it hits home! Remind the President that you do not seek his or his secretary's signature. He needn't acknowledge the letter, but he should do something about it!

Gee, I'd like to drink some of that lovely spring water New York City has. It comes from the Croton springs and is fresh, clear, and sparkling—but that is the only thing I envy New Yorkers for.

Harriet Daniel.

HE DOESN'T WANT TO DO IT OVER.

SOMEWHERE IN ITALY, Feb. 27.—Just a few words of praise on your recent suggestion that the United States retain the Pacific Isles captured and to be captured by American military might. Washington should act now in an effort to cause European governments to liquidate their holdings in the American hemisphere. America must never be caught asleep again. We are fighting this war "once and for all."

NO ADULT ADOPTION.

Chicago, March 7.—1. Please tell me whether my husband and I may adopt a young man, 23 years old, who has been honorably discharged from the army? Would adoption have to be approved by both husband and wife, or could one of us adopt the young man?

J. F.

No. The Illinois statute does not authorize the adoption of adults. In general, you can accomplish the same purpose by other means. For example, as far as sharing your assets are concerned, a will would suffice. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NEW DEAL PLAN OF BIG POST-WAR BUREAU BLASTED

Contract Unit Would Use Staff of 8,000.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—An administration proposal for a new agency with a pay roll of 8,000 to 10,000 persons and unlimited power to negotiate the post-war settlement of war contracts involving an estimated 15 billion dollars met with immediate opposition on Capitol hill today.

Legislators were indignant over suggestions that the controler general of the United States, watch dog of the treasury and responsible only to congress, be eliminated from participation in the contemplated financial transactions.

John Hancock, industrial banker and co-author with Bernard M. Baruch of the recent report on war and post-war adjustment policies, outlined the government's views on contract settlement to the special house committee on post-war economic policy and planning.

Legislation Being Drafted.

A draft of legislation representing the views of the army, navy, treasury, and other government agencies, he said, will be sent to congress within a few days.

"We have got to train 8,000 to 10,000 men to handle this problem," he told the committee. "A start is being made on this training in the army war college and Harvard school of business. We will need about 4,000 in government and 4,000 in industry for training in a field of experience wholly outside anything ever attempted before."

Rep. Thomason [D., Tex.] asked Hancock what supervision was intended by the government "to avoid such scandals as followed the last war."

Scorns Controler General.

The witness, who said he was talking "off the cuff," replied frankly that the government agencies did not want the controler general in the picture to make an independent audit of the settlements arrived at between the government and the contractors.

"If I can't find better safeguards than Warren [Lindsay C. Warren, controler general], I'll be disappointed," Hancock remarked.

"Under your plan," said Thomason, "if a contractor and an agency reach an agreement, there would be no check by congress or the public. I am beginning to wonder what we have a controler general for if he wouldn't be a good umpire in this situation. He has a great organization and is responsible to congress alone. But you want him to sit on the side lines."

Rep. Zimmerman [D., Mo.] backed Thomason, saying: "I feel there should be some agency representing the public which would have a say about these adjustments, and I can't understand the view of those who oppose such an arrangement."

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever take the blame for something you didn't do? Why?

WHERE ASKED.

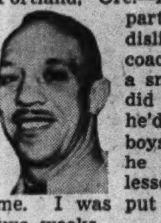
THE ANSWERS.



James Jindrich, chief petty officer, Portland, Ore.—At a junior class party two boys who disliked the basketball coach dunked him into a snowbank. I said I did it because I knew he'd put the other two boys off the team but he might choose a lesser punishment for me. I was put off the team for two weeks.

Bonnie Hanson, clerk, 6856 South Shore dr.—One day I brought home a stray dog. Mother said I could keep it if I'd keep it out of trouble. That night she planted some petunias which the dog dug up. To save his reputation I said I dug them up and planted zinnias not knowing she planted something else.

Robert M. Keller, flight officer, Detroit, Mich.—It was a mistake to begin with to allow my girl friend to drive a car I had borrowed from a pal. She turned a corner too soon and drove over a heavy log. It virtually rubbed one tire right off the car. I told my friend I had done it and gave him my new spare tire.

Dorothy Wolf, clerk, 3518 W. 58th st.—I didn't think it fair that my little brother be punished for something he didn't do intentionally. He pushed me deliberately, but he hadn't meant for me to fall on the hot stove and burn my face. I told my mother the whole incident was my fault. My brother was most grateful!

Hugh Owen, draftsman, 6615 Kenwood av.—My roommate had a noisy party in our room. The dean called me the next day and I confessed to the crime because I knew my roommate had been called up too many times before. I lost all of my liberties for the rest of the semester, but my roommate was saved.

Edmund Dworakowski, seaman, Paterson, N. J.—A gang of boys was wrestling around in front of a big plate glass window. A little newspaper boy was shoved up against it and it was shattered. All the other boys ran, but I stayed and told the manager of the store I had broken it because I knew my dad could better afford to pay for it.

CIO UNION SUED BY WAR PLANT FOR A MILLION

In one of the first cases of its kind in the Chicago area, a powerful CIO union and seven of its officials were sued for a million dollars damages yesterday in federal District court by a large war plant. The company charged the union and its officials with libel. There are also two nonunion defendants.

Plaintiff is the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company, 79 E. Adams st., engaged in making vessels for the United States navy in its shipyard at 130th st. and the Calumet river.

Union and Leaders Accused.

Defendants are local 2928 of the United Steel Workers of America, a CIO affiliate; Joseph Germano, district director; George Mischeau, international representative; Peter J. Clarke, local president; Isaac Lovett, vice president; George Fassbender, treasurer; Jack Barton, publicity director, and John Morrissey, assistant publicity director.

The nonunion defendants are Ken D. Norton and his wife, Nancy, who operate a printing service in Hammond, Ind.

The suit, filed by the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, specifically charges libel in the union's paper, The Keel, in its issue of Feb. 25.

Accuse Company of Falsehood.

The case goes back to December, 1943, and January this year, when the Pullman-Standard company published a national series of ads showing revenue and costs. One ad stated that out of every dollar received by the company less than 2 cents represented profits, and that even this profit was subject to loss by renegotiation and other causes.

The Keel, printed by the Nortons for the union, challenged the ads. The company's profits were nearer 50 million dollars in 1943 rather than a few million, the union asserted. The union article charged the ads amounted to "waste paper" during a paper shortage, and accused the company of falsifying to the public and workers in the name of patriotism.

FINDS HE CAN'T USE 2 FAMILIES FOR EXEMPTIONS

A harassed looking man walked into a currency exchange at 657 W. North av. last night and told Hugh McDougall, the owner, that he had a special problem in preparing his income tax return.

"I've a wife and two children that I'm separated from and I also have a second wife and two children that I am living with, and I want to know if I can claim exemptions for both families," he said. "I'm paying the first wife $20 a week for her two children, so I figure I'm really the head of two houses. Or for tax purposes, I hope I am."

McDougall told his client that the income tax law is a very strange piece of legislation with many odd twists and quirks, but that there is nothing in it to comfort a man with two families and that he could be head only of his second group.

"I figured I couldn't get a lucky break like that,' 'the man said, "but I wanted to be sure. This is one time six dependents would be a blessing."

Milk Price to Producers Cut Slightly in February

February deliveries of milk for home consumption will bring Chicago area milk producers $3.13 per hundredweight [46.5 quarts], or 1 cent less than the January blended price, H. H. Erdmann, acting market administrator, said yesterday. The price is 18 cents more than that paid producers for February deliveries last year. Average daily receipts for the month were 2.3 per cent more than in February last year. The Pure Milk association board of directors yesterday reelected Wilbur J. Sawyer of Gurnee as president.

OPA Suit Asks $491,557 from Poultry Company

A treble damage suit asking judgment of $491,557 was filed yesterday in federal District court against Priebe and Sons, Inc., 40 E. Hubbard st., first wholesale poultry dealer in the Chicago area to be charged with price regulation violations by the office of price administration. Paul A. H. Shults, acting area director of OPA, accused the company of overceiling sales totaling $163,852.

NEW DEFERMENT POLICIES.

A memorandum to local boards this week reminded them they must give the same consideration to forms 42-A or forms 42 submited by employers not operating under a replacement schedule as they do to similar forms from employers operating under an approved schedule and whose forms bear the state acceptance number. Illinois state memorandum No. 761 was issued Feb. 28 to local boards so they would not interpret Gen. Hershey's instructions to mean that all occupational deferments of men under 26 would or should be terminated. Gen. Hershey directed that such deferments be reconsidered but not necessarily terminated.

From other data issued for the guidance of local boards on new deferment policies it is indicated that: [1] No registrant is approved for inclusion on a renewed replacement schedule who was indicated on the previous replacement list for release in the first six months unless, in each case, there is filed with the schedule the written approval of each board concerned or the activity is included on the "general urgency list of the WPB" or the employer, because of changes in conditions of production or transportation, etc., can not secure a replacement; [2] requests to supplement a schedule to include new male employes 22 thru 37, or to extend the release time of men already on the replacement list, must be accompanied by the written approval of each board concerned, when there are less than 25 registrants concerned.

The replacement schedule plan does not take away from a local board or appeal boards the "prerogative of classification." Forms 42-A bearing a state acceptance number stamp are, however, a strong recommendation of a state director for occupational deferment in accordance with the time indicated on the form. Such forms are "new evidence" which makes it mandatory for a local board to reopen the case of a registrant ages 22 thru 37 in accordance with sect. 626.2 [b] of the regulations, if such form is received before the registrant is mailed an order to report for induction. It has been administratively determined that a local board may, on its own motion, reopen and reconsider a registrant's case. It is likewise "mandatory upon a local board to reopen and reconsider the case of a registrant ages 18 thru 21 if a form 42-A special is received by the local board before the registrant is inducted into the armed forces." To be effective, however, a form 42-A special must be accompanied by an "individual certification," executed by the employer and indorsed by the navy, the war department, or other department or agency of the federal government or equally convincing supporting evidence from the employer.

CITY HALL SHUT DURING RITES OF ALD. PIECZYNSKI

The city hall was officially closed until 1 p. m. yesterday while aldermen and city officials attended the funeral of Ald. William J. Pieczynski [10th], who died Saturday in St. Joseph, Mich.

Ald. Pieczynski's desk in the city council chambers was draped in mourning cloth, and upon it rested a vase containing two dozen roses. Mourning drapes also hung over the entrances to the city hall.

The services were held in the Immaculate Conception church at 87th st. and Commercial av. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery.

WIFE DIVORCES SOLDIER; GIVES UP 3 CHILDREN

Mrs. Julia Mitchell.

Mrs. Julia Mitchell, 27, of 1514 Otto st., Chicago Heights, obtained a divorce yesterday before Judge John A. Sbarbaro, of the Superior court, from Harry Mitchell, 28, an army private in Europe, and at the same time gave up custody of her children, Lawrence, 7; Ronald, 6, and Elizabeth, 5. She charged desertion. Thru her attorney, Eli Herman, Mrs. Mitchell said that because of work she could not properly care for the children, and that they were with her husband's mother in Papillon, Neb.

40 Tenants Say Building Lacks Heat; Agents Fined

Irving Dexter and Armin Miller, agents for a building at 3100 Ellis av., were fined $200 and costs yesterday by Judge Erwin J. Hasten in License court after 40 Negro tenants complained of lack of heat, rat infestations and unsanitary conditions. Tenants who testified included Mrs. Estelle Washington, mother of six children, and George Crawford. The agents admitted the 64 apartments yield $2,100 in rentals.

Escalator Fire in Field's Causes $2,500 Damage

Damage estimated at $2,500 was caused last night by fire that broke out in an escalator between the second and third floors of the Marshall Field & Co. store. The fire set off the store sprinkler system and water caused as much damage as the flames.

NEW "PAVING" FOR MAIN STREET OF THE HEART OF AMERICA

In the years between the decline in '29 and war-busy '40, Wabash maintenance crews took up rail on 753 miles of track and replaced it with heavy-weight steel... new "paving" for Main Street of The Heart of America. This prewar project, intended to serve a people at peace, now is in Service For Victory.

Because of these heavier rails, Wabash moves wartime travelers and troop trains with greater speed, safety and smoothness. Longer freight trains, loaded with war essentials, travel more rapidly.

After Victory, such basic Wabash improvements will help Wabash render greater service to a greater America.

Radiant Tone Marks Concert by Piano Duo

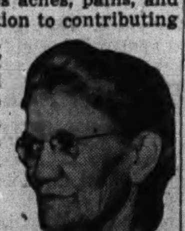
BY ALBERT GOLDBERG.

Music played on two pianos can be [a] unnecessary, [b] irritating, or [c] entertaining, stimulating, and perhaps beautiful. The recital given by Vera Gillette and Vincent Micari at Fullerton hall last night falls emphatically in the third category. In fact, you can think back over the whole of this war time season and not remember music making that surpassed it for honesty, joyfulness, and craftsmanship.

This young man and woman have had the discernment to realize that two pianos can be more than simply an expansion of one. Other teams have wrung from their instruments more of the clash and clang of brittle virtuosity, but not since the memorable and unforgotten Maier and Pattison have we heard two pianos sound with this grace and charm or flicker with so much tonal subtlety. They become in effect a new and fascinating instrument, and one upon which these gifted young musicians played with a singleness as exceptional as it was gratifying.

A mellow radiance of tone suffused their account of Bach's "Sheep May Safely Graze" and Mozart's Sonata in D major sparkled with musical wit that often bubbled over into laughter. Bax's "Poisoned Fountain," far from being lethal, was a somber yet engaging bit of chiaroscuro, relieved by Saint-Saens' Etude in chromatic thirds, a French bumble bee that Rimsky-Korsakoff caught and mounted. The Romance and Tarantelle from Rachmaninoff's Suite for two pianos, Opus 17, brought the powers of the two executants into sharper focus with the long, smooth flow of romantic melody and sonorous climaxes that never felt the edge of harshness. The program was noisily approved by the large audience which heard it.

Women in War Work



Mrs. Louise Bain.

War work cures aches, pains, and insomnia in addition to contributing toward victory, in the opinion of a 60 year old woman who thought that a lifetime as a housewife and mother was poor preparation for getting a job, doing it well, and liking it.

Mrs. Louise Bain, 1002 N. State st., a clerk typist in the inspection section, army air forces material command, 111 W. Jackson blvd., knows now she was mistaken. She has a job, does it well, and like it.

Better still, she has no more time for insomnia. She also has forgotten the other little ills that bobbed up two years ago when she was living alone in her cabin in the mountains west of Denver, Colo., and worrying about her three soldier sons. Naturally, she has a mother's deep concern for those sons, but now she also has the satisfaction of knowing she is busy in their cause—and in keeping busy also keeping well and thereby keeping herself off her sons' worry lists.

Mrs. Bain, the widow of Dr. Walter G. Bain of Springfield, had lived in Colorado since her husband's death in 1935. When the war came, all her sons soon were in service. They are Maj. Francis M. Bain, 36, now at Camp Wolters, Tex.; Lt. Col. Walter G. Bain, 34, stationed with the army air forces in Dayton, O., and Capt. Joseph Bartlett Bain, 33, whom his mother calls "my baby," overseas in Italy.

In 1917 and 1918, Mrs. Bain was a war wife. Now, as a war mother, she wants to do what she can. First there were blood donations—a pint every 10 weeks to the Red Cross. After a friend had persuaded her to come here last May, she realized that: "There are funny notions about older people. I was 60 last April, but I wanted to give my gallon of blood, so I just stayed 59 until I got that done."

Mrs. Bain found her first job in a war plant a little strenuous, but she didn't give up. She took a civil service examination last summer, surprised herself by passing it, got her present job last Aug. 9, and now has a six months' service pin. Besides her job and blood donations, this war worker who came to a strange city to find a job also puts 10 per cent of her earnings in war bonds.

Urgent might well be the notation for the appeal for volunteers being broadcast by the motor transport division of the American Women's Voluntary services. The call is for women who have held a driver's license for two years. The volunteers are needed to convoy navy vehicles.

Requirements are proof of citizenship, ages 18 to 55 inclusive, ability to pass a driver's test given by AWVS, three character references, and time to serve a minimum of one full day a week.

Applications are being taken Mondays thru Fridays at the AWVS office, 160 N. La Salle st., Andover 3380. Acting Capt. Lillian Johnson is in charge. AWVS drivers chauffeur military officers and personnel on official business. They also drive for the U. S. O. camp shows, transporting talent to hospital bases, and they serve the British consulate.

Horror Movie Has a Touch of Originality

"THE LADY AND THE MONSTER."

A Republic picture, directed by George Sherman, featuring Richard Arlen, Erich Von Stroheim, and Vera Hruba Ralston, and presented at the Woods.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Things are certainly sepulchral on Randolph st. at the moment. What with the "Lady and the Monster" disporting themselves on the Woods screen and "The Crime Doctor" and "The Vampire" demonstrating their respective brands of hair-raising activities [of which more tomorrow] at the Garrick, horror addicts are being well catered to.

A slow, deep voice, cheery as a tombstone, announces that events having to do with "The Lady and the Monster" mostly occur in a weird mansion known as "the castle" on the edge of the Arizona desert. . . . Here lives a strange scientist, who, at the time you clap eyes upon him, is obsessed with the idea that brains can be kept alive after bodies are dead. . . . He experiments with a monkey brain. . . . No soap. . . . Then the great W. R. Donovan's plane crashes near by! . . .

And now you are really in for something. . . . Because, master of intrigue that he is, the professor swipes the mighty man's brain—and it DOES live on—by hook and by crook—taking possession of the mind of the professor's handsome assistant [Mr. Arlen] and making him do strange things, which greatly disturb the prof's other assistant [Miss Hruba], who loves Mr. Arlen. . . .

First scenes convince you that here is nothing new—just one of those monkey-into-man, man-into-monkey affairs that you've been stuffed with till they come out of your ears. . . . Then, presto!—you've been fooled. . . . Somebody really had an original idea.

The idea isn't worked out very well, but it's worked on by some pretty clever players. . . . Richard Arlen is smooth, forceful, and so human that he really has you believing in him as he chases around doing the Donovan brain's bidding. . . . Miss Hruba, the Czecho-Slovakian ice skater, plays with sincerity and makes you feel that she's a somebody you'd really like to know. Von Stroheim is, as ever, "the man you love to hate."

The story was adapted from a novel by Curt Siodmak, titled "Donovan's Brain."

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 15.—Sam Goldwyn has chosen Virginia Mayo to play opposite Bob Hope in "Sylvester the Great." She's the only woman in it. Hails from St. Louis. Sam saw her when she assisted the Pansy Horse act of Billy Rose's called "Mrs. Astor's Horse." She's been here a year. She was the prettiest blonde with Danny Kaye in "Up in Arms," had a small but stand-outish role in "Jack London." Hope again will have David Butler directing, which is also a break for Miss Mayo. . . . William Dieterle directs "Double Furlough" for Dore Schary, with Ginger Rogers starring. It was Dore who took the idea from a 15 minute radio sketch and built it into a picture. Peggy Wood is heartbroken she can't be in it too. So is Producer Jack Wilson. Peggy doesn't close in "Blithe Spirit" until April 27 in Washington, D. C., "and," she says, "Jack's been too wonderful to me and all of us to leave before it finishes." She has a story about the troupe coming out, called "Actors Speak Louder Than Words." It's about their army and hospital appearances, and will appear in a weekly magazine. She'd like a writing-acting contract here. People forget what a good writer she is.

Peggy Wood.

Virginia Mayo.

Deserves Good Luck.

William K. Howard, who directed "Johnny Come Lately," will do "When the Lights Come On Again" by Milton Lazarus for P. R. C. He tells me it's a honey of a story. He's just finished writing a play with the lovely title, "In My Father's House." . . . One picture did it. "Lifeboat" put John Hodiak up there, and "Maisie Goes to Reno" waits a month for him. . . . Mrs. Bill Henry got what she wanted—a baby girl, which arrived before Bill joined the navy. . . . Lowell Gilmore, on the Metro lot, looks so like Leslie Howard people think he's a ghost. . . . Fred Steele, former middleweight boxing champion, plays a tough marine in "Marriage Is a Private Affair."

Here and There.

Moss Hart won't linger long in New York. He'll be on hand when "Winged Victory" troupe arrives here. George Cukor directs the picture. . . . Hedy Lamarr's bought rights to "Madelon." Nice choosing, too. . . . Get a giggle out of Jack Benny, who'll get $25,000 a week and $2,000 extra to advertise him from a cigaret account. Jack smokes only big black cigars. . . . Marlene Dietrich already knows some songs written for the musical version of "Rain." When asked why she was taking one particular evening gown that made her look nude, overseas, she said, "Don't you think boys should see me in something they'd like to tear off?". . . . Ginger Rogers tells me that Jack Briggs is wearing a mustache in the South Pacific.

Surprising Details.

Ran into Hope Davis. She's desolate over sudden death of Hendrik Van Loon. He practically raised her. What education she has, she owes to him. He put her in and out of schools. . . . While we were talking, along came Buster Keaton, who said, "I knew your mother very well. When we were kids, we were on the same vaudeville circuit. I was smoking big black cigars, and the Gerry society was always after me." The "Yama-Yama" dance Buster learned later. He taught the Dolly Sisters how to do it. . . . Henry Kolker, on stage and screen 50 years and all rested after a year's holiday, is back in town rarin' to go. . . . Boris Karloff opens the old Hudson theater on 44th street, New York, after its renovation come fall. . . . Jimmy Walker is in Palm Springs, the house guest of Charlie Morrison. . . . K. T. Stevens and Vic Mature are much pleased with each other.

Let's Get Hot.

Directors of our town have a gripe about way the Academy awards were handled. Let's get the thing settled once and for all. If a picture is up for a dozen awards—for everything from story and leading lady down to cutter, it's important, isn't it? Then why, in heaven's name, isn't the man who's mostly responsible for its success entitled to an award, too? That's the director. Who had more to do with "For Whom the Bell Tolls" than Sam Wood? Nobody. He wasn't mentioned. And how about Jennifer Jones in "Bernadette"? Henry King directed it. Directors should be furious. When an unknown makes an overnight hit, the one who deserves the credit is the man who directed the picture. We're a little late in recognizing that fact. Tallulah Bankhead, who's had some pretty good directors in her day, said to me, "Without Alfred Hitchcock, there would be no 'Lifeboat'." But Tallulah is only an actress—who knows.

Rips Planning of 'Amateurs' for Post-War

Post-war planning by people who "don't know the facts" was assailed last night by John Erskine, novelist and educator, who spoke at a banquet of the Clinical Conference of the Chicago Medical society in the Stevens hotel.

Mr. Erskine charged the post-war planners with attempting to impose their ideas on smaller nations, returning soldiers, and the world in general.

The planning may be well intentioned, he said, but is likely to turn the United States into the benevolent despot of the coming age, without our realization of the unintentional despotism.

Regarding grandiose schemes for the education of returning soldiers and sailors, Mr. Erskine declared: "I think that the boys, when they come home, will be perfectly able to tell us what they need and desire."

Women are reluctant to believe that cosmetics can be responsible for their skin troubles and look for some more serious cause, Dr. Edward A. Oliver, chairman of the department of dermatology of the Northwestern university medical school, said at a daytime session of the conference.

The perfumes in cold creams and other cosmetics can set up irritations that may cause certain susceptible people considerable trouble, he said, even tho the cold creams themselves are usually harmless. He added that nail polishes are responsible for many cases of skin disorder.

Even clothing that has been processed in certain ways may, when the wearer is allergic to the particular processing substance, result in skin eruptions, he explained.

Emphasizing that science still has not come to any final conclusions about the cause of many skin troubles, Dr. Oliver said that psychic tendencies, metabolic tendencies, and even heredity may be factors.

The obese child often has no serious thyroid or pituitary disturbances even tho a quick diagnosis may point to one of these as the cause of his condition, said Dr. I. P. Bronstein, associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Illinois college of medicine.

He explained that in many cases control of the child's diet, coupled with restriction on sweet and carbonated drinks and the administration of vitamins when needed, effects an improvement. This is especially true, he said, in cases in which the child is intelligent enough to coöperate fully with the physician.

Service Men Take Spotlight in Current News of Society

BY JUDITH CASS.

SINCE SUNDAY, when a wire arrived from the war department, Mrs. William Dean Bangs' Geneva neighbors have been rejoicing with her that her younger son, Lt. Robert Bangs, formerly listed as missing, has been reported a prisoner of war in a German camp. News that the young bomber pilot is safe was relayed thru the International Red Cross.

Next week his sister, Sally, will be home for a rest after directing several farms in New Hope, Pa. She now is in Washington, D. C., visiting her sister, Lt. [j. g.] Katherine Bangs Fowler of the WAVES. Their mother also has a war job, as director of the day nursery maintained for children of a manufacturing company's employes in the Geneva Country Day school.

Winter Park, Fla., is the current home of Mrs. Raymond Otis Mitchell and her children, who went south to join Lt. Mitchell when the navy sent him there after a year or so of active sea duty.

Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. Gerald Smith, and Mr. Smith, who have been Wayne neighbors of the Mitchells, are in New York, where Mr. Smith expects to join some branch of the service soon. With them are their little daughter and the baby son, Ralph, whom they adopted from the Cradle some time ago. Another Cradle baby now at home in Wayne is 9 month old Peter Kibbee, who is installed in the nursery of the Chandler Kibbees' home. Mr. Kibbee recently entered the navy and after completing his boot training at Great Lakes is stationed there for the time being.

The Benjamin Crawfords now are in Colorado Springs, Colo., after having spent several months in Salt Lake City. Despite Mr. Crawford's new rank of corporal in the army air forces, the Crawfords miss hospitable Salt Lake City, where the townspeople make every effort to welcome service men and make them feel at home. Living quarters are hard to find in Colorado Springs, from all accounts, and after having spent some time in the home of cousins, who were out of town, the Crawfords now are occupying what once was the billiard room of a great mansion that has been turned over to army personnel.

Wedding News.

Mrs. Theodore W. Lamb's Chicago friends will be delighted to hear of her marriage to Lt. William Gillette of the navy Sunday in Washington, D. C. The former Deborah Bent and Lt. Gillette have known each other for some time, as he was best man when she and the late Mr. Lamb were married. Mr. Lamb, an architect, lost his life last year in the crash of the Yankee Clipper in Lisbon, en route to London to inspect buildings which had been bombed.

The bride, who formerly lived in Wayne, is a daughter of Mrs. George H. Bent of Pasadena, Cal., and a niece of Col. Robert A. Gardner, Henry Gardner, Mrs. William France Anderson, and Mrs. William B. Brown. Lt. and Mrs. Gillette and her little girls, Deborah and Joan, will live in New York after he completes his assignment in Washington.

By telegrams from New York the Francis E. Manierres of Lake Forest learned of the marriage of their daughter, Jere, to Sgt. Thomas Allan of the royal Canadian air force on Feb. 28 in Baltimore, Md. The wedding took place suddenly when Sgt. Allan, son of the Thomas Allans of Lake Forest, got leave from his post in New Brunswick, Canada. He and his young bride, who was on this year's debut list, altho she declined to have a party, have known each other since childhood. Young Mrs. Allan will continue with her studies at the Finch school in New York, while Sgt. Allan, who has applied for a transfer to the American air forces, is away on duty.

A Colorful Hat and Waistcoat Team Up Well

BY REA SEEGER.

Hats featured in a new spring collection are unusual creations for women who have tired of flowered toppers. There are smart hats, made of cotton, that have fresh eye appeal. These are teamed with waistcoats of the same material—usually plaid gingham.

You'll like the small hat with the gay green cocarde reminiscent of the shoulder decoration of a Scotch tartan, complete with the flashing jeweled pin in the center. The plaid is an authentic pattern in bright red, green, and yellow. The waistcoat is, of course, sleeveless and snugly fitted to the body. This team is an ideal contrast for a navy blue, black, white, or high colored suit. Brimmed sailors and other models in small hats are covered or made of multi-colored cotton plaids and are matched to waistcoats of various styles.

New straw hats are here, way ahead of the sunshine season. Their colors are gay and spirit-lifting. Red, green, yellow, gold, pastels, and all kinds of sunburnt shades provide a grand collection for the crowds of "new hat" shoppers.

White Panamas, natural straws, and some trick mixtures in two and even three contrast colors are decorative creations. Some are woven in small checks, others in alternate multi-colored stripes, and some like fancy basket patterns. All are bright and new, flexible enough to have been bent and curved in flattering frames for the face or headline. The demure little cloché, outline hats are the most popular, whether of fabric, straw, or combinations of both.

GREETING CARDS

Thru the Looking Glass

We were reminded the other day of the necessity of reading the directions that accompany beauty products. One of our co-workers had bought a cosmetic and complained that she couldn't use it to any good effect. She was about to give it up as a loss and toss the stuff out but thought she would ask our opinion first. And when we in turn asked if she had read and followed the directions the manufacturer had enclosed with his product she admitted that she hadn't. So we hunted up the instructions and, when the product was applied as suggested, it gave the results claimed for it. Needless to say our friend was properly embarrassed at her false accusations and was quick to admit she had learned a lesson.

It's foolhardy to spend money for anything, especially in the beauty line, and then not bother to use the product as the manufacturer advises. And often it can be harmful, as with deodorants and antiperspirants which must be used strictly as directed. With almost any product, the manufacturer has spent time and money formulating, testing, and perfecting, and experiments have been made to determine how it may be used to best advantage and with good results. It's hardly fair, then, for his customer to ignore the directions he encloses in the package and use it as she thinks proper. She has no right to complain about its ineffectiveness or condemn it when, improperly used, it doesn't come up to the manufacturer's claims. Give him the break of using his product as he advises and do yourself the favor of getting the most out of your money. LOUISE DOOLEY.

D. A. R. Seeks to Limit Term of President

BY IRENE STEYSKAL.

Delegates representing more than 7,500 members of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Illinois, meeting in the Drake hotel yesterday for the society's 48th state conference, demanded an amendment to the federal Constitution limiting the office of President to two terms or one 6 year term. The vote confirmed the society's position stated in a similar resolution at the 47th conference last year. It was put in the form of a petition to Illinois representatives in congress to work for passage of such a constitutional amendment.

The conference also expressed opposition "to government control of technical research and patentable inventions," naming specifically the Kilgore bill [S702], and to the Wagner bill [S1161] for "the socialization of medicine, doctors' fees, and hospital care for the entire nation under direct control of the surgeon general." Prefacing this resolution was a statement of D. A. R. policy that "has consistently opposed burocracy and centralized government which would abridge the rights of the several states and infringe upon constitutional freedom of the people."

Support of the Bolton bill, which would give full commissioned rank, rather than relative rank, to the army nurse corps, was voted, and the board was instructed to send copies of the resolution to the military affairs committee of the house of representatives and to the resolutions committee of the National D. A. R.

Mrs. Gertrude S. H. Galloway of Hubbard Woods, Red Cross chairman of the state society, reported that a total of 460,901 hours had been given to Red Cross work by Illinois D. A. R. members since Pearl Harbor. Reporting for her committee on national defense, Mrs. John F. Dille of Evanston disclosed that gifts totaling $12,830 had been given by members in this state toward the blood plasma equipment fund, which is the principal war project of the society. The Chicago chapter's gift was $1,634. War bond and stamp purchases by members and their families since last March exceeded $2,400,000.

The conference, over which Mrs. J. DeForest Richards is presiding, will continue thru today, ending tonight with the annual state dinner for members and guests. Memorial services for Daughters who died within the year were conducted yesterday by Mrs. George F. Dasher, state chaplain of the society.

June Nagle, Momence high school girl, received the annual Good Citizenship award, a $100 war bond, at a session last night. Mrs. Richards drew Miss Nagle's name from among 549 submitted by high schools thruout the state for D. A. R. good citizenship recognition.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Office of the Dean.

On the wall of the office of the dean of women of the Commonwealth Edison company hangs a Schneider etching. It depicts La Salle st. looking toward the old Board of Trade building, where Helen Norris was first introduced to the world of business. Not introduced, perhaps, in the usual white collar way, because, when she was a little girl her father was a member of the Board of Trade and, on those exciting occasions when there was a parade, the Norris children were especially fortunate. They could watch it from the balcony of the building as the first notes of the band came to their eager ears. Today, as she works at her desk, Miss Norris faces the etching of La Salle st. with the old Board of Trade building in the distance.

Anniversary.

It's her anniversary this week, marking 30 significant years of successful personnel work. Dean of women for the Commonwealth Edison company these three decades, she was one of the first important women counselors in Chicago—long before the present-day public became aware of the value of having an intelligent, discerning personnel woman put her mind to the problems of women workers.

She began as company librarian, a responsibility which brought her into direct touch with the secretaries of the officials of the company who wanted, on a moment's notice, a scientific book or treatise. As part of her job she dealt with widely different personalities and drew from them her own pattern of an ideal employe—an ideal which thru the years she has held faithfully before the eyes of the young women who have come to sit in her office and talk quietly across a desk.

Many employees who have left to be married remain Miss Norris' good friends. She likes to speak of one in particular who shone as an example of efficiency during business hours and during social hours was a gracious, relaxed woman.

"She kept her business and social life so discreetly separate," Miss Norris commented. "I often speak of her to my girls."

A Rounded Career.

Varied interests round out Miss Norris' career. She is now vice-president of the University of Chicago Alumni association and recently received the University of Chicago citation awarded to distinguished graduates. Her willingness to assume responsibility in her leisure hours has crowded her life with honors. As for enthusiasms, she confiides they are two grandnieces and a small grand-nephew, a Scottie named Angue, a cottage at Walloon lake where the family vacations, photography [movies and stills], and travel—she has been to Europe several times.

She admits having all manner of time-honored diversions, such as crocheting, knitting, and patchwork quilts "when every one else was doing the same thing," but to learn of her chief hobby you must go to her friends. She'd never mention it—not in a thousand interviews. It isn't natural to her, unassuming as she is, to speak of the young people she has helped or the students who owe her lasting gratitude. But her friends will tell you Helen Norris' hobby. It's people.

'Good Night, Sweet Prince' . . . By Gene Fowler

(Copyright: 1943-'44; By Gene Fowler; Published by Arrangement with Viking Press, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS: John Barrymore, born at Philadelphia Feb. 14, 1882, promptly was nicknamed "Greengoose" because he looked "just like the pretty lad in the story book." As a schoolboy, however, he was unprepossessing. His father, Maurice, and his mother, Georgianna Drew Barrymore, were both famous stage personalities. The grandmother, Louisa Lane Drew [Mum Mum to the children], was a distinguished actress, and her sons—Sidney [Uncle Googan] and John—were increasingly successful. John and the other Barrymore children were steeped in theatrical atmosphere from the beginning. But the mother's death and the father's remarriage shook the family. John went to live with his Uncle Jack. Lionel began his stage career.

INSTALMENT X.

THE RED APPLE.

Great swirls of snow spread a robe of innocence over the city. It had snowed all day, and at theater hour was still snowing.

Broadway seemed a lane devised by the Brothers Grimm. The buildings assumed strange silhouettes with storm-made battlements of medieval mood. And along the road beneath these spellbound castles the coaches and cable cars moved in the veiled reflections of street lamps and theater lights like a slow procession of wedding cakes. The soft flakes of snow persisted, floating down from a windless, low sky like the little ghosts of unanswered love letters. Sorrow, poverty, viciousness, suddenly had gone from this world of white, this happy Broadway world on the night of Jan. 25, 1894.

A Salvation Army worker with tambourine stood beside the bill frame of the Empire theater upon which one could read beneath a festoon of snow that Mrs. John Drew and an all-star cast were appearing again in Sheridan's "The Rivals." On this night Ethel Barrymore, not yet 15, was making her New York debut as Julia.

Inside the theater, on the makeup shelf in the dressing room that Ethel shared with two women players of minor roles, there was to be seen a large red apple.

The red apple was a traditional gift. When John Drew was 11—that would have been in 1864—and in attendance at a boarding school at Andalusia, Pa., his schoolmaster was in the habit of saying to the class: "If you learn your lesson well, you shall have a nice red apple."

After he had become a star, Drew began to send red apples to his relatives on the first nights of their respective bows as actors, or afterward whenever one of them appeared in a new play. The red apple became a signal of inter-family regard and a token of good luck as well.

It was not until 1896 that Ethel soared high by means of both talent and beauty as Priscilla, the country maid in "Rosemary." Later that same year Uncle Jack, Ethel, and Grandmother Drew had a reunion on the road when the "Rosemary" company reached Chicago. Mum Mum was closing an engagement at another Chicago playhouse in an all-star resumption of "The Rivals." Joseph Jefferson, Nat Goodwin, Julia Marlowe, William H. Crane, Francis Wilson, and other luminaries were in this case.

It is not generally known, but Maurice Barrymore created the part of Lewis Dumont in "Secret Service" some months before his friend, William Gillette, presented it at the Garrick theater in New York in October, 1896.

Maurice Barrymore and Gillette worked on the lines of "Secret Service" at The Lambs during the hot months that found most actors involuntarily off duty, many of them deplorably so. A group of them one day were unveiling a painting in the main hall, a large daub called "Summer."

Gillette and Barrymore were asked for suggestions as to how this gilt framed atrocity might be refused by the club without singeing the feathers of the donor.

"The painter should be arrested," Gillette said.

"Just a moment, gentlemen," said Barrymore, eyeing his seasonally unemployed colleagues. "I think the picture properly belongs where it is, in an actors' club, a heartening reminder to us all that summer is not as bad as it is painted."

* * *

John Barrymore spent the summer of his 15th year with his grandmother. They occupied a third-floor room and alcove at the old Bevan House at Larchmont, N. Y. The boy seldom left Mum Mum alone, for the 77 year old actress now was afflicted with dropsy, her first devastating illness.

"I saw you come into this world," she said to her grandson, "and now you are seeing me out of it. A fair exchange."

Word reached Larchmont one day that Ethel had become the most talked of young beauty in England. She had been instantly accepted overseas, professionally and socially.

"What a long way our profession has come," Mum Mum told Jack. "I can remember well when we players were held in disdain by society; quarantined, except for the patronage of an occasional playboy king."

Lionel came up to Larchmont to ask his grandmother's advice as to his career. He had undertaken several small roles, but still had no stomach for the stage. Like Jack, he wanted to paint something more objective than his own face.

Lionel was saddened to find his grandmother in constant pain. She made light of this ill health, but her doctor confided that Mrs. Drew could not live much longer.

After the physician had left the veranda, Mrs. Drew said to Lionel, "Whatever it was that the learned calomel merchant has been telling you, pay no attention. I shall appear for rehearsals next season as has been my custom for 72 years."

Lionel left for New York City on the late afternoon train. Mrs. Drew looked out at Long Island Sound for a long time. Her large eyes seemed occupied with a dream. Jack placed an arm about her. "Isn't it time for you to go upstairs, Mum Mum?"

Her thoughts must have been far away as she said, "There are shadows on the water. And the sky is overcast. Perhaps we shall have a thundersquall.

Jack thought the sky unusually clear at approaching sundown, but, with the politeness that obtained in his family, did not contradict the musing actress.

They retired to their quarters. Jack brought basins of warm water, as was his nightly custom, to bathe his grandmother's swollen ankles and feet. Then he helped her into her bed. He kissed her good night, and sat beside her. She reached out to stroke his face. Then her expressive little hand was returned to the coverlet.

And she fell asleep, never to awaken.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1944: By Ely Culbertson.]

As a general rule, a trump suit divided 4-4 in the partnership hands is more effective than a longer suit divided 5-4 or even 6-4. There are notable exceptions, however. For example:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ J 10 8 6 2
♥ A 10 5 4
♦ Q 6 4 2

WEST
♠ 7
♥ Q 8
♦ J 10 9 7
♣ K 8 7 6 5 3

EAST
♠ 4
♥ K 9 7
♦ K 8 5 3
♣ J 10 9 4 2

SOUTH
♠ A K Q 9 5 3
♦ A
♣ A Q

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
6 hearts	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

North's two heart response was intended as an "in-between" bid. North felt that he was too strong for a raise to two spades or four spades, and not quite strong enough in top cards for the double raise to three spades. Even after South's tremendous leap to six hearts, however, North felt that the hands would probably play better at a spade contract—and he was right.

West opened the diamond jack. Low cards were played from dummy and East, and South won with the blank ace. He cashed the club ace, discarding a heart from dummy, then ruffed the club queen. He ruffed a diamond high, led a spade to the eight, and ruffed another diamond. He led a spade to the ten, ruffed away the queen of diamonds, then cashed the heart ace and led a second heart.

As may be seen, this sequence of plays stopped the defenders dead in their tracks. East could not afford to put up the heart king—he would have dropped his partner's queen—and when West won with the queen he had to return a club. Declarer promptly threw off dummy's last heart while he ruffed in his own hand, and then could claim the balance.

At a heart contract, North would have had to make a sheer guess in the heart suit itself to hold his losses to one trick.

St. Patrick's day provides the occasion for a traditional bit of green in the menu and fortunately the emerald color can predominate at the table without sacrificing appetite appeal. Vegetables such as spinach, green peppers, broccoli, string beans, peas, lettuce, and watercress seem made to order for March 17 and with the aid of a little artificial coloring and, perhaps, a shamrock cutter, any number of appropriate "Irish" dishes can be prepared.

There's no time like tomorrow to try the following recipes:

Cream of Spinach Soup.

[Serves six.]

1 pound spinach
4 cups chicken stock or bouillon
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups hot milk
Diced pimiento for garnish
Dash of nutmeg

Wash spinach thoroly in several waters. Place in kettle and cook until tender in only the water which clings to the leaves. Rub cooked spinach thru sieve and combine with spinach water and chicken stock. Melt fat, blend in flour, and salt and pepper; add milk gradually and cook until slightly thickened smooth. Add spinach mixture and heat to boiling. Serve hot garnished with diced pimiento. Add a dash of nutmeg if desired.

Dublin Celery.

12 stuffed olives, minced
1 teaspoon onion juice
1 package cream cheese
Mayonnaise to moisten
Salt
Green vegetable coloring
Celery stalks
Minced parsley

Combine olives, onion juice, cream cheese, and enough mayonnaise to make a smooth paste. Season to taste with salt. Tint mixture a light green with vegetable coloring. Fill cavities of celery stalks with mixture and garnish with minced parsley.

Molded Emerald Salad.

[Serves six.]

1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup fresh grapefruit, cut in cubes
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup diced avocado
Green vegetable coloring

Bring sugar and water to a boil, drain grapefruit, and add enough water to juice to make a half cup. Soften gelatin in grapefruit juice. Add to hot sirup and stir until dissolved. Add green coloring to tint delicately. Add salt and lemon juice. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in grapefruit and avocado and turn into shallow pan. When firm, cut into squares or cut with shamrock cutter and unmold on lettuce or other greens.

Shamrock Chicken Pie.

[Serves six.]

2 cups diced cooked chicken
1½ cups cooked or canned peas
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons margarine
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
¼ cup shortening
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅝ to ¾ cup milk

Combine diced chicken and peas. Make white sauce using the 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons margarine, and 2 cups milk. Season with salt and pepper. Add chicken and peas and turn into greased casserole. Make biscuit dough by cutting shortening into flour which has been sifted with baking powder and salt. Stir in milk to make soft dough. Roll to ¼ inch in thickness and cut in shamrock shapes. Top casserole with biscuits and bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes.

TURN IN WASTE FATS FOR POINTS AND PENNIES!

Faulty Training Leads Child to Be Destructive

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

A recent article, you may remember, began with a story about an 8 year old boy who, with his brother, was occasionally really destructive, and who in this particular instance marked all over his mother's newly painted bathroom walls with her lipstick.

This family, as we described them, and this boy represent one group of cases. But the subject of destructiveness in children has many angles. Some I see with my own eyes. Others I have brought to my attention by parents who write or talk to me.

Take, as one example, the child whose visit [even accompanied by mother] is an event anticipated with dread by the hostess. The little boy or girl in question handles everything in sight. Something is almost sure to be broken. Either mother spends the visit helplessly saying "Don't," or she says nothing. And let this child enter your house without mother, and some precious object will be broken before you can turn around.

If you happen to have had the experience of being a hostess who anticipates with dread the descent upon her household of a friend and her child, your interpretation of the behavior may quite logically be, "He's like that at home or he wouldn't be so when he's out."

Oddly enough, this is not by any means always so. While a child who is destructive and disorderly in his own home, may be so in others', it frequently happens that the child who is eternally "sat upon" in an ever immaculate and orderly house is the one who cuts loose in some one else's.

But, to make a generalization: Destructiveness in children is due to lack of wise, liberal training at home. And surely, one phase of this training is providing outlet for the great curiosity and energy possessed by every normal child.

Sally Seeking Yarn for Use by Disabled

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Mrs. T., who lives in a northern suburb, has requested our assistance in locating yarns of all colors and quality. She spends a great deal of her time teaching disabled persons the art of weaving but is handicaped by a shortage of material. She is able to use and will be grateful for yarns of any kind; even short scraps can be utilized. Her name and address will be provided to any interested reader who has material on hand.

Mrs. J. has been an invalid for the past several years. She has no relatives or friends able to assist her. Altho she receives a small old age pension, it is barely sufficient to pay the charges of the nursing home in which she lives. It is impossible for her to buy small comforts which all invalids need, and she would be grateful for a bathrobe, nightgowns, a sweater, or similar items in size 42. Because she is unable to leave the home, it would be necessary for interested readers to mail any contributions.

A social service agency has appealed to us in the hope that by some chance a pair of walking boots [appliances for the crippled] could be located for an elderly man who has suffered the loss of both legs. Due to his advanced age and physical condition, he has been unable to support himself for several years, and while an agency is paying for his maintenance in a home, it would be impossible to obtain the needed appliances for him from that source.

SHARE AND PLAY SQUARE by using NO-POINT, LOW-POINT FOODS
Every mother and father in this grand country of ours wants our gallant soldiers in the battle area to have tasty, nourishing food available when they come out of their fox holes. That's why all loyal Americans are more than willing to do their part in the current campaign of the Food Fights for Freedom program. That's why we all must Share and Play Square with our food.
So that we may share with our boys, we are all asked to buy chiefly No-Point Low-Point foods. By using these foods which are most plentiful, we use fewer of the scarcer foods, many of which are needed by the boys in service who are doing such a grand job protecting our homes and families from the horrors of war. Can we do less?
Featuring NO-POINT LOW-POINT FOODS
Look for this Sign in the Store Window where You Shop
Foods which are plentiful enough to fall in the No-Point Low-Point classification will vary in different sections of the country from month to month. Among foods which are most plentiful the country over right now are potatoes, cabbage, eggs, oranges, grapefruit, canned carrots, spinach, green and wax beans, grapefruit juice, frozen vegetables except corn, peas and lima beans, citrus marmalade, peanut butter, dried fruits, cereals, flour and flour products
Grocery stores which are cooperating with this national program have banners in their stores listing the foods which are most plentiful. Keep your eye on these printed banners inside the stores and also on the blank banners on which the grocer will feature other specials for the day. They should give you valuable suggestions for good buys because the foods which are most plentiful are usually most economical.

You Help Yourself by Helping Others
So you help yourself when you cooperate with this nation-wide food program. You can help again by putting the savings you make in extra war savings stamps to help bring every mother's son home from war that much sooner.
Next week, I will give you several recipes for delicious dishes using No-Point Low-Point foods. I've really enjoyed using these plentiful foods, because they're surprisingly good when you give their preparation a little thought.
Loyally yours,

8 CAPTAINS BEG COURT TO ANNUL ALLMAN'S ORDER

Ask Reinstatement; New Trial Plan Spurned.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Eight police captains yesterday pictured themselves as victims of a "dictatorial action" of Commissioner Allman. The eight captains, who have been under suspension from duty since last October, asked the Superior court "to protect them against the injustice" of Commissioner Allman and the three members of the city civil service commission.

The mandamus petitions were assigned to Judge John C. Lewe, who set a hearing for March 22.

The eight asked the court for an order for immediate reinstatement to their jobs as district police commanders, with back pay for the time they have been idle. It then became known, too, that they are preparing their answer to the request last Monday by the civil service commission that seven of them submit themselves to a new form of trial procedure. Their answer will be a sharp and emphatic "No!"

Written Answers Proposed.

The commission had suggested that hearings and witnesses be dispensed with and that the captains write their answers to charges against them.

Some of the attorneys for the captains pointed out yesterday that the police officials were summarily suspended last fall while Commissioner Allman was having trouble with the October and November grand juries. The grand jurors found protected gambling to be rampant in Chicago and they had Allman before them several times.

The captains and their lawyers said it was officially announced at that time that Allman passed the blame back to his subordinates and to show the grand jury he meant what he said he ordered the suspension of nine district commanders, one of whom, Capt. Frank Malone of the Chicago Lawn station, was subsequently indicted.

Orders Money Returned.

Judge Rudolph Desort, in the Criminal court, yesterday ordered the return of $12,156.65 seized by state's attorney's police last Oct. 7 in a raid on the Rock Gardens, notorious gambling house at 4730 Cermak rd., Cicero. The court held that the raid was illegal and therefore the evidence was suppressed—including the money—but the persons indicted on a conspiracy charge are held for trial anyway.

A jury of seven women and five men was selected to hear the evidence and the trial will start this morning. Among the defendants are Sgt. David Berkson and Policeman Chester Wiktorski of the county highway police department.

100,000 WORKERS OPEN 12 MILLION RED CROSS DRIVE

Traffic was interrupted 10 minutes at State and Madison sts. yesterday noon as Mayor Kelly and Red Cross campaign leaders took part in a ceremony opening a house to house canvass for funds in Cook, Du Page, and the southern half of Lake county. The campaign goal for the area is 12 million dollars, to be raised by 100,000 workers by March 31.

The program was informal. Offering best wishes, along with Mayor Kelly, were Martin H. Kennelly, general campaign chairman for the Chicago Red Cross chapter; James B. Forgan, head of the Chicago chapter, and Rear Adm. John Downes, retired, working in the drive.

"Our aim is to contact every adult and tell him the story of the important work of the Red Cross," Kennelly said. "We are asked to contribute 40 per cent more this year than last. To fail in the drive is to fail our fighting men."

Mrs. W. McCormick Blair, chairman of the women's special gifts division, predicted on the basis of early results yesterday that her division would contribute 50 per cent more than last year.

Clark G. Taylor of the Junior Association of Commerce yesterday presented in behalf of the association 10 table looms to the army's Gardiner general hospital. Hospital spokesmen said the looms are popular among recuperating service men who quickly learn to operate them under tutelage of Red Cross instructors. Bath mats, table cloths, and other items not more than 16 inches wide, are woven on the looms, which are an important item in the hospital's recreational therapy program, it was said.

ARMY AND NAVY COLLEGE TESTS GIVEN TO THRONG

Several thousand Chicago and Cook county high school boys who will be less than 17¾ years old next July 1 took examinations yesterday to qualify for army and navy college training programs.

Those who passed the examination will have an opportunity to study applied science, chemistry, biology, medicine, dentistry, physics, and mathematics.

On becoming 18, they will be placed on active duty for basic military training. Some then will be returned to school; others will go to army jobs.

Youths chosen for army training will get free tuition, room, and board, but no pay until called to active duty. Those selected for navy service will draw $50 a month in addition to the free tuition, board, and room.

CLARK ASSAILS ASSESSMENT OF STATE UTILITIES

County Assessor John S. Clark charged yesterday that the state department of revenue, in setting a new basis for taxing railroad properties and capital stock of utilities, laid a new burden of $2,377,000 on the backs of all the other taxpayers in Chicago.

The assessor referred to the revenue department's decision, announced Tuesday, to assess the railroads and utilities at 54 per cent of true value. Last year the figure was 31 per cent. Clark said the fair and proper percentage would be 70.5.

Assessment Bases Vary.

The dispute goes back to Clark's order, issued last October, to assess Cook county property at 100 per cent of its value, instead of 37 per cent. Under state law, the department of revenue makes its assessments at the average at which the 102 counties assess property. This is necessary because county assessments vary, ranging this year from 18 per cent of true value in one county to 100 per cent in Cook county.

Clark said an evaluation factor of 70.5 per cent for the railroads, as against 100 per cent for other taxpayers, would about equal the former ratio of 31 to 37 per cent. With the factor set at 54 per cent, the smaller tax yield from the railroads will have to be made up by other taxpayers, he explained.

The assessor charged the department was playing favorites with the railroads and utilities, and also was trying to embarrass him in retaliation for his having set assessments at 100 per cent.

Past Tax Benefits Cited.

"The manual of the state tax commission recommends 100 per cent assessments as the only equitable way to fix taxes," he added. "Railroads and public utilities have benefited by the use of other factors to the amount of $8,256,500 during the years 1938-'42 in the city of Chicago alone."

Clark said the revenue department reached its figure of 54 per cent by reducing the valuation of Cook county rail and utility properties by 1 billion dollars, thus forcing down the weighted average for the state.

Meanwhile R. C. Beckett, attorney for the Illinois Central system, said it was unlikely the railroads would seek a rehearing of a Supreme court decision, handed down in Springfield Tuesday, which empowered the revenue department to issue revised railroad assessments. Beckett said this was merely his own opinion.

A Century of Shelter from Financial Storms

ON March 16, one hundred years ago, the State Mutual Life Assurance Company received its charter from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

In 1844, life insurance was new in this country. A handful of pioneers residing in what was then the little New England town of Worcester, seeking the benefits of life insurance for themselves and their neighbors, founded the State Mutual Life Assurance Company. From this humble beginning a century ago, State Mutual has grown to a national institution with offices from coast to coast and policyholders all over the world.

The story of State Mutual is the story of life insurance in America. Weathering a hundred years of storms . . . wars, panics, epidemics, depressions . . . today State Mutual is one of the soundest life companies in America. Strong with the experience of a hundred successful years, it enters its second century prepared to meet the challenge of the years ahead.

WHITE SOX LEAVE TONIGHT FOR TRAINING CAMP

DYKES REACHES CHICAGO AFTER FLOOD TROUBLE

Manager Confers with Grabiner.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

James J. Dykes, who fancied himself a refugee from the California floods until he got into high water near Joliet yesterday morning eventually waded thru to Chicago yesterday afternoon, ready and eager to get started on his 11th season as manager of the Chicago White Sox. Jim, his first assistant, Muddy Ruel, and a carload of ballplayers will set out tonight for the Sox training camp at French Lick-West Baden, Ind.

Dykes, who grumbles much but never sobs, arrived in Chicago over a different railroad than that which had carried him from California as far as Joliet, the detour being necessitated by flood waters some 40 miles west of Chicago. He went directly to Comiskey park for a cheerful huddle with Vice President Harry Grabiner, who has been busy these last two weeks signing ballplayers.

No Flood in Indiana.

Dykes got here somewhat allergic to floods. He has seen plenty in California but had put that pretty much out of mind until he splashed at Joliet. That reminded him of the floods which were raging in French Lick when he and his team arrived there a year ago. So the first order of business yesterday was to call French Lick. The report from there was that Lost River, which kept the Sox off their practice field all last spring, is innocently trickling in its normal channel. Jim also was informed that the thermometer in French Lick reached 74 Tuesday and gave signs of rising that high yesterday.

The skipper, fortified by the good weather news from the Hoosier spa, announced the work schedule. The boys will be on the trails, paced by Coach Mule Haas, bellwether of the sylvan paths, within an hour after they finish their breakfasts tomorrow morning.

Steady Workout Diet.

Jim said he would work the boys thru one drill tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, and if their muscles held up well would go to two workouts per day Monday.

"Most of the early exercise will be leg work," said Dykes. "There will be some throwing each day, however, for we have to have the boys in good enough shape to play the Detroit Tigers in Evansville a week from Saturday and Sunday. We weren't in shape for our first exhibition games last year—we're going to try to do better this time."

Last evening it also became known that Pitched Red Lynn, who won 21 and lost 8 for Los Angeles last season, would not take a chance by leaving his war plant job.

Figures Tax Wilson.

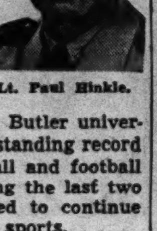
Fourteen players have been booked for the train which will leave the Dearborn station at 9:15 o'clock tonight. As many more whose contracts have been received, have been ordered to report direct to camp from their winter bases. These are the members of the Chicago party:

Catchers Vince Castino and Tom Turner, Infielders Floyd Rightenberg, LeRoy Schalk, and Don Yohe, Outfielders John Dickshot and Hal Qualman, and Pitchers Tony Annoreno, Charles Graumann, Orval Grove, Don Hanski, Thornton Lee, Bob Mistele, and Al Wittmer.

Manager Jim Wilson of the Cubs spent the day making out his income tax. Jim is a pretty handy man with figures but had to scream for help from Cub accounting wizards yesterday. Only news he received during the day, was that Pitcher Walter Signer, who finished last season with the Cubs after winning 16 and losing seven with Nashville, has asked to be placed on the voluntary retired list. He has been working in a war plant in Brooklyn.

HINKLE NAMED ATHLETIC CHIEF AT GREAT LAKES

Lt. Paul [Tony] Hinkle, basketball and football coach at Great Lakes, yesterday was named the naval station's athletic officer, succeeding Lt. Comdr. J. Russell Cook.



Lt. Paul Hinkle.

Cook reports at the naval electrical school in St. Louis, Mo., tomorrow preparatory to assuming command of the school March 24. Hinkle, former director of athletics at Butler university, compiled an outstanding record as coach in basketball and football at Great Lakes during the last two years and is expected to continue in charge of the two sports.

Indiana Bound

Herold (Muddy) Ruel, Dykes' chief assistant, also will be among those present when the Indiana bound train departs.

HAWKS TO PLAY CANADIENS; NEED ONE MORE POINT

MONTREAL, Que., March 15 [Special].—Chicago's Blackhawks, who need only one point in the National Hockey league standings to clinch a berth in the Stanley cup playoffs, expect little coöperation from Montreal's Canadiens tomorrow night in their hopes of gaining that point.

Montreal, altho its position is assured in the standings—since it is at the top, it can't go any higher, and it has rolled up such a victory margin it can't fall out of first place—is becoming record conscious as the season nears its final puck. The Canadiens haven't lost any of their 23 home games and they have a chance of setting an all-time record of 25 home games without a loss by beating the Hawks tomorrow and winding up the season Saturday against the New York Rangers.

Seek Point Record.

The Canadiens have another record in mind, too. Right now they have amassed 77 points, which ties the all-time record set by the 1929-'30 Boston team. There is little doubt but that Montreal will have this matter in mind, too, in their final pair of games.

Reviewing the rough and tumble fights in which the Hawks and the Detroit Red Wings have engaged, it would be hard to imagine Chicago hoping for a Detroit victory under any circumstance. However, the Hawks would not be angry should the Red Wings defeat Boston tomorrow night in Detroit and thus let Chicago slide into a playoff berth. As matters now stand all the Hawks have to do is to win or even tie a game. Should Boston lose Chicago would automatically enter the playoffs.

Following tomorrow night's game the Hawks will leave for Detroit, where on Saturday night they play the Red Wings. Then the two teams will depart for Chicago to close the regular season in the Stadium Sunday night.

Haven't Beaten Canadiens.

Tomorrow night marks the 10th game between the Hawks and the Canadiens this season, during which time Montreal hasn't lost to Chicago. In games at Montreal the Canadiens have won, 5 to 1, 6 to 2, 5 to 1, 6 to 1; at Chicago Montreal defeated the Hawks 5 to 3, 4 to 0, and 3 to 2, and two games were tied, 1 to 1 and 2 to 2.

YANK CATCHER BILL DICKEY IS TAKEN BY NAVY

Little Rock, Ark., March 15 (AP).—Bill Dickey, veteran New York Yankee catcher, passed his physical examination at the Little Rock induction center today and was assigned to the navy.

Dickey was planning to start his 16th season with the Yankees when his number was called. He will be 37 on June 6. He is married and has one child.

WEBER QUINTET WINS CATHOLIC JUNIOR HONORS

Defeats Joliet in Finals, 50 to 42.

Weber High school won the Catholic league junior basketball championship by defeating the south section champions, Catholic High school of Joliet, 50 to 42, in the Lane Tech gymnasium last night.

The victory qualified Weber to meet Parker High school of the City league in Mayor Kelly's second annual all-city championship benefit double header in Chicago Stadium on April 8. The second game features Mount Carmel, defending senior champions, against South Shore of the City league.

The turning point in the game came at the end of the third quarter when Joliet tied the score at 32 to 32 after trailing from the start. Paul Hudak and Bill Rogers, Catholic's leading scorers, completed a rally to bring Joliet from a 25 to 19 deficit at half time to tie the score.

Koziol and Pokoj Score.

Hudak's basket made the score 32 to 28, after which Rogers added two field goals for the tie. Weber's aggressive defensive work in the Catholic zone broke Joliet's spirit after Jules Pandera broke the tie with a one handed long shot. Within 15 seconds Weber intercepted two passes on Catholic's out of bounds plays, Pandera converting on the first interception and Ted Koziol making the second one good.

Koziol started the fourth quarter with another basket for Weber and Wiggy Pokoj finished the sudden spurt with a push-up shot to make the score 42 to 32.

Zaleski Starts Scoring.

Dick Zaleski scored the first basket for Weber on a shot from the side. Paul Hudak tied the score for Joliet on a push shot, the only time Joliet evened the score until the above mentioned tie at the end of the third quarter.

Weber went ahead to a 6 to 2 advantage on a basket by Joe Depka and free throws by Zaleski and Depka. After Hudak's follow-up shot, Pandera made a field goal on an out of bounds play and then added two free throws on Hudak's personal foul. Bill Rogers scored for Joliet on a fast break to make the score 10 to 6. Pandera retaliated for Weber, with Pokoj adding another basket for a 14 to 6 lead.

After Roger's second basket of the period, Pandera added his third and fourth with Fred Boseo tallying for Catholic and resulting in a first quarter score of 18 to 10.

Weber Increases Lead.

Pete Piazza made a push shot shortly after the second quarter got under way and added two free throws on Pokoj's personal for an 18 to 14 score. Depka counted twice from the field to put Weber safely out in front before Piazza made one of two free throws, also on Pokoj's foul. The score was then 22 to 15 with 3 minutes to play.

Boseo added another point on Pandera's foul and Piazza got his sixth and seventh points of the period on a one hand shot. Joe Zrenda, a substitute forward, and Rogers traded free throws for the final points. Weber led 25 to 19 at the half.

Joliet Trails, 38 to 32.

Hudak started Joliet's third period rally with a free throw and then made a one handed shot. Pandera and Zaleski's goals were neutralized by Larry Weinbrod, Catholic's substitute guard, and Hudak, which made the score 29 to 26 in Weber's favor. Pandera scored a basket and made one of two free throw attempts on Rogers' foul to make the score 32 to 26, preparing the way for Hudak's and Rogers' rally which tied the score at 32 to 32. The period ended 38 to 32 in Weber's favor and the Red Horde, visualizing their first title in three years' attempts, played their own game for the remaining time.

LANDIS FORBIDS USE OF ELIGIBLE LEGION PLAYERS

Youths still eligible for American Legion baseball competition were ruled off major and minor league clubs yesterday by Commissioner K. M. Landis, who warned that any contracts with such boys would be declared null and void and that fines of $500 would be imposed for any dealings with them.

The directive was thought to be aimed principally at several minor league teams which have bolstered their man power by dipping into American Legion player pools. The age limit for Legion ball players is 16.

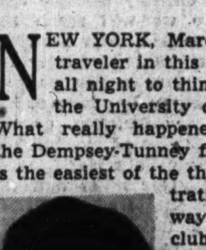
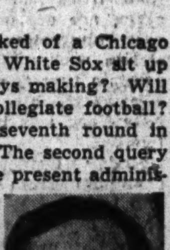
NEW YORK, March 15.—Questions most often asked of a Chicago traveler in this city are: Does Jim Dykes of the White Sox sit up all night to think of those wise cracks he's always making? Will the University of Chicago ever reinstate intercollegiate football? What really happened in the celebrated 14 count seventh round in the Dempsey-Tunney fight in 1927 on the lake front? The second query is the easiest of the three to answer: No, as long as the present administrative setup continues on the Midway. . . . The New York Athletic club has sponsored indoor track meets for 75 years, but whiskers don't grow on their track records, which usually get a fine once-over lightly each time the athletes start stretching their muscles. . . . Good Time Charley Friedman, who either discovered or was tied up with such rare pugilistic specimens as Primo Carnera, Jack Doyle, and Knute Hansen, has had his name copyrighted for picture purposes in Hollywood. . . . A. B. Nicholas, new president of the Sugar bowl organization in New Orleans, is a University of Michigan alumnus. . . . This will be Bill McGowan's 19th season as an American league umpire. . . . Elmer Riddle was the 15th pitcher in the Cincinnati Reds' modern history to win 20 games or more in one season.



Bill McGowan.



Elmer Baumgarten.

Jack Hill, the former Ohio State star, has shattered every swimming record at St. Mary's Pre-Flight school from 50 yards to one mile. . . . Elmer Baumgarten, secretary of the American Bowling congress, comes up with a unique idea. . . . "I believe sports representatives should have a voice in peace negotiations," he says. "I don't want to get into world politics, but I feel sportsmen are prone to be fairer than most of the chiselers who sit in at the conferences where the decisions are made as to whether an Italian is to become an Austrian, or a Frenchman is to be a German." . . . Lt. John Beazley, hero of the Cardinals' 1942 world series triumph over the Yankees, was a bust as a minor league pitcher. . . . With three class D clubs in 1937 he won a total of 10 games against 12 defeats.

Wouldn't life be more worth living,
  As we travel down its road,
If we stopped to cheer the lonely
  And to help them bear the load?
Wouldn't all of us feel better,
  If we each would do our part
Radiating cheer and sunshine
  For the one who's sad of heart?

Wouldn't it be fine to visit,
  Folks who find life rather drear?
Just to bolster them with courage,
  To be helpful and sincere?
For the comfort rendered others,
  And the kindness one expends,
Like bread cast upon the waters,
  Will come back—with dividends.

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 15.—With 16,039 fans looking on, New York concluded its Tournament of Champions in Madison Square Garden tonight, crowning eight easterners to meet the best amateur boxers Chicago has to offer in the intercity matches here March 27.

The New York City entries made their best showing in years, winning six of the eight open division titles. The others went to Puerto Rico and Washington, D. C. The New York team, as host, relinquished the team trophy to Washington.

The Puerto Rican champion, William Hernandez, a 118 pounder, might have been on his way back to his island home around the time he was winning in the Garden if Luis Rosario Jr., the island team's manager, who withdrew his squad in anger yesterday over what he considered a bad semi-final decision, hadn't reconsidered. He requested the New York Daily News Welfare association, sponsor of the eastern tournament, to permit his boy to box for the championship.

Mirabito Is Beaten.

In addition to the eight eastern titlists, an equal number of service champions were crowned. The New York tournament has a separate section for service men and the winners tho they do not meet the open division entrants, are eligible for intercity competition.

The biggest disappointment of the night was Salvador Mirabito, former Syracuse university full back and intercollegiate champion, who had been expected to take the heavyweight crown. Mirabito was earnest and willing but his lanky antagonist, Reno Workman of Washington, outpointed him in a slow bout.

Schoonmaker Wins.

First boxer of the evening to gain a title was Cecil Schoonmaker of New York who scored a close victory over Don King of Washington in the 112 pound class. Cecil used a flicking left and solid right thruout the three rounds and outscored the rough little Washingtonian at long range.

The early part of the evening session was featured by a battle between Frank Perone of New York and Tommy Baker, a coast guardsman from Jacksonville, Fla., for the 126 pound championship. Twice the bell saved Baker but the guardsman came back in a manner that electrified the crowd. Some boos greeted the announcement of Perone's victory altho it clearly was his.

Smallwood Shows Class.

The service entrants were more willing than skilful, but one who showed class was Jackie Smallwood of Camp Upton, N. Y., who knocked out Bobby Jernigan of the army air corps in two minutes of the second round of their bout for the 135 pound service championship. Smallwood was floored in the first round but arose to give the flyer a good drubbing for the remainder of the first round and then finished him in the second.

Billy Hernandez, Puerto Rico's only remaining entrant in the tournament, must have caught a little fire from his association with his

DE PAUL FACES MUHLENBERG IN OPENER TONIGHT

New York, March 15 (AP).—The rafters in Madison Square Garden will be thoroly dusted off during the next two weeks as a dozen of the nation's outstanding college teams, many of them featuring skyscraping centers, seek basketball's highest honors in two tournaments.

The seventh National Invitation tournament begins tomorrow night with Bowling Green State university, an Ohio dark horse with an impressive record, facing the metropolitan New York champion, St. John's of Brooklyn, and De Paul of Chicago playing Muhlenberg, another small college entry, from Allentown, Pa.

Two Real Skyscrapers.

Two real skyscrapers will appear in these games, Don [Sid] Otten, Bowling Green center, towers 6 feet 11½ inches and is exceeded in height among basketball stars only by seven foot Bob Kurland of the Oklahoma Aggies, who will appear later in the tournament. De Paul's outstanding player is 6 foot 9 inch George Mikan.

Neither Otten nor Mikan is considered merely as a goal tender altho they can bat plenty of shots away from the baskets. Coach Harold Anderson, who coached the University of Toledo in the 1942 Invitation tourney, predicts that Otten may prove the sensation of this tournament. Mikan, also as an all around performer, scored 442 points in 23 games this season.

Will Play Two Monday.

Two other first round games of the Invitation tourney, sending Oklahoma A. and M. against Canisius of Buffalo and Kentucky against Utah, will be played next Monday with semi-finals March 22 and the final March 26.

Champaign, Ill., March 15. — All the power generated by more than 800 teams from last December to mid-March was concentrated here tonight in 160 youngsters, representing the 16 quintets which tomorrow will start equal, until it's proved otherwise, in the 37th annual Illinois high school basketball tournament. These are the 16 which fought their way to the finals.

It is not correct, perhaps, to pare it down to the 160 boys who will race up and down the George Huff gymnasium floor from 10 o'clock in the morning until almost midnight. The fans are a vibrant part of this three day show and the total attendance may pass 50,000. It came close last year, with 48,915 coming thru the turnstiles and everywhere there were signs that this third war year has not diminished the basketball insanity which comes to Champaign and Urbana at tournament time.

Enthusiasm Runs High.

A shoeshine boy in a barber shop 'round the corner from the Inman hotel had had a busy afternoon polishin' 'em up for a constant procession of youngsters. A group of lads hitch-hiked all the way from Elgin to see if their team could do what Elgin did in 1924 and 1925 when it won the state championship—only quintet to do it twice in succession.

There was a battle of rooms, but that was nothing new. One hotel stopped taking reservations two months ago. The University of Illinois housing division was helping find sleeping places for the basketball pilgrims. Sleep to the more rabid was only incidental to the 10 a. m. opening whistle.

South Shore Gets Attention.

Chicago's representative, South Shore, arrived at noon and Coach Tony Maffia, an Illinois alumnus, put the youngsters thru a fast workout on Champaign Junior High school's court. The Chicagoans know all about the Champaign shrug, which is a way the state tournament sharks have of brushing off teams from the big town when trying to guess the winner each year.

There was a growing, tho grudging, tendency to give the Chicago city public school champions more than passing notice. Mark Peterman, Springfield High school coach, who is sometimes called the sage of Illinois prep basketball, picks South Shore to whip Quincy in the fourth of eight games which are on tomorrow's program.

Taylorville Is Favorite.

Peterman brought out the fact that in past years downstate teams were older and thus more experienced than the Chicago standard bearers. Eighteen years is, and has been, the age limit in Chicago. Several of the other finalists have lost players to the draft and this age edge will not prevail this time. South Shore, winner of 21 out of 25 games, surpassed 70 points several times this season and has averaged just a shade under 60 points.

Its scoring average, in fact, is vir-

DODGERS GO ON NIGHT SCHEDULE IN SPRING DRILL

Can't Use Army Building for Daytime Work.

Bear Mountain, N. Y., March 15 (AP).—Howard Schultz, 6 foot 6 inch first baseman from St. Paul, Minn., became the 17th Brooklyn Dodger to sign today as Manager Leo Durocher sent his squad thru its first workout of the season in the army fieldhouse at West Point.

The Dodgers are starting the night season early with evening practice on the program every day except Saturday and Sunday. Because of army requirements, the indoor playing field is not available week days until 5:45 p. m.

Most Are Youngsters.

Altho 30 candidates were on hand, only nine of them were on the Brooklyn roster. The others were youngsters gleaned from a nationwide baseball school, present for trials before being assigned to teams in the farm system.

LINDELL, STAINBACK SIGN.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 15 (AP).—Outfielders Johnny Lindell and George [Tuck] Stainback agreed to contract terms with the Yankees in New York today and left for the Yanks' training camp here, Manager Joe McCarthy announced. Their signing brought the number of Yankees under contract to 22, of whom 14 were in uniform today for an outdoor workout.

MACK PICKS INFIELD.

Frederick, Md., March 15 (AP).—His training camp field still wasn't in condition for practice today, but Connie Mack announced he had chosen a tentative infield for his Philadelphia Athletics.

Dick Siebert at first base and Irv Hall, shortstop, are the veterans. Edgar Busch, rookie from Elmira, arrived today and found he had the nod at second base, while Georgie Kell, with Lancaster last season, is tagged for third base, tho he is still among the missing.

DI MAGGIO IS HOLDOUT.

Muncie, Ind., March 15 (AP).—Outfielder Vince Di Maggio became a holdout today when he failed to appear as the Pittsburgh Pirates opened camp.

Outfielder Frank Colman and Lee Handley, third baseman, are expected in camp by Friday, and Infielders Pete Coscarart and Al Rubeling still are in war plant jobs. Wally Hebert, Harry Shuman, and Hank Camelli also were expected later.

Mission Accomplished.

When a flyer returns from a sortie
To which he might stand or fall,
The report that he makes is a brief one,
"Mission accomplished"—that's all.

But these few words tell the whole story,
Notwithstanding their brevity,
Two little words, but think what they mean
To the world and to you and to me.

When the earthly assignment of each of us
Is over and finished and done,
I've often thought won't that moment
Be a thrilling and wonderful one.

If we, too, like every brave flyer,
Can report, head erect, eyes ahead,
"Mission accomplished"—won't that be
The moment to which all life led?
—Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

disputatious manager. In winning the bantamweight championship he discarded the cool poise he had displayed earlier in the tournament and slugged it out with Johnny Rosato, a rough paratrooper from Charlotte, N. C. Hernandez is a repeater on the eastern team. He won the featherweight last year but took off weight and got into the 118 pound class this time.

Soldiers Put on Battle.

Two other intercity prospects appeared in the 147 pound service championship bout where Johnny Wilson of the Rome army air depot won from John Thomas of Camp Upton. There were no knockdowns but both lads sagged repeatedly and both showed enough to warrant consideration for alternate berths on the team that fights Chicago.

In a dull bout with much clinching, New York's Max Grothe outpointed Louis Crumes of Jacksonville for the 135 pound open title.

Bronstein, Kroeten Win.

Hy Bronstein, highly favored New York middleweight and a winner for Chicago in last year's intercity bouts, met a tough opponent in Leon Thompson, 18, another of the Charlotte paratroopers. In the end Hy's experience proved too much for the rugged soldier and Leon took counts of nine in the second and third rounds before the referee stopped hostilities, Bronstein getting credit for a technical knockout.

Herb Kroeten, another intercity veteran, found Matt Lasita of Charlotte hard to figure out in their 175 pound bout, but the veteran Kroeten dropped the southern southpaw twice in the second and gained an easy verdict.

The welterweight championship battle, which saw the New York team win its sixth title of the evening, brought out the best boxing of the night and the best boy in the eastern tournament, Jimmy Palmer, who earned the decision over Bill Tiger of Charlotte.

Civic Leaders Back Formation of Pinboy Clubs

Chicago bowling proprietors, with the approval of Mayor Kelly, juvenile agencies, and women's clubs, yesterday set in motion plans which they hope will both help alleviate the pinboy shortage and aid in solving the growing juvenile problem.

The plan provides for the establishment of boys' clubs thruout the city which will be known as the "Bowling Proprietors' Boys' clubs." Plans for the immediate operation of the project were made after a meeting in the mayor's office yesterday.

Meister Brau Five Captures Classic Lead

The powerful Meister Braus, led by Bill Hargadon, continue to sweep everything before them. In last night's Classic league action at Goldammer's Pioneer Arcade, 1535 N. Pulaski rd., they swept their series against Art Butler's National Bowling Equipment boys and swept themselves into the league leadership as a result of their superior shooting. In taking three last night they also kept their record clean against their opponents with 15 victories and no defeats for the season.

The Washington Shirts ran into a revitalized last place United States Brewery quint and dropped the first two and consequently dropped from first to second place. They lost the second game by the slim margin of one pin.

In the other match of the evening the Thompson's Restaurants experimented with a revised lineup to advantage by winning the opening pair from the Monarch Beers and dropping the final to the defending champions.

The Thompson's had high single game and high team series with 1,036 and 2,929, respectively.

ORLAN OTT LOST TO CHICAGO FOR INTERCITY BOUTS

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Golden Glovers began work yesterday afternoon in the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium for the annual intercity matches March 27 against New York in Madison Square Garden. The squad opened drill with enthusiasm but the coaches were disappointed at the absence of Orlan Ott, the heavyweight champion from the Fort Worth, Tex., team.

Ott, a naval aviation cadet at Corpus Christi, found it impossible to be absent from his station.

Holderfield Is Delayed.

The other champions, who won their titles last week in the Stadium, are accounted for and Chicago unquestionably will have a strong squad, altho it scarcely is possible that the boys can surpass last year's all time mark when New York was beaten 14 bouts to two.

Buddy Holderfield, lightweight champion from Memphis, Tenn., will be the last to report. Because of his high school classes, he will not arrive in Chicago until Sunday morning. Other champions, who will face the New York winners March 27, are: Tom Nate, 112 pounds, from the Gary, Ind., sectional; Clayton Johnson, 118 pounds, Sioux City, Ia.; Major Jones, 126 pounds, Kansas City, Mo.; Levi Southall, 147 pounds, Camp Ellis soldier who represented Peoria, Ill.; Collins Brown, 160 pounds, Chicago C. Y. O., and Ray Standifer, 175 pounds, Cleveland, O.

May Promote Kinney.

Mike O'Leary, the Omaha, Neb., champion, who lost the 112 pound title last Friday to Nate, will not be available for the New York fights. O'Leary's home is in Denver and he reported yesterday that he could not join the squad here in time to leave next Wednesday. Ralph Reiss, St. Louis, Mo., champion, who was beaten in the semifinals last week, immediately replaced O'Leary.

Jim Donohoo, Milwaukee's Golden Gloves heavyweight champion from Truax field, who was defeated in the Tournament of Champions, is expected late today. Ragon Kinney, Los Angeles, Cal., champion, who lost to Ott in the finals last week, probably will be moved by the coaches to the No. 1 position.

Longer Races Being Planned for Arlington

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.

Distance racing, never fully developed on the American turf, will be one of the features of this summer's coördinated Arlington Park-Washington Park meetings at Washington Park.

Plans were announced yesterday by Webb A. Everett, racing secretary, who returned this week from a tour of California and Florida tracks, for a weekly series of these little exploited events.

"We propose to institute a series of events, starting at a mile and a quarter and working up to two miles and a quarter, which will become as popular in Chicago as they have been proving of late in other racing centers," Everett said.

"And it is entirely possible that in the future we will reach the point where we can offer such fixtures as have been so popular for many, many years in Europe—the Great Metropolitan Handicap at Epsom Downs, for instance, or the Jockey Club Stakes at Newmarket, or our own New York Handicap of two and a quarter miles and the mile and three-quarters Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont."

Distance racing is only in the experimental stage in America, Everett said, but in the last three or four years it has been increasing in popularity not only with the public but with the breeders, who contend it is the ultimate proof of a great horse.

J. B. EASTMAN, ODT DIRECTOR, DIES IN CAPITAL

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Transport Boss.

Joseph B. Eastman.

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation and a member of the interstate commerce commission for 25 years, died today in Emergency hospital after a month's illness.

His physician said death resulted from a coronary occlusion, a block in the artery that goes to the heart. Eastman was 61.

His death left vacant the job of running the nation's war time transportation system. His deputy, Brig. Gen. Charles D. Young, will be in charge temporarily.

Named to ICC at 36.

Eastman's career began in Massachusetts, when he became secretary of the Public Franchise league of Boston in 1906.

When President Wilson appointed him to the ICC at the age of 36 Eastman was the youngest man ever to assume commission membership.

President Roosevelt made Eastman coördinator of the railroads in 1933 and he served in that post until it was abolished in 1936. He was named director of the ODT in 1942.

Boss of United States Transport.

As ODT director he not only had supervision over railroad operations down to telling the carriers how many trains they could run and where, but also was overseer of the nation's truck, school bus, and taxicab fleets.

Stephen Early, Presidential secretary, disclosed Eastman offered to resign as ODT director Feb. 19, when physicians told him he must spend at least two months in the hospital. Mr. Roosevelt sent Eastman a letter that same day by messenger, telling him to rest but not to resign.

Eastman, who never married, was a native of Katonah, N. Y. He was the son of a minister and was graduated from Amherst college in 1904.

Funeral services will be Friday in All Souls' Episcopal church here and burial will be at Binghamton, N. Y. The only surviving close relative is a sister, Miss Elizabeth Eastman, with whom Eastman made his home for many years.

SCHOOLS TO AID LUNCH PROGRAM BILL CAMPAIGN

The Chicago board of education yesterday approved expenditure of $1,500 by Frank O. Washam, director of lunchrooms, to help mobilize nation-wide public sentiment for the continuation of the federally supported school lunch program. The program aids 30,000 lunchrooms in 15,000 centers with 409 Chicago public schools participating, he said.

The house of representatives last week rejected a bill for 50 million dollars to support the program for a second year. The period covered by the present law ends June 30. Washam said another bill to continue the lunch plan was introduced by Sen. Wagner [D., N. Y.] Chicago school children, Washam said, have been benefited in their diets and health thru the program.

Public school lunchrooms will continue to operate next year, he said, but without federal aid, he said, lunches now costing 6 cents would rise to 15 cents, and 18 cent lunches to 30 cents. Fewer children would buy lunches and many of those who did would have less nourishing food, he declared.

FAMILY PLANS FUNERAL FOR EXECUTED MAN

Arrangements for the funeral of Paul Leroy Williams, 24, who died in the electric chair at 1:10 a. m. yesterday for the holdup murder of a south side grocer, were made yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Williams, and a sister.

Williams, showing little emotion, went to the chair protesting to Warden Frank G. Sain of the county jail. "I didn't get a fair trial," he said. "They didn't believe me . . ." He had been granted four reprieves in his fight to escape death.

The gunman confessed he shot Thomas Papayanis in a holdup Sept. 19, 1942, but pleaded that the killing had been unintentional.

MOLDER IS HELD IN $50,000 BOND ON SEX CHARGES

Henry Rasmussen, 34, a molder who lives on Green Bay rd., west of Waukegan, was held in bonds of $50,000 yesterday on two charges of rape and two charges of crimes against children. The bond was fixed by Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt, who set March 24 for a further hearing. George W. Field, assistant state's attorney, said that Rasmussen admitted having had sexual relations with his two stepdaughters, one 15 and the other 14, and admitted further that he was the father of a girl baby born March 11 to the younger girl.

POLICE HOLD 4 AFTER SEIZING WHISKY TRUCK

Fillmore st. police last night were holding four men for federal authorities after seizure of a truckload of alleged black market whisky.

The four are James Healy, 35, Rockford; Fay Miller, 35, an East Dubuque [Ill.] bartender; Irving Benlinger, Dubuque, Ia., a truck driver for the Mills Transportation company of Dubuque, and Harry Samsky, owner of the Acorn Express company, 1332 S. Kedzie av.

Discovery of the whisky followed the shooting of Healy by a holdup man in the Acorn company office Tuesday night. Healy was wounded slightly in the abdomen, and when questioned in County hospital yesterday by Capt. Thomas Alcock of the Fillmore station admitted he had come to Chicago to obtain a load of liquor.

The whisky, 51 cases with the serial numbers obliterated, was found in the garage of the Acorn company. Healy had acquired the whisky for $2,867 after a rendezvous with an alleged black market operator, he told Capt. Alcock.

County Treasurer Schlaeger filed suit in County court yesterday asking that he be appointed receiver under the Skarda act for the Chicago park district to liquidate $616,151 in taxes owed by the park district. The taxes are due on two parcels of property in the south end of Lincoln park and are for the years 1917 thru 1942.

The park district has agreed to the procedure to bring the matter before the court. Schlaeger said property acquired by the park district usually is freed of tax liability, but for some unexplained reason, the parcels named in the suit have continued on the tax rolls.

Last week County Judge Jarecki ordered the park district to pay the treasurer $160,000 in taxes, plus interest which may amount to $100,000, on 457 parcels of land scattered thruout the park system. These were acquired by individual parks prior to consolidation. The park district agreed to meet the bill since payment of taxes was a condition of purchase.

WLB COUNTERS MOVE TO UPSET WAGE FORMULA

May Re-Open Case After Senate Acts.

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—Organized labor's drive to smash or alter the little steel wage formula suffered a setback in the war labor board today when a majority coalition of public and industry members voted down three American Federation of Labor motions.

The principal motion called on the board to request President Roosevelt to modify the wage ceiling "realistically." The other two motions provided for public hearings.

The little steel formula declares that wage increases granted to compensate for higher living costs shall not exceed 15 per cent of the Jan. 1, 1941, wage level.

Time Held Inappropriate.

The public members said they "voted for denial of the petition without prejudice because of their opinion that it would be inappropriate for the board to take up the question of the wage stabilization policy at a time when the congress is just starting hearings on the whole stabilization program." The senate banking committee has taken up the question.

The AFL petition, presented by George Meany and Robert J. Watt, had been before the board since Feb. 9. It was debated one day last week, at which time the board decided to consult the White House before acting. It is understood that Vice Chairman George W. Taylor talked to Mobilization Director Byrnes and reported back that the President thought it best not to take up the subject now in view of the senate hearings.

Steel Wage Plea Heard.

While the board was voting, one of its panels in an adjoining building was hearing arguments by the steel industry and the CIO United Steel Workers on the question whether it should consider testimony on the union's demand for a 17 cent hourly wage increase. The union concedes that the demand exceeds the limits of present wage policy and that the board has no authority to alter the policy.

CIO President Philip Murray argued that nothing in the stabilization act prevents the board from hearing the facts about the workability of that act or from making recommendations to the President. John A. Stephens, vice president of the United States Steel corporation, said he had no objection to the disclosure of all the facts but "I only say, present them where all can see and where those who evaluate them can do something about them."

CIO Sticks with AFL.

The CIO members of the WLB stood with their AFL colleagues on the AFL motions. Meany's first motion proposed a public hearing the last three days of March on the AFL petition. This was defeated, 8 to 4. A motion by Meany to approve the AFL petition was defeated, 7 to 4, with Dexter M. Keezer, public member, not voting. Meany then moved that the board hold a public hearing with a view to advising congress regarding the wage stabilization program. This was defeated, 8 to 4.

A motion by Lloyd K. Garrison, public member, that the AFL's petition be denied without prejudice to later consideration if events warrant was approved, 8 to 4. Labor members supported this motion and industry members dissented.

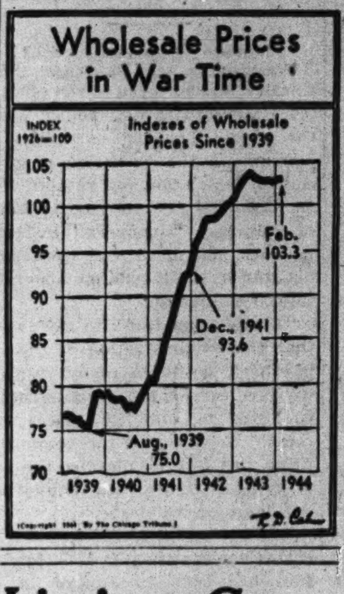
Wholesale Prices in War Time



Limit on Gas Held No Bar to Car Sales

Imposition of a two gallon a week gasoline limit on motorists holding "A" cards is expected to have little effect on the used car market, dealers said yesterday. It was indicated that many "A" card holders have been able to get sufficient extra gas to operate.

Prices for used cars were holding steady in the Chicago area, they said, altho the number of good used cars on the market has been declining steadily. In some areas prices were reported advancing.

Repair Parts Scarce.

Many older cars are being consigned to junk yards because of the inability of owners to obtain repair parts. A large proportion of the parts that are available is said to be coming from the junk yards.

The Chicago wholesale car market in which used cars are purchased for use elsewhere was said to be declining. One dealer said that demand from California for used cars has been decreasing. California heretofore had been one of the biggest outlets for the wholesaling of cars bought in the Chicago area.

Private Sales Increase.

Established dealers have been sharing to a lesser extent in the handling of used cars that come available thru men leaving for military service. It was estimated that 70 to 80 per cent of used car sales were being made by car owners to buyers without using a dealer as an intermediary.

However, dealers are able to make a sufficient number of retail and wholesale deals to make operations worthwhile, they said.

WPB CALLS AUTO CHIEFS TO STUDY RECONVERSION

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—A decision to form an automobile industry advisory committee composed of top ranking executives of pre-war passenger automobile manufacturers to consult with the government on eventual reconversion of the auto industry was announced today by the WPB.

The committee will meet WPB officials in Washington about mid-April "to explore the basic problems" of reconversion, WPB said.

Chairman Nelson said the call for the meeting was not prompted by any prospect of restoring passenger car production "at any specified time that can now be determined." He reiterated that no major reconversion of industry can be begun until the European war is won. Similar sessions are being held with leaders of various other civilian goods industries.

Faroll Brothers, Brokers, Set Up New Partnership

Faroll Brothers, commodity and security brokers with offices at 208 S. La Salle st., announced yesterday that the firm will be dissolved at the close of business March 31. The business will be continued without interruption by a new partnership, Faroll & Co., which will begin operation April 1. Barnett Faroll and other Chicago partners of the present firm will be members of the new partnership which will operate the existing Illinois and Iowa offices. The New York branch will continue in business as a new firm, Joseph Faroll & Co., consisting of Joseph Faroll and Winfield H. Schweickart, now partners of Faroll Brothers.

URGES INCOME TAX CONFINED TO INDIVIDUAL

Simons Criticizes Indirect Levies.

Radical structural changes in the federal tax system were advocated yesterday by Henry C. Simons, University of Chicago economics professor. He spoke at a luncheon of the university's citizens board at the Chicago club.

Proposing that the federal government should rely mainly on the individual income tax for revenue, Simons suggested the following changes:

1. Outright repeal of the corporate income tax.
2. Elimination of federal excise taxes.
3. Abolition of tax exemption for securities.
4. Treatment of capital gains and losses for tax purposes exactly as other gains and losses.
5. Removal of existing tax penalties on individuals whose income varies widely from year to year.

Would Avoid Alteration.

After achieving the maximum simplicity and directness in the taxing system it should be allowed to remain without substantial alteration for a period of ten years, Simons said. As revenue needs changed simple changes in rates or exemptions would be put into effect without altering the system.

Reliance on tariffs, excises, and other levies like the corporation income tax, the effects of which are not readily apprehended, encourages irresponsibility in government finance, Simons said.

"It produces a something-for-nothing delusion about public spending. It makes for popular indifference both on the level of spending and to the economic allocation of funds among activities.

Favors Source Collection.

"If we want good democratic government fiscally and otherwise, we should send every taxpayer a monthly or quarterly bill for his full share in the cost of government. We should avoid all indirection in levy."

Source collection should be retained on the individual income tax, Simons said. Repeal of the corporation income tax also should be accompanied by source collection on corporation interest and dividend payments.

To prevent penalizing persons with irregular incomes Simons suggested a five year averaging period for determining tax liability. Refunds or deficiency payments would be made every five years, minimizing the importance of the yearly accounting period.

PRICES OF RYE FUTURES RISE; BUYING ACTIVE

Disclosure that more rye is being used for production of industrial alcohol caused rye futures to advance ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday with commission houses active on the buying side. Strength in rye affected other grains. Wheat closed ¾ to ⅝ cent higher, oats finished ¼ to ½ cent higher, and barley was ⅛ cent higher to ¼ cent lower.

H. C. Doss, Sales Official, Leaves Ford Motor Post

Detroit, Mich., March 15 (AP).—The Ford Motor company announced today the resignation of H. C. Doss, from 1939 to 1943 general sales manager and more recently sales manager for the company's southeast region. Doss joined the company in 1916 at Oklahoma City. The announcement gave no reason for the resignation.

Cattle Price Subsidy May Be Increased

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—The government soon may boost its roll back subsidy on beef cattle by 30 cents a hundred pounds to pull cattle off the range and supplement prospective short civilian supplies, it was learned today. This would enable packers to pay cattlemen an equivalent increase without raising consumer prices of beef.

Because beef supplies are short and western ranges are considered overcrowded, the war food administration and the office of price administration want two or three million extra head of cattle marketed during the next four months to avert a possible disastrous market glut in the fall.

Contributing to the tendency of farmers to hold cattle for fall marketing is dissatisfaction with present prices.

HOG PRICES CLIMB

Farmers, in the hope of pushing hog prices to the $14.75 a hundred pounds ceiling, curtailed shipments to the Chicago stockyards yesterday, causing a decrease in receipts and a rise in prices. Arrivals were the second lowest for a Wednesday in five months. Top loads climbed to $14.35.

Advances of 10 to 20 cents were general, with some sales 25 cents above Tuesday's low price. The average, up 15 cents at $14.10, was 95 cents above the winter's low in January and highest since Nov. 3.

Strong to higher prices were paid for steers as receipts fell to 10,000. Only two Wednesday totals in eight months have been lower. Prices of other classes were steady. Lambs sold mostly steady.

FOOD HOLDINGS VAST

Meat and lard holdings in the nation's cold storage plants on March 1 increased to the second largest volume in history, the department of agriculture disclosed yesterday. The stocks were exceeded only by the record supply on Feb. 1, 1919.

Holdings of meat, lard, and pork fat reached an aggregate of 1,586,530,000 pounds on March 1, compared with the Feb. 1, 1919, high of 1,590,665,000. The total included 276,357,000 pounds of beef, 792,672,000 of pork, 32,272,000 of lamb and mutton, 151,286,000 of frozen and cured trimmings, and 333,943,000 of lard.

KARPEN BUILDING SITE PURCHASED FROM WHEELERS

One hundred thirty-five thousand dollars cash was paid yesterday for the land under the three story Karpen building at the southeast corner of Wabash av. and 8th st., valued by the board of assessors at $82,586. The property fronts 109½ feet on Wabash and 180 on 8th st.

It was conveyed by Arthur C., Eugene, and Euspachia C. Wheeler, and the Chicago Title and Trust company, thru Harry Straus of Straus & Co., to an undisclosed buyer, a Chicagoan.

The buyer will receive $12,000 annual ground rental until 1947 and then a gradually increasing amount called for by the 99 year lease made in 1917 until he gets $20,000 annually during the last 24 years of the term.

UNITED AIR LINE OPERATIONS AT ALL TIME HIGHS

Year's Profit Equal to $2.80 a Share.

Despite fewer plane miles flown, United Air Lines set new high records during 1943 for all types of traffic, W. A. Patterson, president, reported yesterday in the company's annual statement to stockholders. Braniff Airways, Inc., also reported a large gain in passenger traffic. Both companies showed increased profits.

United Air Lines' record loads of passengers, mail, and express, together with maximum utilization of the smaller number of planes available, resulted in a profit of $4,203,276, equal to $2.80 a common share, compared with $3,134,356, or $2.08 a share, in 1942. The earnings in each year are shown prior to deduction of 1 million dollars for post-war adjustments. After this provision, the remaining net income was equal to $2.13 a share, against $1.42.

Revenue Plane Miles Drop.

United's decrease in revenue airplane miles to 21,879,912 from 22,100,203 in 1942, Patterson said, resulted from the sale or lease of 38 planes, representing about 50 per cent of the company's fleet, to the government in the first half of 1942. In recent months, five of these planes were returned.

Even with its reduced fleet in regularly scheduled operations, the line flew 357,196,592 revenue passenger miles, an increase of 23.1 per cent over 1942; 11,032,548 mail ton miles, a gain of 61.6 per cent; and 3,965,890 express ton miles, up 7.8 per cent. Operating revenues totaled $27,650,545, exclusive of $14,218,377 gross income from army contracts, against $23,593,595, exclusive of $5,740,863 army contracts, in 1942. Federal and state income taxes totaled $3,480,174, against $2,624,455.

Reviewing direct military services, Patterson said, "United's operations across the Pacific for the air transport command are a dramatic example of air line ingenuity and efficiency." In its military operations last year the company flew 11,533,612 miles and loads carried exceeded 30 million pounds.

Post-war Spending Announced.

"It is our belief that the war has advanced public acceptance of the airplane as a mode of transportation by 20 years," Patterson wrote. "The management has evidenced its faith in the future by announcing

U. S. Will Invite 41 Nations to Parley on World Currency

BY PHILIP WARDEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Treasury and state department officials today were making preparations to invite 41 nations to send representatives to the United States for a formal monetary conference to discuss post-war world currency stabilization. Meanwhile British, Russian, Canadian and United States financial experts were nearing agreement on a multibillion dollar money stabilization plan.

Harry D. White.

Treasury officials said they expect to hold the conference before summer, probably in a city other than Washington, Atlantic City, N. J., site of the post-war relief and rehabilitation conference, Hot Springs, Va., where the international food conference was held, and Pinehurst, N. C., are under consideration as possible sites.

Modification of White Plan.

The plan to be formally presented to the conference will be a modification of that drawn by Harry D. White, treasury monetary expert, it was indicated. The White plan provided for the contribution of both gold and local currencies to a central stabilization fund with aggregate gold quotas amounting to at least 5 billion dollars.

Russian gold is believed to be the deciding factor in the four power acceptance of the gold based White plan instead of the international clearing union plan advanced by John Maynard Keynes, British monetary authority. Gold was subordinated in the Keynes plan.

Dispute Over Voting Power.

Altho the British and Americans have been near full agreement for more than a year on most points in an international currency stabilization program, they have been at wide variance as to whether gold contributions or the size of a nation's world trade should control voting power in the world bank that would direct the stabilization fund.

Approximately 30 nations have sent representatives to Washington during the last year to confer with treasury experts on the currency stabilization program. The Russian representatives expect to hold two more conferences with White, and the British one more, before an allied plan is expected to be in shape for presentation to the formal international monetary conference, treasury officials said.

BUYING REVIVAL BOOSTS STOCKS IN LATE TRADING

New York, March 15 (AP).—A buying revival inspired by a sharp rise in Bethlehem Steel just before the close put the stock market in moderately higher ground today. Earlier the market had been purely a specialty affair, with key industrials and rails showing negligible changes.

Additional annual reports showing generally favorable profit comparisons stimulated some sections of the list and the war labor board's refusal to raise wage ceilings was regarded as encouraging.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite advanced 0.1 point to 53.0. Transactions amounted to 1,184,680 shares, against 1,006,740 yesterday.

Bethlehem closed with a gain of 1⅝, Pullman 1⅜, American and Foreign Power second preferred 1¼, and Gulf Mobile and Ohio 1⅛.

CHICAGO LIST HIGHER.

Gains predominated in yesterday's trading on the Chicago Stock exchange. New peaks for 1943-'44 were recorded by Zenith Radio, Chicago Flexible Shaft, Katz Drug, and Gardner-Denver. Chicago corporation, the volume leader, rose ⅛.

BOND MARKET FIRM.

New York, March 15 (AP). — The bond market averaged a little higher today, altho many rail and industrial issues closed unchanged or slightly lower.

LACK OF LABOR HELD BLOW TO CIVILIAN GOODS

Effects of Chicago's 'Freeze' Told.

The critical man power situation in Chicago not only will "tend to slow down the flow of war contracts into this area," but will prevent the conversion of Chicago plants to even "essential goods" for civilian use for some time, William H. Spencer, regional director of the war man power commission, told business and industrial leaders yesterday.

Spencer spoke at a meeting of the Association of Commerce public affairs committee in the Hotel Sherman on the probable effects of the city's classification as a No. 1 critical labor shortage area, and said that "undue haste" in reconversion would jeopardize the "over-all war production program."

Lester Brown, area director, explained the operation of the WMC's plans for labor utilization here at the association's war problems school during the afternoon.

No Large Contract Loss.

"There will be no wholesale removal of war contracts from Chicago, which will continue to be one of the two or three most important war production centers in the United States," Spencer said. "The established policy of the army and navy buying agencies is to distribute war contracts to obtain expeditious deliveries of all needed items."

Other cities, however, may be allowed to produce more civilian goods soon, the director said, but only in areas where there is a labor surplus, "which should not prove harmful to Chicago with its vast and diverse facilities, since virtually all other important centers are also in group 1 or group 2."

Seeks Voluntary Acceptance.

Spencer promised he would not invoke the strict labor and contract controls set up by the WMC's national program except as a last resort and only if manufacturers refuse to undertake them voluntarily. These controls, he said, in the order in which they would be applied, are:

1. Establishment of labor priorities by industries and plants.
2. Employment ceilings for all, or all essential plants, limiting each to a specified total number of workers.
3. Controled referrals of all male workers, or at least all skilled ones, by the United States employment service.
4. Naming of a production urgency committee, which would have

The Welfare of the Family Comes First

FAMILY welfare comes first in planning an estate program. Possible tax savings or other economies are usually secondary.

However, outright distribution of all property, though well-intentioned, may not serve the best interests of your wife and children. Inexperience, when determining what investments to sell or purchase and in making other decisions regarding the estate, may bring unhappy results. In addition, there may be an unnecessary increase in death taxes as property passes from person to person.

The best interest of the family can be served by naming an experienced executor, such as The First National Bank, to complete the settlement of the estate. Some member of the family can be named to act as co-executor when desirable. Ordinarily also an advantage comes from placing a substantial part of a large or even moderate-sized estate in trust with a competent corporate trustee. Experienced attention to your estate funds will make more certain the welfare of your family.

It is the continuing aim of our Trust officers to give sympathetic attention and seasoned judgment to the financial affairs of those for whom this bank acts as executor and trustee.

UNITED AIR LINES OPERATIONS SET ALL-TIME PEAKS

1943 Net Income Equal to $2.80 a Share.

that it will spend between 18 million and 20 million dollars for new facilities immediately after the war."

At that time, he added, it is expected the air lines will put in service four engined 40 to 50 passenger, 220 mile an hour transport planes. In making certain new route applications, United has recognized the apparent decision of the civil aeronautics board to permit competition on routes heretofore served exclusively by one carrier, Patterson explained.

Braniff Airways last year flew 66,520,573 revenue passenger miles, against 50,320,196 the year before. Net income was $958,002, equal to 96 cents a share, on 1 million shares, compared with adjusted net income of $512,882, or $1.28 a share on 400,000 in 1942. Revenue airplane miles flown during 1943, totaling 4,057,254, came within 5.7 per cent of equaling the 1942 record, altho the company operated only seven planes, compared with 16 in the first five months of last year.

Million Rifles Delivered.

Remington Arms company's annual report said that by the end of 1943 the company had delivered more than 1 million rifles to the army, and since 1940 it has made nearly half of the small arms ammunition manufactured in the United States. The report described the incendiary bullet as the company's most important contribution to the war, which the company said is particularly effective in air combat in igniting self-sealing gasoline tanks. Remington's 1943 sales of $95,666,366 were about 25 per cent less than in 1942. Net income was $3,578,342, equal to 44 cents a common share, against $3,354,024, or 41 cents a share. Provision for federal taxes on income was $21,950,000, the company's earnings being subject to the 80 per cent maximum rate.

Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation's consolidated net income in 1943 was $9,512,228, equal to $4.10 a common share, against $10,141,690, or $4.60 a share, in 1942. Production set a new record of 5,124,846 net tons. Sales totaled $280,676,172, compared with $234,982,038. Reserves of 2 million dollars were set aside from 1943 earnings for contingencies, compared with 1 million the year before.

Bell Net Profit Gains.

Bell Aircraft corporation's 1943 sales increased to $232,124,000 a new high, compared with $121,863,227, after contract renegotiation, in 1942. Profit was $3,062,000, equal to $7.77 a share, against $2,911,000, after renegotiation adjustment, in 1942, when the amount earned per share was $8.17 on a smaller number of shares.

Pacific Gas and Electric company during 1943 experienced the largest gain in electric sales in its history. The sales totaled 6,807,519,098 kilowatt hours, an increase of 19.3 per cent. Gas sales rose 11.3 per cent to 119,479,601,300 cubic feet.

LACK OF LABOR HELD BLOW TO CIVILIAN GOODS

power to order plants to take, or not to take, contracts offered by any procurement agency, and to bring contracts into the area or keep them out.

Predicting that smaller plants will get a greater share of contracts soon, Spencer said:

"Chicago is preëminently an area of small plants, the greatest aggregation of little manufacturing establishments in the country, if not in the world. About 90 per cent of all production plants in Cook county employ less than 100 persons, and the WMC, in coöperation with the Smaller War Plants corporation, is working to bring pressure on the larger prime contractors to subcontract to the smaller firms.

"The smaller plants have thousands of skilled employes and machines which can be utilized to much better advantage. Hundreds are doing little or no war work. We believe we can help spread the load to some of these places. I already have instructed all area directors to take into consideration any refusal to subcontract or to coöperate with our program when setting man power priorities."

Able to Bring Pressure.

This, Spencer indicated, will be the point in his program at which his office can bring the largest pressure to bear on contractors who refuse to spread work among smaller plants.

Disclosing for the first time the figures which led the WMC to classify Chicago as a No. 1 area, Spencer listed them as follows:

Chicago's conversion to war production has come almost entirely since the Pearl Harbor attack, has taken on 6½ billion in war contracts since then, has built 600 million dollars of federally financed aircraft, electronics and aluminum facilities here.

Since the Jap attack, plant employment has increased 70 per cent, more than 600,000 workers have been hired, net unemployment has been cut to 5,000 from 240,000, 140,000 women have taken jobs, 112,000 high school graduates have accepted employment, 90,000 workers have come here from other areas, and 68,000 high school students and professional people are working part time.

RFC Is Overruled, Road Authorized to Buy Cars

Federal Judge Igoe yesterday overruled the Reconstruction Finance corporation and authorized trustees of the North Shore railroad to purchase 88 cars under a $1,329,000 equipment trust issue. He ordered the trustees to proceed with "extraordinary dispatch" in working out a reorganization plan for the line, and directed them to report to the court again on May 15. The RFC opposed the equipment purchase.

TWO STATES FILE PROTEST ON GAS SLASH IN WEST

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

Two midwestern states filed protests in Washington, D. C., yesterday against the one-third slash in A gas rations decreed for March 22. The protests were telegraphed to the office of price administration and the petroleum administration for war; also to the Illinois and Michigan members of congress.

The demands of the two states were sent by the Illinois joint legislative commission on petroleum rationing and by the Michigan Oil Men's association. The proposed reduction was denounced as "political, inequitable, and unjustified."

Both organizations told the congressmen and senators, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes, and Col. Bryan Houston, chief of rationing for OPA, that the middle west considers the cut an effort to "equalize the misery" and an appeasement to the voters along the densely populated eastern seaboard, their representatives, and senators.

More Gasoline Granted OPA.

Aggravating the situation, word spread thruout oil circles that the PAW had increased the gasoline allotment to the 15 midwest states, composing district 2, for the second quarter by 103,000 barrels a day. This was disclosed at the regional office of price administration, 226 W. Jackson st.

Gasoline rationing, it was explained, is worked this way: The PAW each quarter tells OPA how much will be available. It is then up to OPA to ration.

Three other agencies—the office of defense transportation, war food administration, and the office of civilian requirements—each quarter determine what gasoline they will need, and make their "claims." The PAW thus calculates the demand for the coming quarter.

Interior Secretary Ickes in Washington last night announced that the PAW allocations for the April-June quarter "meet in full" the gasoline requirements requested by the three priority claimants—ODT, WFA, and OCR.

Ickes Disputes False Story.

Ickes thus gave the lie to an afternoon Chicago newspaper which said in effect that PAW, while ostensibly allotting more gasoline to motorists, had in reality allotted them less.

Ickes for PAW said that OPA had been allotted 536,000 barrels of gasoline a day for the 15 middle western states for April, May, and June, as against the 433,000 barrels daily allowed the same territory from Jan. 1 thru March.

The afternoon paper stated this represented an increase of 9 per cent, whereas it actually represents an increase of 24 per cent plus.

The increases thruout the country, OPA said, were to meet increased demands for farm use and commercial transportation. They were seasonal increases, it was explained. For A card purposes there was proportionately as much the coming quarter as was allotted the first three months of the year. Thus the slash "seemed entirely a matter of OPA whim," local oil men commented.

Illinois Commission Reorganized.

Members of the Illinois joint legislative commission met in the Palmer House to reorganize because the former chairman, State Sen. Searcy [R., Springfield], had resigned to seek Republican nomination for Supreme court clerk. After electing Rep. Lyle Prescott [R., Dixon], chairman in Searcy's place, the commission sent this resolution to Ickes and Houston:

"Whereas, this commission has been informed by the public press that the allocation of gasoline for the midwest is the same proportionately in the second quarter of 1944 as in the first quarter of 1944, with military and agricultural needs considered;

"Therefore, this commission humbly petitions the PWA and the office of price administration to delay making said order effective until a more thoro investigation of the situation above referred to is made and until the increased need of farmers for gasoline during the ensuing quarter for the plowing and planting of crops is determined and accounted for."

Michigan Charges Politics.

The telegraphic protest made by the Michigan Oil Men's association declared that the A coupon reduction would effect only minor savings, and that the best method of conserving war needed gasoline was for local boards to control coupon issuance and to eliminate black market operations.

The message added that, by OPA figures, midwestern motorists had obeyed the gasoline regulations better than motorists elsewhere. The association then finally "protested the proposed method of reduction as being political and inefficient in accomplishing desired results."

SIMPLIFIED TAX PLAN APPROVED BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—A plan to simplify the nation's income tax laws was approved tentatively by the house ways and means committee today, holding out the promise to some 30,000,000 of the 50,000,000 individual taxpayers that the return that must be in by this midnight will be the last they ever have to file.

Chairman Doughton [D., N. C.] announced the committee action, but said details of the plan would not be announced until Friday.

However, on the basis of previous statements, it appeared the simplification bill might provide that:

1. Some 30,000,000 persons making $5,000 or less won't have to file returns after this year, because the withholding levy against their wages and salaries will be made the actual tax.

2. The victory tax will be combined with the surtax and normal tax.

3. The burdens of all taxpayers under the simplified system of rates, exemptions and deductions will remain virtually at their present levels.

7 DEALERS HELD IN FAKE COUPON GASOLINE SALES

Counterfeits Seized in Will County.

Six men and a woman who operate gasoline filling stations in Will county were under arrest yesterday on charges of dealing in counterfeit gasoline coupons.

O. J. Peterson, head of the Chicago office of the secret service, who directed the arrests in coöperation with agents of the office of price administration, said that counterfeit TT and C2 coupons for 8,000 gallons of gasoline were confiscated.

Accuse Distributors.

Those seized and the locations of their fuel stations are Mary Frojd, 37, 230 Midland av., Rockdale; Clarence Donisch, 314 Midland av., Rockdale; Lester Brett, 121 Richards st., Joliet; Joseph Bebej, Collins and Liberty sts., Joliet; Victor Seffner, 1100 Broadway, Joliet; James Lapiks, 1100 Collins st., Joliet, and Joseph Sullivan, 1101 State st., Lockport.

They were arraigned before United States Commissioner Walker—Brett, Bebej, Seffner, Lapiks, and Sullivan on charges of possessing counterfeit coupons, and Donisch and the Frojd woman on charges of transferring 2,000 counterfeit coupons. They pleaded not guilty. Commissioner Walker fixed bail for the men at $1,500 each and for the woman at $500, and deferred the hearing to March 30.

Collected 25 Cent Premium.

Peterson and OPA officials said that the seven admitted buying counterfeit coupons and accused distributors of selling the coupons for 3 to 6½ cents a gallon. In turn, the officials said, the station operators collected an excess of 25 to 30 cents a gallon for gasoline covered by the coupons.

Ninety-five per cent of the bogus coupons were indorsed with fake automobile license numbers, and in addition failed to show the state.

U. S. Drops Gas Ration Charges Made by OPA

Charges of illegally possessing and transferring gasoline ration coupons against William Henderson, 49, of 2417 S. Oak Park av., Berwyn, were dismissed yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker for lack of evidence. The charges were brought by the office of price administration.

BOWLES SEEKING ADDITION TO OPA STAFF OF 55,342

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Chester Bowles, head of the office of price administration, today asked the senate banking committee to recommend the extension of price control legislation for another year. He defended the OPA's enlistment of volunteer "snoopers" and said he must add more paid workers to his staff of 55,342 paid members and 431,000 volunteers.

"While I am frank to say to you that the administration of the law has been faulty in many respects, we have carried out the mandate of congress to stabilize prices and rents," Bowles told the committee. "For the last 11 months the cost of living has been held without any net increase whatever."

The law under which the OPA operates expires June 30, 1944. Legislation has been introduced in the house and the senate to continue it for another year. Such an extension was recommended by Bernard M. Baruch, assistant to War Mobilization Director Byrnes, in his recent report on industrial reconversion.

Urges Subsidy Continuance.

Bowles told the committee that government food subsidy payments should be continued if the OPA is to continue to "hold the line" against inflation.

If price control is extended, Bowles said, the OPA would develop more effective methods to end black markets, especially in gasoline.

The administrator said that 5,309 "price panels," composed of volunteers who visit retail establishments to investigate price violations, have been organized thruout the country. He denied that the members were "snoopers."

During 1943, the OPA personnel investigated 650,000 complaints and discovered 281,000 violations, of which 8,900 resulted in court action, Bowles reported. He said the OPA was successful in 96.3 per cent of court cases.

Defends OPA "Brains."

Bowles said he welcomed the addition of businessmen to the OPA staff to serve in policy making positions, but said he resented the implication that "business has a monopoly on brains."

"It is unfair to say that one man has more mental assets than another just because he belongs to one group or another," Bowles asserted. "Some business men are poor executives and some so-called OPA theorists would make excellent businessmen."

A simplification of OPA regulations was promised by Bowles. He added that contacts between the OPA and agricultural interests would be improved, provided the agency is given another year of life by congress.

"But to do all this, we must have more personnel to catch up with the work load," Bowles told the committee. "I hope you will bear in mind that every week we make or receive 4½ million telephone calls and write 2½ million letters."

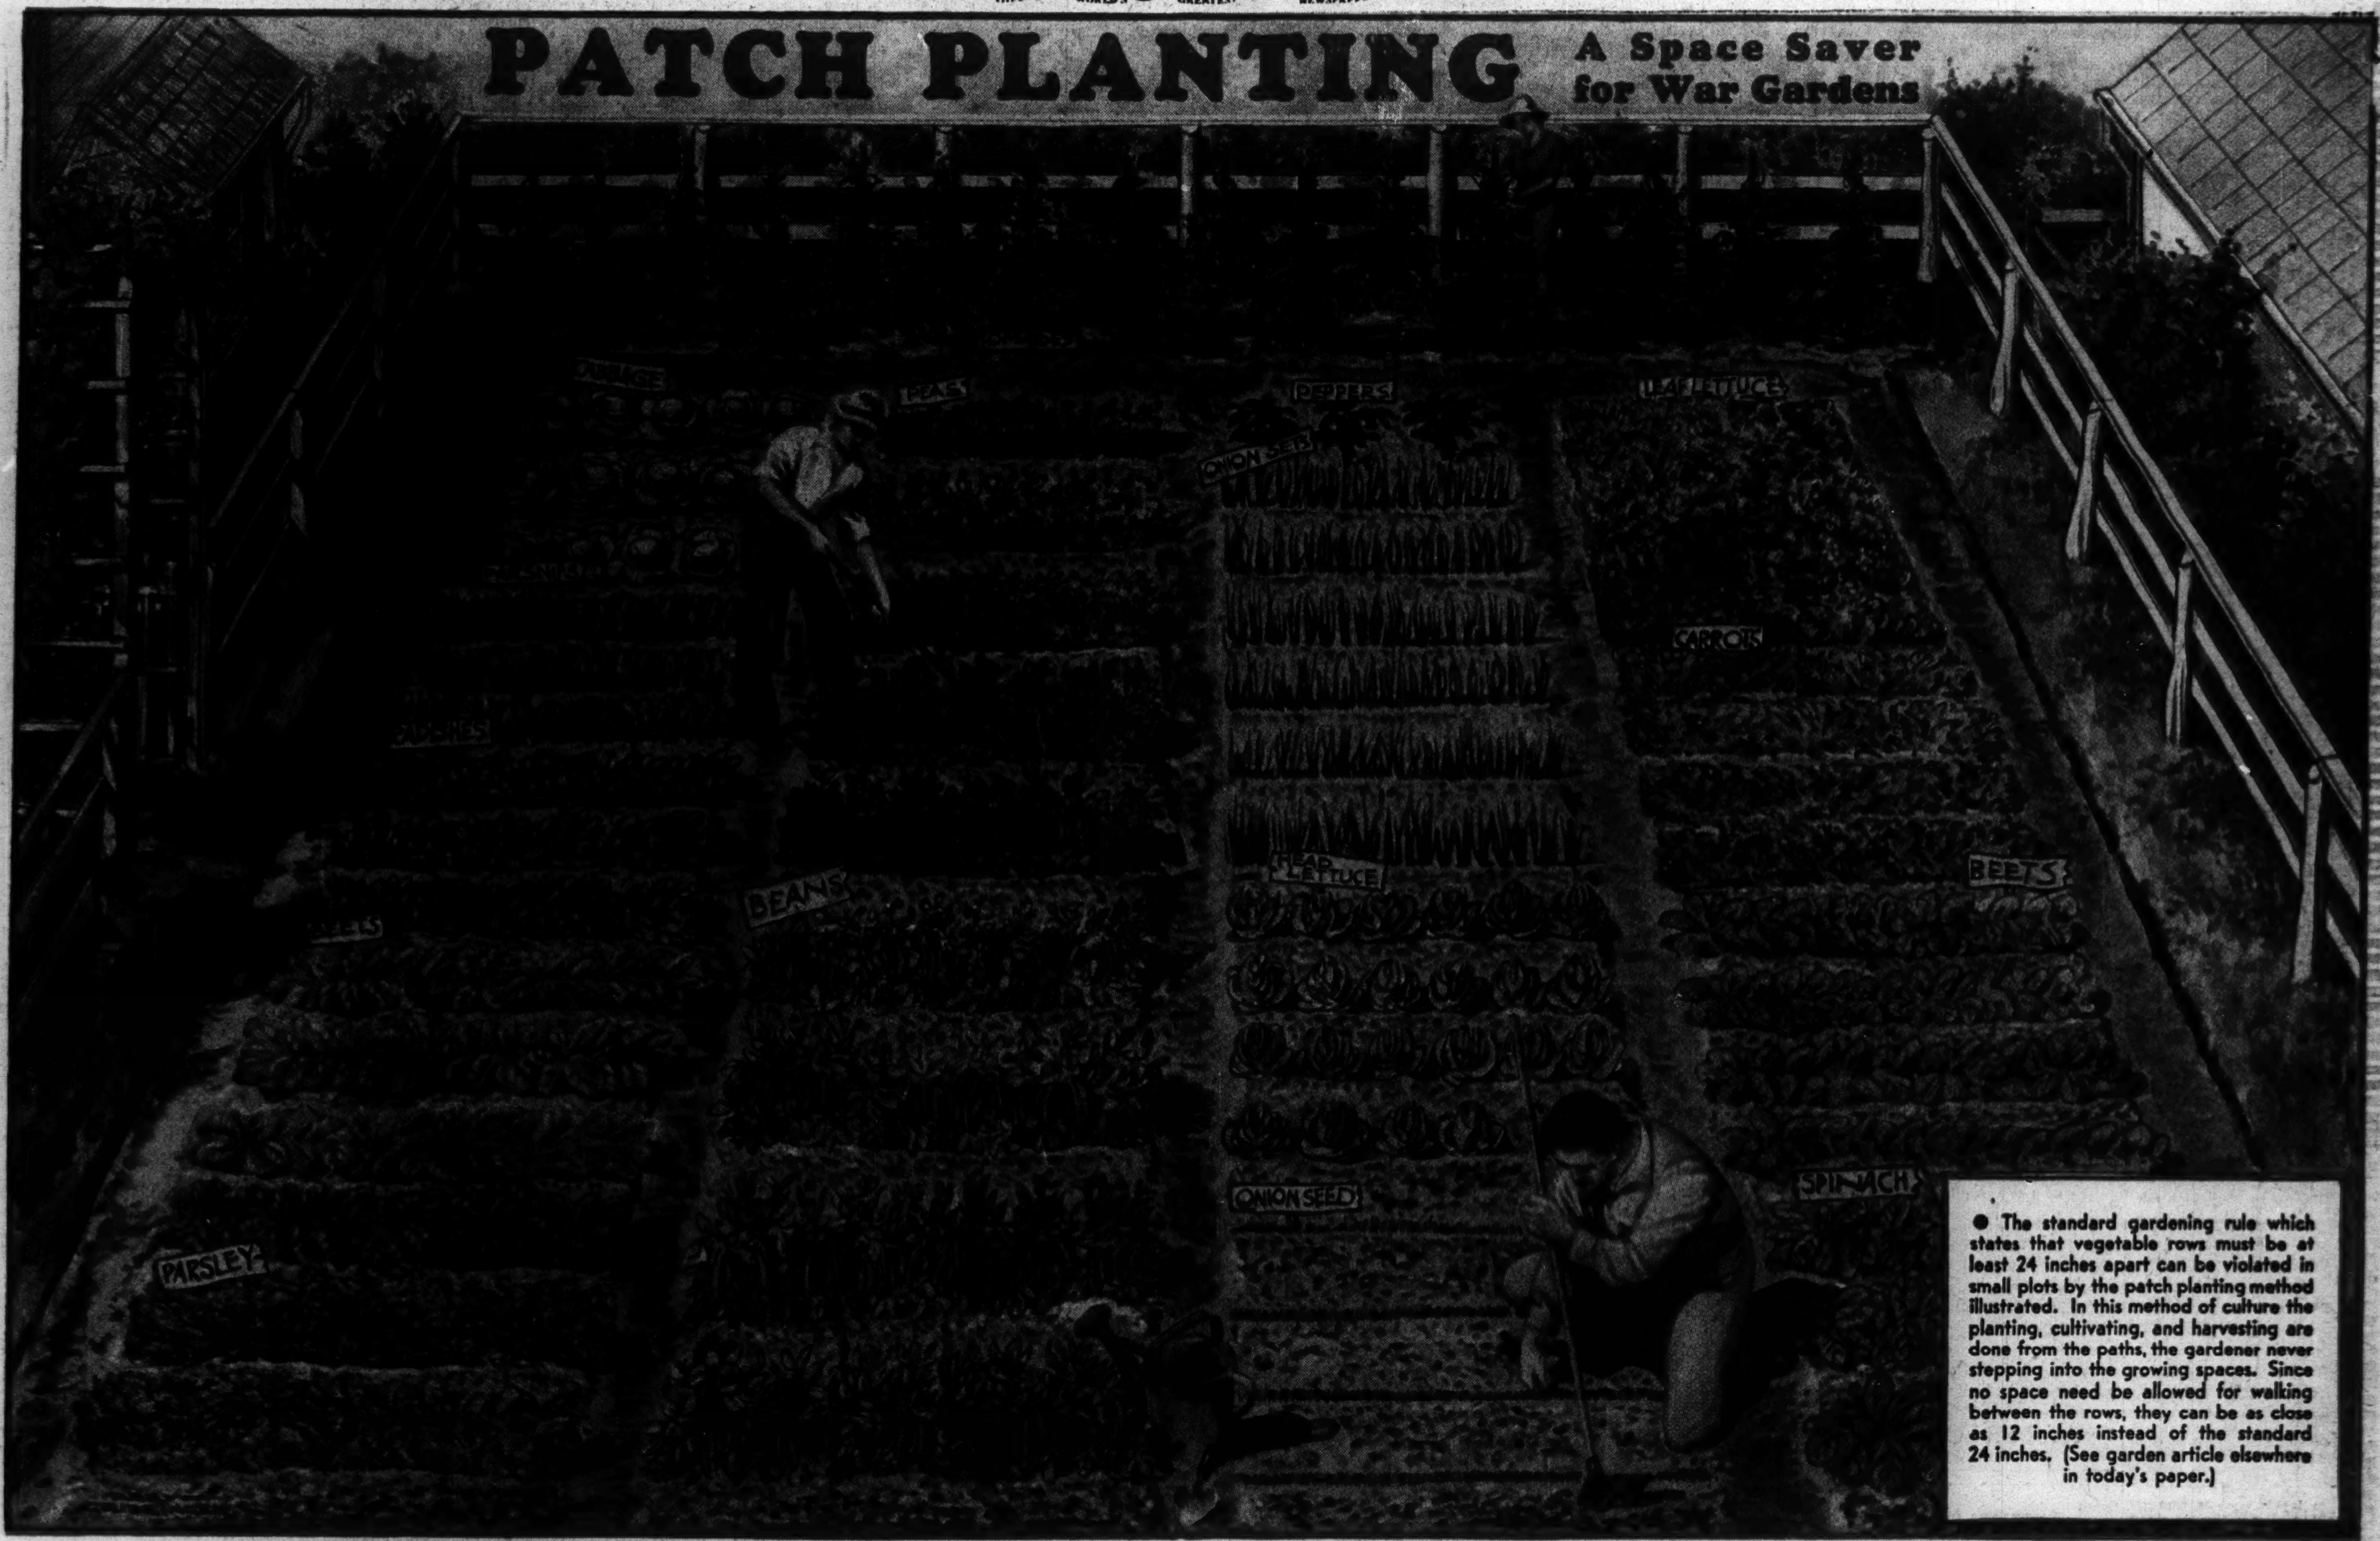
PATCH PLANTING
A Space Saver for War Gardens



● The standard gardening rule which states that vegetable rows must be at least 24 inches apart can be violated in small plots by the patch planting method illustrated. In this method of culture the planting, cultivating, and harvesting are done from the paths, the gardener never stepping into the growing spaces. Since no space need be allowed for walking between the rows, they can be as close as 12 inches instead of the standard 24 inches. (See garden article elsewhere in today's paper.)
